

PASTORS SPLIT OVER PAPER ABOUT CHRIST

Ministers Regard Remarks as Attack on Divinity.

ARGUMENT IS HEATED

Dr. Byron J. Clark Elected President of Ministerial Association for New Year.

Christ's divinity became the foremost topic among Portland orthodox clergy yesterday when discussion broke out among the members of the ministerial association following the reading of a paper, "Christ and Human Values," by Dr. W. H. Ineson, pastor of the Sunnyside Methodist church.

The meeting was the last of this year's sessions, and preceding the paper of the day, Dr. H. H. Griffin, pastor of the First Christian church, read his report as the retiring president. Officers elected were Dr. Byron J. Clark, First United Brethren church, president; Dr. W. B. Hinson, East Side Baptist church, vice-president; and Ralph McAfee, executive secretary of the Portland Church Federation, secretary.

Paper is Attacked.

Dr. Ineson did not directly attack the divinity of Christ in his paper, but several ministers interpreted it in that light. At the close of its reading, Dr. Griffin, as president, remarked: "This has been a very stimulating paper, and prepared to adjourn the meeting, Rev. H. L. Cox of the Friends church jumped to his feet and took issue.

"If this represents the thought of Portland ministers, pity be upon us," he said, launching what resulted in a general controversy. Several speakers supported him and several spoke in ardent defense of the paper read.

The paper as a whole constituted an plea for rational faith. "Christ manifested the fatherhood of God only to the extent that perfect sonship could reveal God's deity," said Dr. Ineson. "The known can never be fully revealed by the unknown. The more perfect the creature, the more perfect the perfect understanding. For instance the more perfect globe used with electricity the more perfect light which will be thrown into a dark street.

Mankind Held Personified.

"Christ was the complete manifestation of humanity. He personified mankind in its entirety. Nothing happened at his cradle which does not occur at the cradle of every child. The same is true of his grave. He rose from the dead because we also rise from the dead. As the New Testament quotation goes: 'He brought life and immortality to light.'

"Jesus Christ was the perfect son of God and as such became the perfect son of man. Mankind is heir to what Christ brought this world. Every man is the son of God, but Christ was perfect in his sonship while we are imperfect.

MAN ON BOND ON PANEL

ALLEGED SUGAR THEFT PENALTY AGAINST JUROR.

Percy Caffee Held Unqualified on Account of Entanglement With Law.

A taxpayer drawn on the June panel of the Multnomah county grand jury yesterday morning was dismissed from duty in the afternoon for the reason that he had been investigated by the previous grand jury, himself, and was still out on $500 bond on a charge filed in the district court charging him with concealing stolen property.

He was Percy C. Caffee of 5022 Forty-first avenue southeast, in whose sacks of sugar stolen from the Coffee Cup restaurant about three weeks ago. He was said to have admitted to Deputy Sheriff Christoffersen that 17 sacks had been stored there and that he had been left one sack for the use of the garage.

Caffee was drawn on the regular jury panel and his name was the first to be drawn for the grand jury. He was drawn from the box containing the names of all regular jurors impanelled.

At the representation of Deputy District Attorney Hamerly in the afternoon that Caffee was scarcely qualified to serve, due to his own entanglement with the law, President Circuit Judge McCourt dismissed him. It was rumored that Caffee had been indicted since the grand jury investigation of his case.

The vacancy in the grand jury will be filled this morning and the jurors sworn in. The other members selected were: John R. Tomlinson, foreman; Albert R. Munger, Chester Williams, John J. English, W. C. Aylesworth and John Ernest Metcalf.

POWDERED COAL INDUSTRY IS CONTEMPLATED HERE.

Company Ready to Go Ahead if Sufficient Business Can Be Assured Beforehand.

Construction of a $200,000 plant in Portland for the manufacture of powdered coal may start shortly, according to the plans outlined by representatives of the Pacific Coast Coal company before a meeting of property owners and manufacturers at the Portland Chamber of Commerce yesterday morning under the auspices of the Portland Building Owners and Managers' association.

The meeting was prompted by belief of the fact that this fuel may shortly become unavailable or at least very difficult to secure and that the price may be increased considerably. Building owners who were present called attention to recent statements by engineers and students of the subject that fuel oil may shortly be almost impossible to obtain, due largely to the fact that new processes being established for breaking up the crude oil to give the largest amount of valuable by-products is leaving little residue available.

L. Ferris, new resident manager of the Pacific Coast Coal company, announced that his company is ready to go ahead with the erection of a powdered coal plant, if sufficient business can be assured. A second meeting has been called for Friday morning at the Green room of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, when the matter will be considered further.

Prison Term Admitted.

All the crimes, it was testified, occurred last March. Gardner and Kelly were arrested March 12, 1920. Under cross-examination by Morris A. Goldstein and Dan Powers Gardner admitted serving 19 months in the penitentiary for larceny in 1918 and 1917, and for serving four months in the county jail for vagrancy. His criminal career began when he was 10 or 14 years old, he could not remember which, with a six months' sentence for larceny, he said.

BATES SAYS IT KEPT HIM ON THE PAYROLL

Was Able to Stay on Job All Winter for First Time in Many Years—Gives Tanlac Credit.

"Tanlac has not only built me up 25 pounds in weight, but it actually kept me on the payroll last winter," declared C. T. Bates, 826 Ochoco avenue, Portland, Oregon, an employee of the East Side Lumber company.

"I have suffered with stomach troubles and a general run-down condition for three years. My appetite left me and even the lightest kind of foods gave me indigestion and caused sour gas to form on my stomach. I had awful pains and cramps in my stomach and my heart palpitated so bad I could hardly get my breath. I had dreadful headaches and was so dizzy at times that I had to sit down quick to keep from falling. My kidneys bothered me, too, and I had such sharp pains in my back I could scarcely bend over. I was so nervous and restless I couldn't get a good night's sleep, and the least little unusual noise would wake me up with a start, and many a night I have just rolled and tossed in misery until morning. Nothing I tried helped me and I became so thin and weak that I had to give up my job each year when winter came on, for I didn't have the strength to stand the cold.

"I read about Tanlac in the papers and when I saw how it had helped other people with the trouble like mine I decided to try it myself, and I am mighty glad that I did, for I completely improved with the first few doses. My appetite returned and I can now eat anything my wife puts on the table, without having a sign of indigestion or trouble with my stomach afterwards. My kidneys are in fine shape and I am never troubled with the pains in my back. I sleep like a log every night and get up mornings feeling fine. I will always have a good word for Tanlac and I believe anybody troubled like I was will find it does the work."

HELLA TEMPLE LIVE ONE

DALLAS, TEX., SHRINERS COMING IN FORCE.

Special Train Carrying 190 Members and Their Families Will Reach City June 20.

DALLAS, Tex., June 7.—(Special)—Hella temple robes are headed for Portland again, but this time that city will be the destination of the Dallas Shrine party rather than a stopover point. Almost five years ago—July 11, to be exact—the Hella special train carrying 190 members of the Shrine and their families arrived in Portland.

Only one day was spent in that city then, but this time the Dallasites will have a chance to become much better acquainted, for the Hella special will reach Portland at 3 P. M. June 20. The nobles will remain through the imperial council session, returning by divers routes.

Every conceivable form of noise-producer has been obtained by Hella to let Portland know that it has a live temple to look out for. In addition to the huge Hella band and drum corps and the crack patrol, the visitors from the metropolis of Texas have a special saxophone sextet and a trombone octet, each of which will give serenades throughout the stay in Portland.

The Dallas party will make but five stops en route to Portland, although a week will be spent on the way.

Discount Rates Advance.

Discount and rediscount rates of the federal reserve bank were advanced here yesterday. The Portland branch announcing a new rate of 3 1/2 per cent instead of 3 1/4 per cent for interest on loans secured by federal treasury certificates and a new rate of 6 per cent instead of 5 1/2 per cent for member banks secured by liberty bonds.

British Merchants Coming.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 7.—A party of more than 20 British retail merchants were entertained here today. They are scheduled to leave tomorrow for Portland.

Opportunities for excess profits overshadowing chances' in the most healthy after-war industries may be found in a certain class of second-hand stores, if an ex-convict on the witness stand in the circuit court yesterday told the truth concerning the disposition of stolen property of an alleged north end "fence."

Two suits of tailor-made clothes, four overcoats and several pairs of shoes brought $40 to the thieves, and jewelry valued at $500 was sold for $25 to Alex Goldstein, proprietor of a second-hand store at 23 1/2 North Third street, according to the testimony of Harry Gardner, charged with receiving stolen property, before Circuit Judge Belt yesterday.

Gardner cheerfully confessed to three robberies in company with Eugene Kelly and to disposing of the loot with the difficulty of a father-in-law, William Jacobson, all of whom own second-hand stores and are accused by the police of encouraging thieves by affording easy disposition of stolen goods.

Harry Goldstein's store is at 225 Burnside street, Karl at 27 North Third street and Jacobson at 27 North Second street. The two Goldsteins are the only ones accused in the present trial, and thus far there has been no evidence to connect Harry Goldstein with the case.

Shortly before planning the robbery of the home of A. C. Peel, 101 East Sixteenth street, Gardner said he asked Alex Goldstein if he could dispose of stolen property in his shop. "He said he'd 'fence' for us, and any time we got in trouble he'd help us out," testified the witness. He went on to say that the haul of 12 suits, four overcoats and several pairs of shoes from the Peel residence was not very satisfactory to Goldstein.

Hillsboro Store Is Robbed.

"He said: 'You'd better bring me some new shoes and new suits. We can handle them better,' testified Gardner. So the next "job" was accomplished at the general merchandise store of J. H. Garrett of Hillsboro, where some clothing and 22 pairs of shoes were stolen, said the witness.

Garrett had testified concerning the theft and had identified shoes found in the Goldstein store as stolen property. Peel also had identified his suits of clothes and overcoats, which detectives testified were recovered from the second-hand store of Goldstein.

In the evidence produced by the prosecution conducted by Earl F. Bernard, deputy district attorney, was some jewelry which had been stolen from the store of Harley Morton, 102 Grand avenue, by Gardner and Kelly. Morton testified concerning the robbery, which occurred last March, and identified the jewelry, which police officers had found in the second-hand store, as stolen. He said that jewelry worth about $300 had been stolen and $500 worth recovered by the police. Gardner admitted the theft and said he and Kelly received $25 from Goldstein for the jewelry.

All the crimes, it was testified, occurred last March. Gardner and Kelly were arrested March 12, 1920. Under cross-examination by Morris A. Goldstein and Dan Powers Gardner admitted serving 19 months in the penitentiary for larceny in 1918 and 1917, and for serving four months in the county jail for vagrancy. His criminal career began when he was 10 or 14 years old, he could not remember which, with a six months' sentence for larceny, he said.

Gardner denied immunity had been promised him if he would testify against the second-hand dealer, but said that his confession kept from prosecution two women who had gone to Hillsboro with him and Kelly at the time the store there was robbed. He had lived in Hillsboro and knew the storekeeper, Garrett, personally, he said.

"Were you a friend of his?" he was asked.

"I don't know. He's always been a friend of mine up to the time I robbed him. I don't know if he is still a friend or not."

RECEPTION ISLAND PROVIDED AT UNION DEPOT.

Old Buildings Removed and Traffic Congestion During Shrine Week Is to Be Avoided.

Improvement of block Y, opposite union station, by the city was completed late yesterday.

The entire block, which is bounded by Irving, Johnson and Sixth streets and Broadway, has been cleared of buildings. A driveway has been constructed through the westerly half of the block extending from Johnson to Irving streets to provide an outlet for traffic from the station.

In addition an area has been paved which forms an extension of Johnson street. The terminal company and railways have arranged for the continuation of this pavement to the express buildings beyond the Broadway bridge, which will provide a route to the union station for all heavy vehicular traffic.

Under the city plan, one-way traffic will be instituted and the traffic congestion which has always troubled officials will be relieved.

An island between the new roadway in block Y and Sixth street has been prepared by the sprinkling of crushed rock and cinders. This island will be utilized during shrine week for the reception of patrols, bands and delegations of shriners who will arrive in Portland via the union station.

The cost of the improvement is estimated at $3500, of which the Shrine general committee has agreed to pay $2200.
