SAN FRANCISCO, June 10 .- (Spe cial.)-Carl Holling and the rest of the Cakland team get along like a couple of strange bulldogs, but Carl broke his losing streak yesterday at Oakland and beat Portland, 5 to 3, so elations may get a little more cordial. Carl was the sensation of the early season with seven straight wins. Then things broke against him and he lost seven in a row. Today he started another winning streak, but it prob-ably will not be a long one, for the dope is that Carl is to be sent to a big league club soon in exchange for some men who can help the Oaks this

Had Holling lost today his grouch ould have grown considerably, for it was Hack Miller's miss of a fly ball right in his hands in the firstinning that gave Portland two of its three runs. There were two out at the time and had Hack closed his capacious paws on that ball the side would have been retired with only one run. After that first inning Holling would not give the Beavers much of a chance. And for a wonder the Oaks fought an uphill fight, wiped out that three-run lead and went out in front themselves. Between innings Holling sat apart from his team No one on the Oakland club words of encouragement to Wisterzil scored him with a single. Maisel got a hit and Cox was safe on his bunt, when the ball was thrown too late to get Maisel. With two out Koehler lifted a fly to left. Hack Miller camped under it and then dropped the ball, two runs scoring.

Oaks Break Out in Seventh.

The Oaks picked up a run in the rst on Lane's two-bagger and Wilie's Juney tamed them until the seventh, when they broke through and took the lead. Pop Arlett began it with a single; Hamilton popped out,
