port emanating from Chlcago last night that a third party will be formed. That the ticket will be headed by Senator Robert M. La Follette is accepted as true, but there are differences of opinion as to the vice-presidential candidate.

Chlcago reports said that Frank P. Walsh, former head of the commission on industrial relations and coauthor of the so-called "L. W. W. Bible," is to be chosen for second place on the ticket, but this is doubted. While Mr. Walsh would make a strong appeal to radical labor and the Sein Feiners, it is pointed out that the La Folictte candidacy would reach

STRANGE MAN DESCRIBED

Mystery of Disappearance of Harry Dubinsky Yet Unsolved-Many Theories Propounded.

Evidence of a woman's presence in the death car and a description of the man who parked it at Eleventh the man who parked it at Eleventh and Burnside streets Sunday afternoon were the only new clews found by the police yesterday in their attempt to solve the mystery of the disappearance of Harry Dubinsky, whose for-hire car, soaked with blood, was found deserted Sunday afternoon. The outskirts of the city, particularly the St. Johns district, were scoured by the police automobile squad yesterday in search for the young man's body and harbor police have been instructed to watch for it have been instructed to watch for i

The only clew to which detective attach any value is the description of the men who parked the car at Elev-enth and Burnside streets. Accord-ing to F. H. Ireland, a salesman for the Manley Auto company, a man about 25 years of age, weighing about 150 pounds, and dressed in a gray checked suit and straw hat, drove the car to Eleventh and Burnside streets, stapped out, looked all around, glanced at the rear of the car, and walked rapidly away, going south on Eleventh street. A small piece of gray cloth, looking as if it might have been torn from a man's suit, was found by detectives in the bottom Dubinskyy's car, supporting Ireland's Red Rose Buds Found.

Belief that one or more women oc-cupied Dubinsky's car late Saturday night followed the discovery of a redrosebud, torn short from its stem and trampled underfoot, in the car near the right-hand front door. Another rosebud, of a pinkish white variety, was found in the bottom of the car in front of the left rear seat, and rose totals were seatlered on the sidewalk was wrong. Employes of the Manley Auto company were surprised that such a new car should have such a low license number. On looking more closely, they discovered that the front license tag was missing altogether. Then they reported the matter to po-lice headquarters.

Then they reported the matter to police headquarters.

The license tag hung on the rear of Dubinsky's auto showed in the register as one issued to W. W. Marcy, 932 South Ivanhoe street, who operates a woodsaw mounted on an auto truck. The tag had been stolen idle at his home in the St. Johns district for several days, while Marcy was confined to his bed with illness.

The car was taken to the police station and arrived there just as San Dubinsky, younger brother of the missing man, reached the station to notify the police of Harry's nonappearance at home. He had been away from home since 8 o'clock Saturday evening and the younger brother said that never before in the 11 years of the family's residence in Portland had Harry stayed out all

Missing Man Described.

Missing Man Described.

He is described by acquaintances as a "poor mixer," being quiet and reticent and too industrious for joviaiity. His brothers knew of no girls with whom he had associated with any regularity. He was drafted in the last call, but was rejected after his appearance at Camp Lewis because of his short stature. He had no regular stand for his for-hire car, but usually took his position at Sixth and Washington streets when there was a vacant space there.

Police detectives who are working on the case are unanimously of the opinion that Dubinsky was murdered by a passenger in his car.
