

OREGON DEMOCRATS MUST BACK McADOO

Delegation Leaves This Week for Convention.

MANY STILL ARE HOPEFUL

Belief Lingers That ex-Secretary After All May Be Induced to Accept Nomination.

Democrats are preparing to attend the national convention in San Francisco and the local delegation will have left by Saturday night. Notwithstanding W. G. McAdoo's announcement that he is not a candidate, the Oregon delegation will vote for him until they are satisfied that he really isn't and will not accept the nomination if he can get it. Under instructions, there is nothing for the Oregon delegation to do but to vote for McAdoo.

The belief is prevalent among the Oregon contingent that McAdoo will yield to the importunities of his supporters. If he should positively not be a candidate and refuse to permit his name to go before the convention, there is no telling where the ten votes from Oregon will go. Practically no one has been considered by the Oregon delegation aside from McAdoo. Palmer certainly is not strong with the delegation. A few would jump to Bryan if the Nebraskan should enter the field and McAdoo does not, and three or four would be content to vote for Wilson for a third term if the president could be "forced."

President Serious Factor.
Oregon's delegation is not unlike those from other states on the Wilson-third-term project. The president could easily break up the delegation from here or any other by submitting himself as a candidate for the nomination, and Wilson has never yet declared that he is not a candidate. There is no sentiment among the Oregonians for Edwards, the "wet" aspirant, whatever their political views may be on the prohibition question.

The ticket apparently most in favor by the delegates is McAdoo and Cox. If things work around right, however, it would not be surprising to see the name of Chamberlain. Chamberlain suggested for the vice-presidency. The delegation will give a complimentary vote for vice-president to W. Vaughn, who has his name on the Oregon primary ballot for this endorsement and received the vice-presidential vote for Henry Cabot Lodge, which the Oregon republican delegation was instructed to support. Senator Lodge, however, did not want his name put before the convention, however, in which he differs from Vaughn.

Former Chance Recalled.
There has long been nursed in democratic breasts the hope that Chamberlain will be placed on the presidential ticket. He was tentatively offered the opportunity at Baltimore eight years ago but declined, presumably figuring that even if he could get the nomination there was no chance of Wilson's being elected. Personally Senator Chamberlain does not want to be a vice-presidential candidate. He himself declined from Washington that he prefers being a candidate for the senate and that is what he is.

The first of the delegates to leave is John H. Stevenson of the third district, who will have his expenses paid because he is assisting in escorting a group of Mexicans out of the country. Dr. J. W. Morrow left for the scene of action at Friday. Dr. Morrow is national committee man, albeit Newton McCoy plans to contest his claim to that position, as he has already protested without avail. The name of McAdoo was placed on the Oregon primary ballot largely through the efforts of Mr. McCoy.

Mr. Schuylerman Socialist.
Another stir is promised at San Francisco by John I. Schuylerman, who ran as a delegate at large and was defeated. Mr. Schuylerman wanted the state democratic committee to designate him as delegate in place of the late Senator G. T. Baldwin but the committee declined when it was shown that Mr. Schuylerman's last registration in Multnomah county shows him listed as a socialist. Mr. Schuylerman contends that he is a better democrat or at least a better Wilson democrat than a lot of others but that is a matter which the state committee refused to discuss. Mr. Schuylerman will take his contest to the credentials committee in San Francisco. He advocates a third term for Wilson and says that Wilson will get it.

PAVED ROADS OPPOSED

North Ford Grange Favors Use of Macadam and Rock.

SALEM, Or., June 22.—(Special.)—North Fork Grange, No. 492, at a recent meeting held at Florence, went on record opposed to paving state roads and urging that the construction be confined to macadam and crushed rock, according to copies of resolutions received at the executive offices here Monday.

"We protest against the further expenditure of moneys for paving," said the resolutions, "and respectfully insist that macadam or crushed rock will be cheaper and will make a larger mileage of roads, that will be almost as good for automobiles and superior for teams, and that in justice to the farmers of the state and the consumers of farm produce, such as macadam roads ought to be built at this time.

We further ask that in making any changes in the personnel of the state highway commission you will appoint only such as are in favor of building crushed rock roads, and further that one member of such highway commission be a member of the grange."

BOARD MEMBER RECALLED

Eugene Electors Show Disapproval of School Director.

EUGENE, Or., June 22.—(Special.)—E. R. Bryson school director of Eugene was recalled by the annual school election yesterday and Dr. P. J. Bartle, was elected in his place by a vote of 1162 to 732. The entire ticket headed by Dr. Bartle was elected, the other new members of the board being Charles M. Emery and Hollis W. Libby.

The school fight began here over W. R. Rutherford, city superintendent. The patrons of the district who sympathized with the teachers in their fight against the superintendent petitioned the board for his removal, and a majority of the teachers signed an agreement not to teach under him. The board re-elected Mr. Rutherford for another year and as a result an almost entirely new corps of grade teachers was employed. Mr. Rutherford afterward resigned and has accepted a position as assistant director of education in the navy.

The vote at the election was the heaviest in the history of school elections in this city and the count was not completed until early this morning.

CLARKE LEAGUERS MEET

No Separate Ticket to Enter Field for Primary.

VANCOUVER, Wash., June 22.—(Special.)—At a joint convention of the Clarke County Triple alliance and Non-partisan league here Saturday, no endorsement of a county ticket was made, as had been expected. It was decided that no separate ticket would be put in the field. Those running in either of the party primaries who are favorable to the non-partisan cause will be endorsed by the organization and an attempt will be made to defeat the old line republicans.

No platform was presented for the consideration of the convention because the constitution of the league was held to be the platform. Six delegates, H. Moran, C. P. Bush, A. M. Blaker, J. J. Sexton, V. L. Chamberlain and Roy Sugg, an attorney, were selected to represent Clarke county at the state convention at Yakima. Six alternates were also chosen.

SHEEP MEN ORGANIZING

Decline of Wool Price Considered Critical for Industry.

MEDFORD, Or., June 22.—(Special.)—The decline in the price of the mutton market on the decline and labor and commodities at the highest peak, the sheepmen of Jackson county, realizing that their industry is in a critical condition, have formed a temporary organization of sheep and goat men with Fred Harrold of Ashland temporary president and C. C. Walker of Ashland as temporary secretary. They will meet again in this city next Saturday to form a permanent association to take some action toward the marketing of wool.

CRACKERS CAUSE OF FIRE

Children Playing With Explosives Set Tool House Ablaze.

HOOD RIVER, Or., June 22.—(Special.)—One fire already has been caused by explosion of firecrackers. A tool house near the city reservoir called out the fire department yesterday.

City Marshal Frazier says some of the youngsters are buying crackers and shooting them promiscuously. He threatens to arrest parents if the practice is not stopped. While a city ordinance prevents the firing of the crackers in the city, no ordinance governs their sale.

North Bend Subscribes Quota.

NORTH BEND, Or., June 22.—(Special.)—The campaign for funds for the state chamber of commerce, which was inaugurated here Friday afternoon under the direction of W. L. Miller and F. M. Kerrick, representatives of the state organization, and a committee from the local chamber of commerce, was closed at noon yesterday. The city's quota of $200 was over-subscribed.

MURDER DECREE UPHELD

WIFE SLAYER TO SERVE SEVEN AND HALF TO 15 YEARS.

Bullets Fired From Rifle Similar to Husband's, Evidence at Coroner's Inquest.

SALEM, Or., June 22.—(Special.)—Robert Zullig, who shot and killed his wife in Lake county on October 11, 1918, must serve an indeterminate term of from 7½ to 15 years in the state penitentiary, according to an opinion written by Justice Bennett, and handed down by the Oregon supreme court here today. The opinion affirms the decree of Judge L. C. Conn of the Lake county circuit court.

The evidence introduced at the trial of the case in the lower court showed that Zullig appeared at the home of a neighbor at about 9 o'clock on the night of the murder and reported that his wife was dead and that he thought it was an accident. At the coroner's inquest on the day following the killing it developed that Mrs. Zullig had been shot twice and that the bullets were fired from a rifle similar to one owned by Zullig.

He was later arrested and upon being tried in the Lake county circuit court on a charge of second degree murder was convicted of manslaughter. He refused to testify in his own behalf.

Other opinions handed down today follow:

Minda S. Shattery, appellant, versus C. G. Gross and James E. McCallum, cross appellants, and Nancy J. Shelley et al., appeal from Lane county, petitions for rehearing on behalf of appellant and cross-appellants denied by Justice Bennett and former opinion modified relative to distribution of any amount received from foreclosure if there shall be a foreclosure. H. M. McFarland versus John H. Huse, appellant, appeal from Jackson county, action to recover money, opinion affirmed.
