NIGHT HORSE SHOW BRILLIANT SUCCESS

Riding and Horses Exceed Hopes of Directors.

ALL CLASSES DO WELL

Pendleton Representatives Late bu Capture Audience by Wild West Exhibition.

From the standpoint of quality and number of entries the night horse show this week at the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club field is a bril-Amateur Athletic club field is a brilliant success. The riding and horses have exceeded the highest hopes of the directors as well as of the spectators, who give vent to frequent bursts of enthusiasm as the different classes perform in their best and snapplest style. Each night's programme is featured by something new and spectacular.

Yesterday's matinee was featured by the Grafton long jump, a ring event new to the equine fanciers of Portland. In this class the horses were ridden over a two-foot jump with pasteboard boxes on the far side. Contest Proves Spirited.

It was finally won after some spir-lied competition, in which more than 25 thoroughbred steeds were entered. by Flying Fox, with W. U. Sanderson up. Bounder, one of Revel L. English's mounts, with Miss Hilda McCormack up, came out with second honors, while Victoria, belonging to James McCleave and ridden by Miss Doris Oxiey McCleave, took third prize. Moderation, another of the McCleave, studie was fourth. The Center.

prize. Moderation, another of the McCleave stable, was fourth. The Grafton long jump was for the Imperial hotel stake of $100.

An unusual thrill was afforded in the Grafton jump when Claude D. Starr, astride Majestic, was thrown in attempting to negotiate the barrier. Outside of being slightly shaken up Mr. Starr was uninjured.

Marquisa. a thoroughbred pure Arabian steed owned by Miss Sara Jane Talbot of Portland, carried off two blue ribbons, winning the ponies class and the pony jump. In the first event, Marquisa was ridden by Miss ctass and the pony jump. In the first event, Marquisa was ridden by Miss Talbot and was piloted to a first place in the second by Jack McDougall. in the second by Jack McDougall.

Some real western riding was exhibited by cowboy riders in the stock saddle horse class, which was won by James H. Lemons' Sir Donald. This was for the North Portland Stockyards' stake of $200 with $100 additional to North Portland stockyard riders. It was planned to have 12 Pendleton cowboys ride, but as they were late in arriving the class was run off without them. The Pendleton riders later put in an appearance and riders later put in an appearance and captured the audience by staging a miniature wild west show. The musical chairs, put on by mem-

The musical chairs, put on by members of the artillery from the Oregon Agricultural college, made a decided hit and proved to be very amusing. Highland Laddie, owned and ridden by Miss Clementine Lewis, a youthful horsewoman of Portland, captured the pony high jump.

A drill participated in by 16 misses of the Junior Hunt club closed the programme.

Noble F. W. Wilson, prominent member of Kerek temple, Reno, Nev., arrived in Portland not only to at-tend the Shrine convention but also to assist at the night horse show as ringmaster, alternating with Captain C. Hartwell. Mr. Wilson not only has a judge of numerous horse but he also is professor of animai husbandry at the State Univer-sity of Nevada. He is also a well sity of Nevada. He is also a well-known authority on horseflesh and his timely arrival is adding interest to the horse show. He was ringmaster yesterday at the matinee, officiating in Kerek costume, which added a splash of color to the scene. He will act in a similar capacity this evening, assisting Judge C. W. Green. The musical chairs will be repeated tonight, as will also the special exhibition by Old Glory, champion stepper, and Premier, prize winner and jumper. Both horses are owned by J. D. Farrell of Scattle. Tonight's programme will start at 8:30. Yesterday's results follow:

Message Believed Hoax.

ABERDEEN, Wash., June 23 .- (Spe. cial.)—Statement that a ship was in distress and that the crew were leav-ing in lifeboats were contained in a bottle found on Pacific beat in a ing in lifeboats were contained in a bottle found on Pacific beach by Carl Hauge, an Aberdeen boy. The name of the ship was given as the "Swallowtail," claimed to be a Swedish tramp. The message was signed "Able Seaman." Marine men here know of no such ship, and believe the message is a hoax. The ship's location was given as off Point Greenville which is only a short distance ville, which is only a short distance from Pacific Beach.

Fourth to Die From Accident. ABERDEEN, Wash., June 23 .- (Special.) -Mrs. Hattie Olmstead, who died at the Aberdeen general hospital after lingering since Saturday when she was struck by a Northern Pacific train near Montesano, was the fourth of her immediate family to die from accidents. Her mother, Mrs Eaton, was killed in an automobile cation, was killed in an automobile collision here a year ago, a nephew was killed in an accident near Bellingham and six weeks ago a brother was killed in a lumber mill accident near Bellingham. It was to attend his funeral that Mrs. Olmstead came to Washington. Following the funeral she visited her father and sister and other relatives here, and was ter and other relatives here, and was on her way to her home at Prince-ton, Idaho, when the accident oc-

Teachers Marrying Rapidly.

MARSHFIELD, Or., June 23 .- (Spemarkshelello, or., June 25.—(Special.)—The possibility of school teachers marrying has been pretty well presented through the press in various parts of the state, but there is a district in Curry county that should have the banner, if there is any prize offered for ill luck in keepany prize offered for ill luck in keeping teachers on the job. Euchre Creek, according to report, has furnished in the past eight years, as many brides, and consequently a new
