Som PRANCISCO, June 24.—(Special.)—With the season for mudsilinging approaching its height here as the democratic convention is about to begin its labors, a new sensation has been sprung with charges that a big, strong and well organized "wet" lobby is keeping discussion centered on the wet-dry issues at the expense of all other questions. Along with this charge it is stated on authoritative grounds that Attorney Theodore Bell, for years a prominent local politican and at present counsel for the wet interests of this state, has declared he will join the Governor Cox camp. That the "wet" lobby is maken the wet question, declared: "The big issue before the convention and before the country is not the wet question. It is the economic and before the country is not the wet question. It is the economic and before the country is not let it die for a minute. There is anything it we have actually gained sixteen pounds in weight by taking it. Before taking the passed on this matter and I cannot let it die for a minute. There is every likely a lot of money being spent on let it die for a minute. There is in lobbying and propaganda.
