H. McDonald, chairman of the committee on celebration. This is to be a big feature of the day and already there are several entries, says Mr. McDonald. The committee announces that weight and color are no bar to the contest for the $25 first prize. Age is the only limit for the three-boy, or girl, or mixed, team must be under eight years.

Twins will be rated only slightly lower than triplets in the prize money for the best pair in the parade and festival will get an even $20.

This infant carnival is the product of the celebration committee's efforts to give persons of every age a part in the day and a place in the jubilation.

The committee announces that in the baby show large prizes will be offered for the best decorated perambulator in the parade for boys and girls under eight years of age, continued, and for the best-looking lady and lassie not over that age.

Another feature of the parade will be mounted cowboys and the committee has offered liberal prizes for the most picturesque. A hose-laying contest between firemen of different cities will be staged, a tractor race will be another feature and wrestling and boxing promise to be drawing crowds for the boxing.

"Pink" Manerude of Eugene and Neil Zimmerman of Portland will be the participants in the main event of the parade. They are featherweights. A heavyweight match and two lightweight matches will also be on the card. George Fidler, 130 pounds, of Eugene, and Edwin Fry, 175 pounds of Harrisburg, will tangle in the main event of the wrestling bout.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC LOSES

Net Revenue for 1919 Is Cut Down $6,159,045, Company Reports.

NEW YORK, June 24.—Operating revenues of the Southern Pacific company and proprietary companies for 1919, as disclosed in the annual report published today, amounted to $239,657,272, an increase of $18,046,066, or 8.14 per cent, over the preceding year.

An increase of $24,205,111, or 14.88 per cent, in operating expenses, however, caused a decrease of $5,158,845, or 10.46 per cent, in net revenues from railroad returns. In effect, after paying 1919 operating expenses there remained out of each dollar of revenue only 22 cents, compared with 38 cents remaining in the last year previous to federal control.

Chairman Kruttschnitt declared the federal railroad administration failed to maintain the company's property at its previous high standard and that a special investigation of "undue maintenance" during federal control is now being made.

SOVIET HOLDS IRKUTSK

250 RUBLES PAID FOR POUND OF BLACK BREAD.

Bolshevik Side of Selenga River Intrenched and Ready for Japanese Invasion.

IRKUTSK, Central Siberia, June 24.—(By the Associated Press.)—Soviet rule has been thoroughly established in Irkutsk. All institutions have been nationalized, most of the stores have been closed and a permit is necessary even to purchase a newspaper. Food conditions are most serious and the population eats black bread. Chinese merchants charge 250 rubles a pound for this bread.

All foreigners remain in Irkutsk. It is estimated that 10,000 Chinese left Irkutsk during May to walk to the Chinese frontier.

The Associated Press correspondent, in reaching Irkutsk, made a 2000-mile detour, which took six weeks, from Vladivostok through China and Mongolia and across the 700-mile stretch of the Gobi desert. He was the first American to enter soviet boundaries from the east since the collapse of the Kolchak regime. Crossing the Mongolian frontier, he entered the new buffer state of the Far East republic and found it necessary to obtain a permit to enter soviet territory. He was assured that an American press representative would be welcomed.

The trip led over the old caravan route, in order that the correspondent might know what he knew here as the "black spot of Siberia," a district near China, where remaining remnants of Japanese military forces, continue to block the Russian mail route.

The many and varied scandals connected with the McKenzie regime prepared the people of North Dakota for anything. There is nothing that is being said now of Townley, so far as his abuse of power is concerned, that they had not heard repeatedly of McKenzie, and so the followers of Townley merely pass up all criticism. They have heard it before.

Control Finally Broken. Of course his connection with the Nome scandal and his subsequent conviction led to a break in his control, especially since it came just as Theodore Roosevelt was rising to a position of power in national affairs, for the breaking of the republican party in North Dakota did not knot to McKenzie and that led to an open house, headed by the so-called progressives.

But the Progressives, while they broke the open hold of McKenzie, did not with the effect of the same, but furnished the means for the election of John Burke, the democrat.

Four Crops Are Failures. On top of this long familiarity with political domination, the ranchers of North Dakota, especially in the western part, where the league is strongest, have had several successive crop failures. They have been preached at for years by socialists, populists and independent promoters, who told the same tale, that they were being robbed by the Grain Exchange in Minneapolis and the Board of Trade in Duluth, to which points practical-ly all of North Dakota's vast wheat crop moves each fall.

NORTH DAKOTA HELD UNDER BOSS' THUMB

Townley Succeeds McKenzie as State's Dictator.

SITUATION NOT NEW

Population Made Up of Foreigners Always Held Under Power of Political Leader.

BY GEORGE K. AIKEN. GRAND FORKS, N. D., June 24.—(Special.)—North Dakota has always been a political orphan. Not in all its history has the commonwealth been without a political dictator. A realization of that fact is one of the first essentials in an attempt to understand the growth of the non-partisan league. This very fact accounts for the weird manner in which the ranchers, who otherwise would be condemning the rule of A. C. Townley, accept it. There is a growing number among Townley's followers who are willing to admit that the party is wrong in some of its methods.

For years North Dakota was for the political pawn of Alex McKenzie, the notorious receiver of the Nome dividend, who was convicted and served a short sentence for his part in the claim jumping scandals in that famous region. He is the McMamara of Rex Beach's "The Spoilers" in practical Tammany hall in its zenith of power never developed a boss more powerful than Alex McKenzie.

Control Finally Broken. Of course his connection with the Nome scandal and his subsequent conviction led to a break in his control, especially since it came just as Theodore Roosevelt was rising to a position of power in national affairs, for the breaking of the republican party in North Dakota did not knot to McKenzie and that led to an open house, headed by the so-called progressives.

SALMON CATCHES GOOD

Pack at Astoria Reported to Be Fully Up to Year Ago.

ASTORIA, Or., June 24.—(Special.)—Good catches of salmon have been made by the gillnetters during the present week in practically every section of the lower harbor. Several of the boats have averaged about 500 pounds a day each. About 11 setting grounds are in operation, but according to reports their takes have not been large, with the exception of those doing little more than paying expenses.

Only a few of the companies are packing cold-storage fish, the great bulk of the salmon going to the canneries, and the result is that a canned pack is fully up to that of a year ago.

When one realizes the attitude of opponents of each of these men and the estimate they place on each it is not hard to understand their conviction on this matter. It also indicates the degree of control and its character under which North Dakota is and has been held.

There is no element lacking then for the growth of the non-partisan league, which arrived on the scene in North Dakota in 1916, with its glowing picture of a political utopia; it found a foreign people, on bleak prairies suffering from four long, hard years of drought, who had been ruled for years by an absolute political boss of the old type, and preached at in season and out by populist orators; had tried the Equity movement and other panaceas with indifferent success and were ready to follow any leader who offered hope for better conditions.

The following installments will tell of Townley and his ear and with whom he associated himself.

ANY drink which is incompletely fermented before you take it is apt to completely its fermentation in your stomach—causing flatulence and biliousness.

Many beverages now on the market are only partially fermented, having been rushed out in less than forty-eight hours. They are neither good, nor good for you. They are likely to interfere with everything they meet in your stomach.

Schlitz is thoroughly aged—fully ripened. It will not cause biliousness.

Schlitz is pure. It is aged in glass-lined tanks, cooled in washed air, filtered through white wood pulp. Schlitz is healthful. It comes to you under the familiar label your father knew with the alcoholic content reduced to the limit prescribed by the Federal Government
