EX-TITLE HOLDERS ENTER TOURNAMENT

Three Former Champions to Represent Portland.

CHANDLER EGAN ARRIVES

Waverley Club to Unveil Flag on Independence Day on Pole Recently Erected.

With the arrival in Portland yesterday of Chandler Egan, former national champion, it is assured that at least three Portland golfers, former champions of the Pacific northwest, will be entered in the big sectional golf championship at Vancouver, B. C., July 5-10.

The three ex-titlholders are: H. Chandler Egan, Waverley Country club; R. Russel Smith, Waverley Country club; and Rudolph Wilhelm, Portland Golf club.

Roderick Macleay of Waverley won the northwest championship back in 1919, but it is not thought he will be entered this season.

Chandler Egan has been ranching near Medford for several years and has not found much time to compete in golf tournaments. His last appearance in northwest golf occurred in 1915, which he defeated Paul Ford of Seattle in the finals at Tacoma. C. H. Davis Jr., captain of the Waverley team, enticed the former national champion out of his retirement this summer and his arrival in Portland yesterday was the result.

In the forenoon yesterday he played a round with Ellis J. Bragg, and in the afternoon with Dr. O. F. Willing, J. R. Straight and Ellis Bragg. Mr. Egan is house guest of Wirt Minor, vice-president of the Waverley club.

Mr. Egan has long been a member of Waverley and will represent the club in both the amateur and the open and also will play on the four-man team in the Davis cup competition. The donor of this cup, C. H. Davis Jr., is captain of the Waverley team and he announced yesterday that he would not name the Waverley quartet until the day before the tournament. Chandler Egan, Russel Smith and Forest Watson are almost sure to be named, with the fourth choice lying between J. R. Straight, A. S. Kerry, Guy M. Standifer and Ellis Bragg. J. R. Straight has been contemplating an automobile trip to California on his honeymoon but may change his mind owing to the condition of the automobile roads.

Previous winners in the Davis cup are: 1916—Waverley Country club, at Spokane; 1917—Portland Golf club, at Waverley; 1918—Seattle Golf club, at Seattle; 1919—Jefferson Golf club, at Spokane.

New officers for the Pacific Northwest Golf association will be chosen at Vancouver next month. The president officers are: President, Clyde M. Graves, Spokane; vice-president, C. S. Balle, Vancouver; B. C.; secretary, treasurer, John H. Dreher, Jefferson Park Golf club, Seattle.

Hon. C. N. McArthur will be the speaker at an Independence day programme at the Waverley Country club. It is planned to unveil the flag pole in the new pole erected north of the clubhouse. The new stick towers 135 feet above the ninth green and is said to be the tallest pole at any golf course in the west. The dedicatory exercises will take place July 3, at 1 o'clock.

In raising the old pole and erecting the new one the committee in charge faced many problems and vicissitudes. Various methods of felling the obnoxious pole were discussed by the committee. Ned Ayer finally volunteered to attend to that feature of the programme. And his method proved quite novel. Backing his Oldsmobile against the foot of the pole Mr. Ayer "stepped on it" and the big pole slowly tottered over and came to earth without even so much as marring the greenward. L. H. Hoffman had charge of erecting the new pole.

Crane Gart, one of the best known Los Angeles amateurs, has begun a tour of the golf courses of the world.

Babe Ritchie, an 18-year-old lad, won the second tourney staged by the Chronicle over the San Francisco public links. Ritchie defeated Milton Curry in the finals on the 37th hole.

FISH EXHIBIT OPENS SOON

University of Washington Interested in New State Aquarium.

SEATTLE, June 28.—Officials of the University of Washington and members of the Washington state fish and game commission are busily engaged in preparations for the opening of the new state fish exhibit in the most complete fish exhibits in the United States in the new state fish building.

ALL exhibits will be marked and classified and the display will be much more extensive than that hitherto maintained in this city.

While the new York aquarium contains some live fish, the Washington state exhibit will show a greater number of preserved fish exhibits, making it the most complete display of the country in this respect.

Governor Louis F. Hart and other state officials will attend the opening, it has been announced.

The amateur status of Aileen Allen, southern California's diving champion, has been a matter of some discussion.

The latest protest was filed by Frank E. Watkins, chairman of the Malmgren club swimming committee, with T. M. Dunne, of the Pacific Northwest association and chairman of the Olympic games committee. Mr. Dunne filed the protest with Frederick Rubien, secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union, in New York.

These two American players won their matches handily, while R. Norris Williams II was put out of the playing by a very lucky individual.

Williams played a remarkably fast game and won the second set; then Tilden called upon some of his reserve strength and won with something to spare. The score was 7-5, 4-6, 6-4, 7-5.

Tilden won today from Randolph Lycett of Australia in the best contest of the day, although he did not have to extend himself to the extent that was necessary when he defeated Kingscote on Saturday.

Lycett played a remarkably fast game and won the second set; then Tilden called upon some of his reserve strength and won with something to spare. The score was 7-5, 4-6, 6-4, 7-5.

Garland, whose work throughout had been steady, with flashes of brilliancy, defeated the young South African, Mattie Kruger, in the final.

The Japanese sport, Genzo Shimidzu, won his way into the semi-finals with an easy victory over the English player, Fred Perry.

Tilden will meet Garland in the semi-finals tomorrow and Shimidzu will have Maygorodato as his opponent.

On past performances Tilden and Shimidzu are the favorites in the finals, and popular opinion is picking Tilden as the challenger of Gerald L. Patterson, who is facing Perry in the championship and who is playing a remarkably good game.

In all probability the Portland entries will have no trouble making the final Olympic team.

Both Duke Kahanamoku and Ludy Langer, world's champs and members of the Hawaiian aggregation, headed by Dad Center, have joined the comeback. Neither of the boys did any competing last year and were dubbed "has-beens." Kahanamoku represented America in water sports at the last Olympiad in 1912 at Stockholm, and is 33 years old. Langer, who has held the world records for some four years, is a civil engineer and nearing the 30 mark. Both swimmers will place on the Olympic team.

Tennis teams representing the University of California, Stanford University, Vassar, New York, Princeton, Swarthmore, Boston Tech, New York University, Yale, Harvard, Pennsylvania, Lehigh, Cornell, Lafayette and University of California are competing for the title.

Announcements have been issued by the Agawan Hunt club for the Rhode Island championship in singles and the New England association in doubles. The event will be played on the club's turf courts, beginning July 12. Entries close on July 8, and should be addressed to A. B. Barrows, Turf Head building, Providence, R. I.

The Connecticut championship for women begins today on the courts of the New-Canaan Country club, singles, double and mixed doubles.

In reply to a letter recently sent by Julian H. Hunt, president of the United States Lawn Tennis association, the secretary of the British Lawn Tennis association has written as follows: "I am glad to hear of your interest in the most interesting reciprocal the most kind and welcome news that I have received and I feel certain that the entire lawn tennis community will be glad to see you and your players from here, the stronger will be the good feeling between the two countries because of the interest you have shown in our game and the fact that you are secretary of the lawn tennis association, I am sure the council will most appreciate reading it."

Robber Suspect Is Shot.

TONOPAH, Nev., June 28.—A man suspected of having held up the Desert club at 3 o'clock this morning was shot and wounded 20 miles from here by L. S. Jackson, an express messenger, who had been told to watch for him. Jackson was on the locomotive car and believed the man was preparing to hold up the train.

The suspect was quickly captured and gave the name of George Strickland. Before being shot by Jackson he engaged Anderson in a struggle with Chief of Police Jack Grant, who overtook him at Miller's, 15 miles west of here. The suspect escaped from Grant and was believed to have followed the railroad tracks in the direction of Mina.

Strickland was brought back to Tonopah and identified by some of the patrons of the Desert club as the man who had been shot. He was obtained $500, according to Chief of Police Grant.

Pigeons Start for Tillamook.

LEWISTON, Idaho, June 28.—(Special.)—Twenty-five Saratoga carrier pigeons were released at the depot office of the American Express company for flight to Tillamook, Ore. The distance from Lewiston to Tillamook is approximately 500 miles, and the birds are expected to make the about 10 to 12 hours. The flock was sent here by the Tillamook Homing club to test the homing qualities of the birds.

An inventor claims to have devised a practical system for stopping moving trains by wireless.
