

McADOO PICKS ROLE OF BURBON SPHINX

Convention and Nomination Barred in Interview.

GOSSIP IS NOT HEADED

Former Secretary of Treasury Will Read Newspapers to Learn of Outcome of Convention.

HUNTINGTON, N. Y., June 28.—William G. McAdoo informed a newspaperman with whom he consented to talk at his country home here tonight that he does not want to be "bothered" about politics.

He refused absolutely to discuss the democratic national convention or the grounds but he was induced to communicate with Mr. McAdoo, who appeared shortly after.

"Now what is on your mind?" Mr. McAdoo asked.

The caller explained he desired to discuss the democratic convention and the question of whether Mr. McAdoo would accept the nomination, whereupon McAdoo stated he would have nothing to say on these subjects for publication.

The former secretary of the treasury said he had no means of communication with the convention and that he preferred to "learn of its activities through the newspapers, like any other interested citizen."

He declined the reporter's offer to keep him informed of convention developments, declaring he preferred not to have the privacy of his home invaded.

"Should a very important development take place at San Francisco, may I communicate with you?" the interviewer asked.

"No, thank you. I would not answer the phone."

The reporter then volunteered to bring the message, and Mr. McAdoo declined the offer.

CARPENTERS HIT I. W. W. RADICALS DRAW FIRE FROM WASHINGTON CONVENTION.

Legislature to Be Asked for Department of Conciliation to Settle Disputes of Labor.

SPOKANE, Wash., June 28.—(Special.)—At the final session and election of officers of the Washington State Council of Carpenters Saturday, retiring President Charles Evans of Seattle filed the I. W. W.

The most important recommendation, perhaps, is that the next legislature will be asked to call a convention in 1921 to revise the state constitution to provide for a "more economical, responsible and popular state government."

Another demand is that the legislature shall create a state industrial department by consolidating the state labor commission, the state industrial insurance commission, the state first aid board, the state safety board and the industrial and welfare commission, all of which bodies now deal with matters in which labor is directly interested.

The new department, it is proposed, shall create a department of conciliation and mediation for the settlement of labor disputes, recognizing labor unions and employers' organizations as the representatives of the two elements in all industrial strife and providing that boards composed of equal numbers of organized workers and organized employers shall be appointed to attempt to adjust industrial disputes. Home rule for all cities and the abolition of the present state public service commission is another demand to be made on the legislature.

UNDESIRABLE ON WAY Annoyer of Little Girls Declared Bound for Portland.

SALEM, Or., June 28.—(Special.)—Milton Schwartz, who was recently released by the New York courts on the promise that he would be taken to Oregon, left the eastern city for Portland on June 17, according to a telegram received at the executive offices here today from Charles Johnson Post, Mr. Post is a New York newspaperman and his daughter was one of the children attacked by the degenerate prior to his arrest.

The telegram from Mr. Post said Schwartz was accompanied west by his mother, Mrs. Addie Schwartz, and his uncle, Max G. Cohen, and that they intended to locate on a ranch near Portland. The governor also was advised by Mr. Post that the people of New York have no sympathy for the judge who released Schwartz, for the reason that Schwartz is considered a dangerous character and should have been committed to an asylum.

MAN PLUNGES TO DEATH Wealthy Cattleman Battles With Wife and Nurse to Reach Window.

ALAMEDA, Cal., June 28.—After a struggle in which he overpowered and hurled away his wife and his nurse, W. A. Shaw, wealthy Hawaiian cattleman, leaped from the second-story window of his residence today and was killed, the fall breaking almost every bone in his body.

According to the physician who has been attending him for a nervous breakdown, illness and a recent slump in the price of hides, of which he had many thousands of dollars' worth in Honolulu ready for market, caused the nervous breakdown, which is blamed for his suicide. His wife fought with him for several minutes to prevent his reaching the window through which he leaped. He was 55 years old and had no children.

JAPANESE CHILD BUILDS BOAT THAT RUNS BY STEAM.

During War Jimmie Ohy Did Without Luncheon for Month to Help Swell Red Cross Fund.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 28.—(Special.)—A steamboat that runs, is the most recent accomplishment of Jimmie Ohy, 10-year-old Japanese boy, who lives with his parents over the White House grocery on East Lake avenue.

Jimmie became famous in Seattle during the war. His mother told him about the American Red Cross and what it was doing for wounded soldiers at the battle front.

One month later the teacher was presented with a well-filled tin box from Jimmie. The box was crammed with nickels and pennies.

The teacher made inquiries and discovered that for a whole month Jimmie's stomach stayed empty around the noon hour in order that he might contribute his mite for the Red Cross. Jimmie didn't even tell his parents of his plan to raise money.

He "enjoyed" his hunger secretly. In his 8-year-old mind he considered lunchless days a duty and he performed it well.

Now comes the second big event in Jimmie's life, his invention of a steamship. While it is true that his father, Senshi Ohy, helped him, the actual planning and work was done by Jimmie.

SHRINER TELLS OF TRIP

Portland Hospitable, But Bandits Encountered on Road.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 28.—(Special.)—Dr. H. J. Coventry, of 2523 Fairview avenue, is home from the Shriner's convention and loud in his praise of Portland.

Some one appropriated a silk flag from a flagpole staff in front of his home while he was away. He wouldn't mind so much if he were sure a patriot had yielded to the impulse to acquire the beautiful banner, but he's afraid maybe some bolshevist got it.

And he tells of profiteering that would make a shoe dealer blush. Few farmers on the road to Portland maintain water holes in front of their places and charge $10 for hauling an automobile through the mire, he says. They see that the water hole doesn't dry up.

Another ruse was to keep the gates closed along detour roads, a 50 cent charge being levied for opening them. After encountering wretched detour roads and profiteers on the way down, the doctor stuck to the main line coming back and found the roads good and not infested by bandits, he reports.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 28.—(Special.)—Did William S. Payne, alleged love pirate, arrested today by police and held for postal authorities, marry any of the women to whom he is alleged to have represented himself, by use of the mails, as being an Alaskan with a $25,000 legacy contingent upon marriage? John S. Swenson, postoffice inspector, is making an investigation of the case.

Payne was arrested last February for using the mails to promote a false matrimonial scheme in which he used his wife as a decoy and was sentenced to 45 days in jail. As soon as he was released, authorities assert, he began the present scheme.

Mrs. Payne was advertised as a young woman looking for a husband in the scheme last winter, and was exposed by one of her correspondents, Adam Staley, a farmer of Jackson, Mich.

GLACKAMAS IN ROAD ROW

MACADAM TO BE USED ON CLARKES HIGHWAY.

One Man in District Refuses to Sign Petition for Hard-Surfacing Materials.

OREGON CITY, Or., June 28.—(Special.)—The ghost of a hard-surfaced road came into being here today at the monthly meeting of the Clackamas County Development league, when it was announced that the road improvement for the bonded highway in the Clarkes district would consist of macadam, as the stiff grades on the road made paving impracticable.

Statements and counter-statements were hurled for nearly five hours. County Judge Anderson explained that that the macadam road had been authorized in response to a petition that only one man in the district had refused to sign.

The league went on record, by a vote of 56 to 17, in favor of carrying out the original programme outlined by the $1,700,000 bonds for permanent roads, and declared in favor of the principle that permanent roads mean pavement and not a substitute.

C. Schuebel's motion that the cost of surfacing over and above $11,000, per mile appropriated under the bond issue be borne by the districts affected was lost by a vote of 43 to 26, and a motion by C. E. Spence expressing the league's confidence in the county board carrying out the bonding programme to the best of their ability was sustained by a unanimous vote.

The meeting today was the result of a verbal upheaval at the last meeting of the league at Estacada, nearly two months ago, when the resignation of Roadmaster Rands was used as a vehicle for criticism of the court.
