

STATE AND SOCIETY FOR CEDARS GIRLS

Drive Starts Following Visit of Officials.

SUPPORT IS PROMISED

Governor Olcott and Secretary Koser Among Those Who Will Work for Institution.

A campaign for state aid for the Cedars, operated by the city of Portland for the treatment of girls and women afflicted with social diseases, was launched yesterday by members of the executive committee of the Oregon State Social Hygiene society.

The plan of giving the Cedars state aid came about at a meeting of the executive committee of the Hygiene society held at the institution yesterday.

It was after a thorough inspection of the institution and inquiry into the methods employed in its operation that the proposal to make a fight for state aid was made by A. F. Flegel, president of the Hygiene society.

Incidentally the discussion followed a dinner prepared by the girls of the institution, a dinner composed of hot stuffs produced on the place, including fried chicken, new potatoes, fresh beans, new peas, home-made butter, strawberries and cream.

Support is Voted. Conditions at the Cedars brought expressions of surprise to the members who attended the dinner yesterday.

"Prepare a budget for the benefit of the state legislature," suggested Secretary of State Koser, "and present it prior to the next session. This institution should not be supported solely by the city of Portland. It is serving the entire commonwealth and should receive aid from the state."

Following the dinner and meeting, the girls gathered in the main dining room, and following short talks by several of the delegation, joined in a Cedars yell, which was given in the same enthusiastic manner as one might expect from a group of college students.

SUGAR PRICES DROPPING

WHOLESALE QUOTATIONS FALL 50 CENTS IN DAY.

Europe, Where Shortage Supposed to Exist, Shipping to United States for High Prices.

The sugar market is now definitely on the down grade, in the opinion of wholesalers. There was a 50-cent decline in the price yesterday, making a total drop of $1.25 in the past ten days.

With the United States the highest sugar market in the world, supplies are coming in from all quarters. Even Europe, where a shortage is supposed to exist, is shipping to this country sugar that it bought earlier in the season in Cuba in order to take advantage of the high prices.

The jobbers do not believe there will be any abrupt fall in the market but think rather that prices will decline gradually until sugar quotations again become normal.

BUG HALTS SUGAR CROP Wharf Piles Eaten Away and Few Cargoes Can Be Handled.

HONOLULU, T. H., July 2.—(Special.)—Shipment of sugar to the coast from Hawaii is being limited to 50,000 tons a month owing to a little bug known as the toredo, which eats wharf piles.

The California-Hawaiian refinery at Crockett has had to store much refined sugar awaiting a chance to ship it. The warehouse facilities of Crockett have become exhausted because the wharfs of most of the warehouses connected with the refinery have been eaten away by the toredo, some even floating out to sea, necessitating the sending of tugs to bring them back.

SUGAR PRICE DECLINES Second Drop in Three Days Reported by Refining Company.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—The second decline in three days in the refiners price of sugar was announced by refining companies today, a new tariff of $2.25 a hundredweight succeeding the former price of $2.75. New York quotations control the price here.

SALESMAN PUT IN JAIL Effort of E. H. King to Borrow Revolver Leads to Arrest.

E. H. King, automobile salesman, who was arrested by Patrolmen Parker and White after he is said to have attempted to secure a revolver for the purpose of committing a robbery, will have a chance to think over in jail the fate which befalls desperadoes. Judge Roseman put the man's case over until July 8 so he would have a chance to think the matter over.

"I think you have been attending too many movies and seeing Bill Hart in action," declared Judge Roseman. "You say you are 34, but you talk like you are only about 15. King was charged with vagrancy. Three denials of the north end told the judge that King had approached them and asked them to secure him a 'rod,' the underworld term for a gun.

CITY CONSIDERED LEADER

EYES OF REAL ESTATE MEN FIXED ON PORTLAND.

Secretary of National Association Comes for Conference With President Ingersoll.

"Eyes of real estate men of America are upon Portland, and the city will be looked upon as leader in any constructive program which may be outlined for the coming year by the national association of real estate boards."

This was the statement made yesterday by Tom S. Ingersoll, for the past nine years secretary of the national association of real estate boards, who is in the city to confer with Fred E. Taylor, newly elected president of the association.

Ingersoll, who is the city's most prominent real estate man, said the organization is in Portland, and from now on to set the pace, and from now on to set the pace, and from now on to set the pace.

CITY HEALTH CENTERS ADVOCATED

Oregon Association Urged to Seek Nurses' Aid.

CONFERENCE IS ENDED

Single Room, Centrally Located in Portland, is All That is Needed, Doctor Tells Gathering.

The establishment of community health centers in connection with the work of the public health nurses was advocated by Dr. E. A. Peterson, nationally known authority on public health and at present national director of public health, American Red Cross, in the closing session of the Oregon Public Health association conference at the library yesterday afternoon.

Other speakers in the last session were Dr. C. S. Chase of the University of Iowa, Miss Grace Harrington, director of the National Health division of the Red Cross at Seattle, and Mrs. Frank Cram, visiting nurse from Hood River.

"The community health center," said Dr. Peterson, "is the only practical way of bringing the health situation in the community life. At present most of the literature pertaining to matters of public health, such as child welfare, problems in dieting and so forth, is relegated to the waste basket. No connection is made with the local representatives of the health bureau or the Red Cross."

But with the establishment of a health center under the supervision of a competent nurse, a bureau of information can be maintained where questions of all kinds can be answered and advice given. A rack for information booklets can be in the same room where information seekers can be referred for expert consideration of special problems."

The health center need not be an elaborate proposition, said Dr. Peterson. A single room, centrally located would do the work.

Miss Grace Harrington told her work in the mining camps and outlying districts of public health work, which he defined as "the medium through which the people of Oregon serve themselves."

CHILD'S RETURN ORDERED

ARREST WILL FOLLOW IF FATHER DISOBEYS COURT.

Judge Holds Insurance Man Has No Right to Kidnap Daughter From Mother.

The attempt of Ernest S. Nelson, manager of the insurance department of Hartman & Thompson, bankers, to secure a favored divorce action filed this week by Mrs. Jennie Mann Nelson, his 12-year-old daughter, was frowned upon by Presiding Circuit Judge Morrow yesterday, when the father was given five hours to return the girl to her mother, with alternative of arrest.

Directly upon hearing that his wife intended to begin divorce proceedings, Nelson drove his automobile last Tuesday to the yard wherein his daughter was playing, persuaded her to enter and drove away with her, since keeping her out of reach of the mother at 415 Tillamook street, charges Mrs. Nelson.

Judge Morrow said that he was going to issue an application to relieve the mother of custody of the girl, if shown she was not a fit guardian, but that he would not permit the taking of the law into the hands of the father. He warned Nelson that an attempt to leave the child with the father would result in the filing of a kidnaping complaint.

Though the girl might be awarded the custody of the child in a divorce hearing, said the jurist, until that time he held the mother was the proper guardian to be entrusted with the child's care.

Business for Week Ended June 26 Shows 15 Per Cent Gain.

The West Coast Lumbermen's association finds an improved condition in the market in the fact that business booked in the week ended June 26 was 15 per cent over the previous week.
