

ALL-DAY EFFORT TO AGREE FAILS

Deadlock Is as Firm as On Last Ballot.

DARK HORSE QUEST EAGER

Exasperated, Tired, Muddled Democrats Hark for Word From White House.

FIREWORKS ARE DUE TODAY

Cox and McAdoo Forces Preparing to Battle Each Other to Last Ditch.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 4.—The day of rest brought to the democratic national convention no release from its 22-ballot deadlock and no promise of relief tomorrow.

Fruitless search for a dark horse who could win left the tired, muddled and even exasperated forces with nothing more tangible than the likelihood of a straight-out fight between Cox and McAdoo and growing hopes that a Moses would spring up from somewhere to lead them out of their wilderness.

All ears were cocked toward the White House for the magic word. For the first time in 24 years a democratic convention was working without the guiding hand of Bryan and for the first time in seven years without the word of Wilson.

Guessing Is Spurred. There was spirited guessing, deduction and attempted conclusion at what President Wilson might wish, hope, or acquiesce in, but apparently nothing more.

"The president has not communicated with me regarding candidates," said Mr. Glass. "A report that, in recent conversations, he had indicated men whom he opposed is not true. As the situation looks to me tonight each crowd thinks its candidate can win and until someone is convinced otherwise the deadlock will continue."

The Cox people outwardly expect to win tomorrow. The McAdoo people having checked their downward slide, girded up for a new drive to break the Cox column tomorrow. The Palmer people declaring that neither Cox nor McAdoo can have their votes, expressed hope for themselves but only indifferently.

All Have Strangle Holds. Each of the three appears to have a strangle hold on the other two. McAdoo forces in the late Saturday night balloting recovered the one-third vote power they had lost. Cox forces kept theirs steadily from the time they acquired it in the fifth ballot, although their margin fluctuated. Palmer forces possessed it in fact, through state delegations which, although held in a block for McAdoo or Cox by the unit rule, contained discordant elements which, when released, would become effective in adding to the deadlock.

The growing impatience of the delegates, which repeated casting of solid blocks for candidates who showed no promise of becoming dark horses, is expected to show itself tomorrow. Late Saturday night there was evidence of temper against the adamant view of those who would not release their votes. The politics of their apparent stubbornness was that they lost continually by abandoning the unit rule. Their position was greeted Saturday night with shouts of "come out of it" and "hire a hall" and the like.

Cox Force Aims at McAdoo. McAdoo forces tonight were banking on the proposition that the Cox forces, if they hope to win must trot out every reserve vote they possess when the balloting resumes tomorrow at 10 o'clock if they hope for a slide their way. The Cox people, confident that they have McAdoo stopped, despite his last ballot rally, planned to continue their efforts to wear him out. The McAdoo people declaring that the whole week's effort had been to wear him out argued that it had been a failure.

BOY, 3, OUT ON PICNIC, IS KILLED BY AUTO

CHILD STRUCK WHILE CROSSING ROAD TO FATHER'S CAR.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Ruokonen Dies in Mother's Arms During Race to Hospital.

George Ruokonen, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Ruokonen, 1176 Albina avenue, was fatally injured on the Columbia River highway near the Vista house early last night when he was struck by a touring car driven by A. R. French, 410 1/2 Morrison street. The child died in his mother's arms on the way to Portland.

The accident happened as the Ruokonen party, which had stopped for a picnic by the roadside, was preparing to return to the city. The child, who was on the side of the road opposite his father's automobile, started to cross the highway. Just then two automobiles were passing. The child dodged one, but the other struck him and knocked him to the pavement.

The parents bundled the child into their machine and speeded to Portland, but he died before they arrived at the Emanuel hospital. Coroner Smith took charge of the body.

Deputy sheriffs took French to the county jail, where he made a report of the accident. No charge had been filed against him at a late hour. French was driving an automobile owned by Ed Tonkin, of the Altona apartments, Twenty-first and Overton streets.

BRITISH BEGIN DEBT DRIVE

People Urged to Buy Certificates to Pay U. S. Loan Interest.

LONDON, July 4.—(Special Cable.)—English newspapers are printing government advertisements urging the people to buy as many as possible of the new three-month certificates as possible in the next three months to help the government pay the American debt.

A penny invested in certificates during the next three months will be used to pay off our American debt; investors will have the satisfaction of knowing their money is being applied immediately to a purpose of the utmost national usefulness," the advertisement says.

It points out that such an investment will assist in rectifying the adverse American exchange, strengthen British credit, allow England to pay the debt now when Britain needs it, do not represent as much value as they will later, and will be transferring the debt from America to England and keep the interest thereafter in England.

McADOO STILL IS SILENT

22 Ballots Fail to Change Attitude of Indifference.

HUNTINGTON, N. Y., July 4.—Not even the 22 ballots of the deadlocked democratic national convention could break the silence William G. McAdoo has steadfastly maintained on political events. His seemingly indifferent attitude towards the stirring convention incidents was unchanged.

Mr. McAdoo went to bed at 11:43 last night. He got up after 3 this morning and for the first time apparently evinced a little interest by shouting to Oscar A. Price, his attorney, to call on him at the other part of the house.

"What's the news?" Price sent to the village for the morning newspapers, and after Mr. McAdoo had read them he went to church with Mrs. McAdoo and his daughter, Mrs. Nona Mohrenschildt.

FREIGHT RATE RISE URGED

Representatives of Shippers Concede Need of More Revenue.

WASHINGTON, July 4.—Concluding arguments on the application of the railroads of the country for increased freight rates to net an additional billion dollars yearly revenue were heard yesterday before the Interstate Commerce commission by representatives of shippers.

Shippers' representatives generally conceded the need for increased revenues by which the roads might give the adequate transportation service needed, but differed as to the rates to be charged. The return on investment in passenger rates to equalize the burden generally was advocated. Some shippers protested against an increase in rates calculated on a percentage basis saying they preferred flat increases.

DEALERS GET GABY GEMS

Great Bulk of Minc. Deslys Jewels Bought by Paris Firms.

PARIS, July 4.—(Special cable.)—Only four pieces of the jewels of the late Gaby Deslys, which brought $560,000 at auction on Monday, passed into the hands of private individuals. Paris jewelry firms bought the rest of the dancer's gems.

Among the four articles sold to Gaby's personal friends is a belt and clasps made entirely of American gold coins. With the money value of the belt and clasps amounting to $377 in American gold, which at present exchange rates ought to have brought at least $900, the price paid by the anonymous buyer was $820, while the four articles so purchased brought a total of $4260.

20 Persons Buried Alive. MEXICO CITY, Mex., July 4.—Twenty persons were buried alive when dugouts at San Pedro de Los Pinos, near here, caved in last night.

Attorney-General Determined to Beat McAdoo.

COX' BETRAYAL HINTED

Delegates Believe Ohioan Will Consent to Run for Second Place and Support ex-Secretary.

BY CHARLES C. HART.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Correspondent for The Oregonian. SAN FRANCISCO, July 4.—(Special.)—It is Governor Cox or an outsider, one of the national leaders of the democratic party confided to me as his opinion at noon today as he emerged from a conference attended by one of the presidential candidates and three or four other democratic candidates in this convention. The cratic conspicuous in this convention. By an outsider he meant one of the minor aspirants.

This was contrary to what I had been hearing for two hours in the lobbies of the Palace hotel, where candidates' managers, aides, delegates and newspaper men were mingling. In the lobbies it was confidently asserted that there could be no logical outcome, but a McAdoo and Cox ticket as the only way of breaking the deadlock.

I was not impressed, however, with the lobby verdict because it was soon evident that it was the sum of conversation among individuals who had been assiduously interviewing each other. The democratic chieftains, fresh from an important conference, were quoted anonymously as stating that the McAdoo suggestion and then he told why.

All Other Forces Antagonized. He said that the McAdoo leaders had antagonized all the forces in the convention by their autocratic use of a federal machine and by their misrepresentations. With reference to the employment of federal office-holders in trying to nominate McAdoo, he quoted anonymously a statement made yesterday around the convention auditorium that if an earthquake were suddenly to destroy the Palace hotel the United States treasury would have to close until a new executive force could be enlisted and trained to handle Uncle Sam's financial system.

By this it was meant to say that about all of the important bureau chiefs of the treasury are here bringing pressure on delegates to nominate McAdoo. He then displayed a long list of federal employees, many of them connected with the treasury, who are on the ground engineering the McAdoo boom.

He appeared to voice the resentment of many delegates.

YEGGS SHATTER SAFE IN TOLEDO POSTOFFICE

MAIL, $100 IN CASH AND $200 IN STAMPS ARE MISSING.

Horse Blankets Used to Deaden Noise; Robbery of Drugstore Also Is Reported.

NEWPORT, Or., July 4.—Yeggsmen blew open the safe of the Toledo post-office at an early hour this morning. Registered mail, about $100 in cash and $200 worth of stamps are missing.

An explosion was heard about 3 A. M. by A. T. Peterson, but the robbery was not discovered until 6 o'clock, when Postmaster Gaither went to the office.

The safe was entirely destroyed, two parts going through the roof. Horse blankets had been arranged to deaden the noise and these, with an axe, were used. These articles and the dynamite may have been stolen from the road camp just outside of Toledo.

Thomas Hawkins reports that some boxes of cigars and kodaks also were stolen last night from his drug store near the postoffice.

Sheriff Simpson has notified the federal authorities at Portland.

ABERDEEN, Wash., July 4.—(Special.)—Safe crackers using nitro-glycerine Saturday night demolished the safe in the store of the Liberty Co-operative Grocery company at Bay City, between Aberdeen and Cosmopolis, obtaining $2000 in currency, a mill pay check for $100 and $1 from the cash register of an adjoining pool room.

The robbery was not discovered until this morning, when Tony Tesla, proprietor, opened the store. The thieves piled bags of sugar around the safe to guard against too heavy an explosion.

3 SHOT IN MINE CLASH

State Troops Requested to Quiet Workers in West Virginia.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 4.—Three McDowell county deputy sheriffs were shot late today at Roderfield, W. Va., during a clash between the officers and miners, according to information received here late tonight by state officials.

The advice was to the effect that the fighting at Roderfield was still in progress and United Mine Workers of America officers said they had been advised by their attorney, Williamson, Thomas West, to request that state troops be rushed to the scene.

One of the deputies reported wounded was said to have been shot in the head, while the other two were declared not to have been seriously hurt. According to the reports received by state officials here, the shooting began when the deputies arrived at Roderfield, where the miners were said to have started an independent organization movement Saturday.

$200,000 COLFAX FIRE RAZES MILL, 4 HOUSES

FIGHTERS HANDICAPPED BY LACK OF EQUIPMENT.

Heavy Wind Fans Flames and Many Persons Hurt Trying to Stem Sweep of Conflagration.

COLFAX, Wash., July 4.—(Special.)—The fire that originated Saturday night in the electric cleaner of the Colfax flour mills, owned by Mark Miller of Moscow, Idaho, caused a loss estimated to be $200,000. The mill, three residences and a feed mill were completely burned.

Equipment costing over $75,000 had been placed in the mill last year. One car of flour on the siding was burned besides 10,000 bushels of wheat and much flour in the mill.

Accompanying cost over $75,000 had been placed in the mill last year. One car of flour on the siding was burned besides 10,000 bushels of wheat and much flour in the mill.

One of the residences burned was owned by Fred Held, wire chief for the Pacific Phone company. He escaped with his children, only saving the clothes they could get on. Mr. Held was slightly burned. There was no insurance on the house.

Rudolph Hinkley and family were away from home when their residence and contents were burned. There was some insurance on the house.

Mr. Mustard and his son and Joe Smith, a carpenter, all of whom were helping fight fire, were burned, the two former slightly and the latter severely. Several firemen were slightly burned and many overcome by smoke.

The Colfax fire department was handicapped by lack of fire equipment. The mill, which was six stories high, made a spectacular fire. A heavy wind aided the flames.

GOVERNOR 'DRIVES' RIVET

Ceremony on Battleship Montana Carried Out at Mare Island.

VALLEJO, Cal., July 4.—Governor Samuel V. Stewart of Montana today "drove" the first rivet in the battleship Montana, which is to be built at the Mare Island yard here. The ceremony of driving the first rivet had been planned for Saturday, but the governor was unable to leave the democratic national convention at San Francisco.

Accompanying Secretary of the Navy Daniels, Governor Stewart and 20 convention delegates visited the navy yard today and after an inspection tour and luncheon the governor "drove" the rivet by taking it in his hand and making a speech. Later it will be put in place by workmen.

WOMAN GAGGED, ROBBED

Six Diamond Rings, Jeweled Watch, Bag and Money Stolen.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 4.—Mrs. C. E. Moeller, friend and traveling companion of Mrs. John F. Hyland, wife of the mayor of New York, was found bound and gagged in her room at a prominent hotel early tonight.

The room had been looted by a burglar. Mrs. Hyland was not in the apartment at the time. Mrs. Moeller and Mrs. Hyland arrived here a week ago to attend the democratic convention.

The robber obtained six diamond rings valued at $1000 each, a jeweled wrist watch valued at $500 and an expensive beaded bag containing $70 in bills.

OREGON AND IDAHO FIRM FOR McADOO

Delegates Ready to Hold Out Another Week.

COX LIKED LEAST OF ANY

Washington, However, Is Willing to Compromise.

DEPARTMENT IS FINE

Northwest Delegates Stay Out of All Rough-and-Tumble Encounters at Convention.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 4.—(Special.)—Oregon and Idaho are ready to stand out for William Gibbs McAdoo for another week if necessary, it was learned today from some of the leaders. Washington's delegation on the other hand, while composed mostly of McAdoo supporters, is ready to go into any get-together plan that will bring about the nomination of a satisfactory candidate.

The majority of the Washington delegation, it is believed, would be willing to go to Governor Cox if he appeared the most likely candidate. This is not because the Washington delegation is wet and Cox is a known wet, but because the Ohio governor has impressed the most of the Washington contingent as the strongest candidate.

Two Delegations Against Cox. The Oregon and Idaho delegations are both, to begin with, ardent supporters of McAdoo and less inclined to support Cox than almost any other of the candidates, except possibly Edwards of New Jersey. Both of these delegations think it would be a serious mistake to take chances with a candidate who is open to the charge of being an aspirant.

The "wet" was a very noticeable depression in the Oregon delegation last night when Cox was making his steady gains, and it is doubtful if the delegation would have gone to him, even as a winner, to help make his vote unanimous. In the Washington delegation are three or four delegates who either know John W. Davis of West Virginia, personally, or know a great deal about him. It will, therefore, be easy for him to draw support from Washington if he develops such strength as to look like the convention's best chance of compromise.

Oregon Complains of Davis. Oregon delegates complain that Davis is not well enough known west of the Mississippi river to be at all popular in the west. Oregon and Washington delegations will be able truthfully to boast of their splendid department here when they return to their wives, husbands or constituents.

Write almost all of the states have engaged in some kind of a rough and tumble row on the floor, the northwest delegations have remained in their seats and maintained peaceful relations with each other and with outside delegates.

A light clash occurred in the Washington delegation last night over putting the state's standard into one of the demonstrations in which Martin J. Maloney, of Chicago, Clarence D. Martin of Cheney, J. D. McCallum and one or two other delegates engaged, but it turned out to be a playful affair after some concern had been manifested by those not participating.

The Washington banner was somewhat torn and tattered, but remained aloft during the final balloting.

Proxies Are Approved. In a conference of the Washington delegation late this afternoon, the proxies of delegates who had departed for home were approved. The departed delegates are: W. A. Mosier, Tekoa; J. M. Tadlock, Olympia; J. H. Roberts, Centralia; P. R. Turner, Bremerton; and R. L. Proctor, Seattle. Their proxies will be voted in the convention tomorrow by Captain McKevitt, Spokane; Mrs. Elizabeth Christian, Spokane; Charles D. Pullen, Seattle; Hugh Todd, Seattle; and George F. Christensen, Stevenson.

An effort was made to get together on a united scheme of voting, but long debate ended in no agreement.

TWO KILLED; TWO INJURED

Great Northern Mail Train, Westbound, Is Wrecked.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 4.—Two persons were killed and two seriously injured early this morning when the Great Northern's fast west-bound mail train No. 27 was wrecked at Halford, 50 miles northeast of Seattle.

The known dead are Otto Vige, engineer, of Everett, Wash., and A. H. Warner, fireman of Leavenworth. Herman C. Hafer, express messenger of Seattle, and Clifford E. Wilkinson, brakeman, of Seattle, received severe injuries.

The train, consisting of ten mail and express cars, had just passed Halford when the engine suddenly left the rails, plunged along the track for 300 feet and then rolled over. Six cars were practically demolished. Vige and Warner were instantly killed. The train carried no passengers.

IRISH INDIA TROOPS RISE AGAINST BRITISH

NEWS OF EVENTS IN MOTHER COUNTRY CAUSES REVOLT.

Detachment Reported to Have Attempted to Seize Arms; Two Killed, One Shot.

LONDON, July 4.—Three-fourths of a battalion of Irish Connaught Rangers stationed at Jullunder, in the Punjab, India, mutinied following the arrival of news of recent events in Ireland, according to a dispatch from Simla under date of July 2 to Reuters, London.

Upon receipt of the same news at Simla, in the Simla hills, another detachment is reported to have attempted to seize arms and ammunition, the dispatch says, adding that guards killed two men and wounded one.

The dispatch says that when the last mail reached the troops they became greatly excited and the decision to lay down their arms soon was reached, one-fourth of the men remaining loyal to the colonel. The mutineers expressed regret that they were unable to serve any longer and gave up their arms and ammunition. Although remaining entirely respectful to their officers, the men expressed their sympathies with their friends in Ireland.

JOHN W. DAVIS IS LAUDED

London Daily News Ranks United States Ambassador High.

(Copyright by The New York World. Published by Arrangement.) LONDON, July 4.—(Special Cable.)—The Daily News, in an editorial on the democratic convention at San Francisco, says: "Writers on this side of the Atlantic may naturally be accused of prejudice in favor of one particular candidate. It is therefore well to say no more of the claims of the American ambassador (John W. Davis) than this: 'That in the two years he has been accredited to the court of St. James he has given evidence of an elevation of temper, sanity of judgment and power of inspiring respect, both for himself and for the great nation he represents, which assures him a high place even in that notable list of distinguished men who have during the past century and a quarter filled the office he occupies today.'"

OIL SURVEY IS PLANNED

Geological Reconnaissance Is to Be Carried on in Idaho.

BOISE, Idaho, July 4.—(Special.)—The U. S. geological survey has decided to make a reconnaissance survey of the oil prospects in Idaho. This information has been received by Governor Davis. Considerable progress has been made in this state. Noted geologists have declared that the formations here are typical of rich oil deposits.

Oil borings are being made at Payette in the western part of the state and in the Snakeley country in the southern section. The survey will extend from Weiser in western Idaho to the Teton country in the southeastern part of the state.

BRYAN IS FOR MAN NOT NOW ON LIST

Expediency Is Urged on Democratic Convention.

Justice Brandeis Mentioned in Group of Possibilities.

COX AND McADOO OPPOSED

Ohio Man Too Wet and ex-Treasurer Not Wanted Because of Relationship to Wilson.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 4.—

William Jennings Bryan said tonight that he considered it expedient for the convention to go outside of the list of candidates already before it for a nominee. He said he would suggest a number of men.

"It is hardly fair for the friends of the prominent candidates to assume that the democratic party is insolvent. I shall include in my list the names of men from various sections of the United States, including the south. I have always insisted that the sectional objection, like the so-called sectional advantage, is very largely over-estimated. As far back as 1894 I told party leaders that I had no objection to a southern man on the ticket with me."

Platform Held Requisite. "Sixteen years ago, at St. Louis, I recorded the nomination of Senator Cockrell of Missouri. My theory is that the people are much more interested in the platform a man stands on than in the section in which he lives."

In connection with his list of possible candidates, Mr. Bryan mentioned Justice Brandeis of the supreme court. "While I believe in the 11th-hour entry into the ring, provided a man proves himself to be a convert to progressiveness," said Mr. Bryan, "I think the credentials of such an aspirant ought to be examined carefully before he comes into the party or into the field."

Visitors Received Constantly. Mr. Bryan today was receiving visitors constantly, many of whom urged him to engage actively in the presidential contest. He reiterated to all, however, that he was making no effort to organize a fight for or against anyone.

"I don't object to telling the good points, whether 14 or less, of any candidate," said Mr. Bryan, but I refuse to share the responsibility for a man whom I consider unavailable. When a delegate rushed to me with a warning that if I didn't help nominate Mr. So and So, Mr. Blank would be nominated, I said 'I do not think it wise to do wrong simply because somebody else may do so.' I am not responsible for anything except my vote or influence and that will only be used for anyone who, in my judgment, would be less than the most available man I know among those who are candidates."

Mr. Bryan repeated his objections to Governor Cox and William G. McAdoo.

"My principal objection to Governor Cox," he said, "is that he is wet, and I think we have passed the time for the nomination of a wet candidate, especially since the convention voted against a wet plank by more than a two-thirds majority."

I also have expressed myself as to the availability of Mr. McAdoo, giving as my principal objection his relationship to the president. I still refuse to give an opinion because I think it would divert attention from any such merit as he has."

RECORD SUIT IS SETTLED

Litigants in Baker County Mining Case Come to Agreement.

BAKER, Or., July 4.—(Special.)—One of the longest and hardest contested legal cases ever waged in the local circuit court came to an abrupt end yesterday when the agreement for the dismissal of the case of Frank S. Baillie against the Columbia Gold Mining company was signed by Judge Gustav Anderson.

During the course of the case, which was waged as high as the state supreme court, 3000 pages of testimony were recorded.

The action involved certain stock in the company which was claimed by the plaintiff.

The entire assets of the Columbia Gold Mining company were turned over by the receiver to former Judge M. D. Clifford, who represented the mining company during the entire five-year battle.
