ROBINS REFUSE TO MOVE.—J. L. Hartman, 247 East Sixtieth street, on Monday noticed that a newly built robin's nest decorated the bay tree of the porch at his residence. Thinking that the birds would prefer to be farther away from the house, he instructed his gardener to remove it carefully and place it in another tree. This was done, but yesterday the nest was back in the old place again. In the space of one day the birds had torn down the nest, straw by straw, and replaced it in the exact position it had formerly occupied.

BURGLARS RAID HOUSE.—Burglars made a raid on the residence of C.
