

300 VOTES FOR COX
GIVE PRIZE TO COX

Palmer Signals Failure of Efforts at Combine.

STAMPEDE GETS STARTED

Delegates Then Roll Son-in-Law Out on Floor and Begin Drubbing of Wilsonites.

(Continued From First Page.)

convention. The delegates had shown him again and again that they didn't want him. There is a well understood rule of manners in conventions that whenever a candidate rises to a certain point and slips and falls, he is supposed to quit. It is a hint that he is not wanted.

McAdoo Deal to Hints. He is supposed to take the hint and quit and give the convention a chance to vote for somebody in his place. Ordinarily this only happens once, but with McAdoo it happened again and again and again.

First, the convention gave a bored yawn, which was meant as a signal to McAdoo. When that didn't impress him, the convention gave him a hint to go. When he still stayed, the convention pointedly remarked that they preferred someone else in his place. When he still didn't go, they laid hands on him and tried to throw him out the door. But he clung with both hands to his chair.

Delegates Become Enraged. But that time the convention didn't want him to go. They wanted to keep him in the room. The reason they wanted to keep him in the room was that they wanted the measure of rolling him on the floor and stamping on his face.

For 35 ballots the convention kept hoping that McAdoo would remove himself and make possible a combination between the Palmer delegates and the McAdoo delegates, which would enable them to name a candidate who would be acceptable to the administration. Everybody knew that Palmer was eager to do that, but McAdoo stubbornly held out. Finally, when Palmer himself withdrew, that was a signal to the convention that he had given up hope of making any combination with McAdoo, and that there was no possible hope of McAdoo withdrawing and naming the delegates to vote for somebody else.

Cox Their Revenge. When the convention realized the full extent of McAdoo's cupidity, it reached a point of desperation. McAdoo, which determined them to take Cox, whom they liked little, but to punish McAdoo, whom they liked less.

The Cox managers were the last to know what was coming. Indeed, nobody believed at the time that Cox was going to be named. At the very moment when the break came, the Cox managers tried to get an adjournment over night, so that they could have an opportunity to try to deal with McAdoo's cupidity and astonishment, the convention refused to take the adjournment and proceeded to name Cox with a rush.

DRYS OPEN WAR ON COX

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE INSISTS LINES ARE CLEARLY DRAWN.

Washington Superintendent Predicts Finish Fight on Liquor in Campaign This Year.

TACOMA, Wash., July 6.—(Special.)

The state Anti-Saloon league in Washington will fight the election of James M. Cox, democratic nominee for president, in the last ditch, according to a statement made today in Tacoma by George D. Conger of Seattle, superintendent of the league in this state, who has just returned from the democratic national convention at San Francisco.

"Cox is wet—he has always been wet," declared Conger. "He has also been declared for modification of the federal enforcement measure to permit so-called light wine and beer. He is the last hope of the wet interests. He had 377 wet votes, enough to block any other candidate, and was prepared to stay in the trenches until Christmas if necessary. The convention tried to break the wet grip with McAdoo, then with Davis, but it could not be done. The liquor interests have brought the nomination issue to the front in this campaign. The line is clearly drawn. Cox is expected to get every wet vote and by the same token Harding should receive every dry vote. The Anti-Saloon league will oppose Cox to the last ditch."

ROBBERS INFEST YAKIMA

Three Holdups in City and Vicinity Reported in Day.

YAKIMA, Wash., July 6.—Six highwaymen accomplished one hold-up and failed in another early this morning at the crossing of the highway under the O. W. R. & N. tracks near Union Gap, south of this city, making three hold-ups in this city and the immediate vicinity in 24 hours. William Crab, Julius Farrow, Edna and Ethel Lewis, all of Tappanish, returning by automobile from this city, were halted at the subway by a heavy plank across the road and a number of pistol shots. The party, which carried some distance from the road and robbed of $15 in money and the car, which later was recovered near Tappanish.

The second robbery attempt failed when the driver of the car speeded, and escaped, although several shots were fired after him.

DRAINAGE BONDS PROPOSED

Plan Is to Divert Water at Standfield for Use of Farmers.

PENDLETON, Or., July 6.—(Special.)—Representatives of the Umatilla drainage district will meet tomorrow morning to place before the county court their proposition to bond for construction of one main and two lateral ditches through the townsite of Standfield, located in Stage gulch, which is wet when all the surrounding country dries up. The townsite has long aggravated residents, and action may be taken to shatter the hardpan and allow the water to run into basements in the town could be diverted onto their farms.

FRIENDS CONGRATULATE AND PLEDGE NOMINEE SUPPORT

Cheering Messages Sent to Governor Cox and Secretary Roosevelt. "Best of the Lot," Says Champ Clark, Former Speaker of House.

HANNIBAL, Mo., July 6.—"You can say for me that I am glad the Governor Cox was nominated. He is the best of the lot," said Champ Clark, former speaker of the house, when informed of the democratic convention's choice, at his home at Bowling Green, Mo.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 6.—Governor James A. Reed today declared he considered the nomination of Governor Cox for the presidency "from every standpoint the strongest that could have been made from among the real candidates of the convention."

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 6.—Congratulations from President Wilson were received by Governor Cox this morning upon his nomination. The message from the governor's office in Columbus this morning and transmitted to his home.

"Please accept my hearty congratulations and cordial best wishes," signed Woodrow Wilson.

President Wilson's telegram of congratulations was among the first of 190. The first of these came from the Ohio executive's offices. There were dozens from San Francisco, including one from Joseph T. Robinson, convention chairman, and from Governor Watson, chairman of the West Virginia delegation, and from Governor S. V. Stewart of Montana, pledging hearty support; one from W. J. Cochran, chairman of the democratic national committee at San Francisco, reading "the magnificent way in which your nomination was won in goodly competition against press victory in November."

A telegram from the democratic state central committee of California pledged "enthusiastic support" and promised "California for Cox in November."

WASHINGTON, July 6.—President Wilson tonight sent Franklin D. Roosevelt, executive secretary of the navy, who was nominated for vice-president by the democratic national convention today, the following telegram:

"Please accept my warm congratulations and good wishes."

CHICAGO, July 6.—At 4:30 o'clock this morning the telephone rang in the apartment here of Thomas S. Blair Jr., father of Mrs. James M. Cox, who is the democratic nominee for president. Blair received a telegram from the long distance wire as Mr. Blair, from the chair where he had been sitting all night, unhooked the receiver.

"Daddy, dear," Mrs. Cox called to her father, "they've nominated him."

LONDON, July 6.—Ambassador John

HARDING FELICITATES COX

CHURCHING CHILD; COX REVERENDLY RECEIVED.

TELEGRAM SENT BY REPUBLICAN AN NOMINEE TO OPPONENT.

Federated Tribes Adopt Ohio Son and Wife and Pray for Success.

MARION, O., July 6.—Senator Harding, the republican candidate for presidency, spent a few days today, in the company of his wife and devoting his time almost exclusively to his correspondence and the accumulation of data for his speech of acceptance.

Immediately after hearing of the selection of Governor Cox as the democratic presidential nominee, however, the senator sent him a congratulatory telegram in which he congratulated him on his nomination and said that the Ohio governor deserved the nomination but that the selection would in no way alter his plans for a "front porch" campaign.

Amplifying his statement later to the newspaper correspondents, Senator Harding made it clear, as well as that of his supporters, was to score the republican party to power, and to show that the nomination of the nominee would have little influence on the outcome of the fight. For that reason the senator said there was no possibility of changing his campaign policy.

He said his speech of acceptance would be of a similar character in the past. One of the points which it was understood, he intends to emphasize particularly is the necessity for the restoration of party government in place of "one man government."

Plans for the official notification ceremonies which will be held here on July 22 are progressing rapidly.

Mrs. Harding was today notified by the Rev. Red Fox Skikhuahu, chief of the federated tribes of Indians, that both she and the senator had been adopted by the organization and hereafter her Indian name would be "Snowbird," meaning white.

The letter received by Mrs. Harding said the tribes' prayer was that the senator and his wife should be the white father of our native land and you be honored as the first lady of the land.

COX PROPOSES TO TOUR

NOMINEE OPPOSED TO FRONT PORCH CAMPAIGN.

Governor Spends Day With His Friends and Posing for Motion Pictures.

DAYTON, O., July 6.—In a telegram to the democratic national convention accepting the presidential nomination of Governor Cox, the senator today announced that he has no plans have been formulated and the campaign will not be discussed officially until the democratic national committee members and other party leaders return from San Francisco. He indicated he had no intention of resigning as governor of Ohio in order to devote all of his time to the campaign. He pointed out that Senator Harding had announced he would not resign from the senate.

Governor Cox spent the day receiving old friends at his home, "The End," near Dayton, and in his office at his newspaper, the Dayton News.

Tonight he motored 25 miles to Middletown, Ohio, to make a brief address to friends and neighbors of his youthful days when he was a trawler, printer's devil, school teacher and reporter.

Hundreds of telegrams, including

TEACHERS WANT NO UNION WITH LABOR

Educational Association Receives Report on Organization

Meatime Here Is All the Time

HIGHER SALARIES NEEDED

Report Says $1500 Is Minimum for Existence; $1800 Necessary for Economic Independence.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, July 6.—The National Education association's "commission on the emergency in education" made a clear-cut recommendation against affiliation of teachers with any "religious, political or economic union" in a report today to the association. It, with others, will be acted upon Friday.

The report, read by George D. Strayer of Columbia university, vice-president of the association, said: "Teachers as a unit cannot federate with labor unions in the same way as to keep the confidence of the whole people."

It described steps leading to the drafting of the Smith-Towner bill to create a department of education, with its head a member of the president's cabinet, and made an argument in behalf of the measure.

"It is a sound principle which proposes that the wealth of the nation be put back of the education of all its children," the report declared.

$1500 Minimum Salary Suggested. Topping on salaries, the report asserted $1500 as the minimum necessary for "existence" without provision for the future, and declared that $1800 annually was necessary to assure the average teacher economic independence. It added that 10 to 20 per cent of additional salary for "cultural growth" is to have opportunity for "cultural growth." The report said it was an error to "dealt" the "ablest of our class" of teachers for administrative posts.

The question of affiliation of teachers with labor unions was brought on a colloquy in the meeting of the national council of education, in which Mrs. Susan Dorsey, superintendent of schools of Los Angeles, referred to Miss Margaret Haley of the Chicago Teachers' association as a "soap box orator."

Affiliation with Labor Opposed. The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

TEACHERS WANT NO UNION WITH LABOR

Educational Association Receives Report on Organization

Meatime Here Is All the Time

HIGHER SALARIES NEEDED

Report Says $1500 Is Minimum for Existence; $1800 Necessary for Economic Independence.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, July 6.—The National Education association's "commission on the emergency in education" made a clear-cut recommendation against affiliation of teachers with any "religious, political or economic union" in a report today to the association. It, with others, will be acted upon Friday.

The report, read by George D. Strayer of Columbia university, vice-president of the association, said: "Teachers as a unit cannot federate with labor unions in the same way as to keep the confidence of the whole people."

It described steps leading to the drafting of the Smith-Towner bill to create a department of education, with its head a member of the president's cabinet, and made an argument in behalf of the measure.

"It is a sound principle which proposes that the wealth of the nation be put back of the education of all its children," the report declared.

$1500 Minimum Salary Suggested. Topping on salaries, the report asserted $1500 as the minimum necessary for "existence" without provision for the future, and declared that $1800 annually was necessary to assure the average teacher economic independence. It added that 10 to 20 per cent of additional salary for "cultural growth" is to have opportunity for "cultural growth." The report said it was an error to "dealt" the "ablest of our class" of teachers for administrative posts.

The question of affiliation of teachers with labor unions was brought on a colloquy in the meeting of the national council of education, in which Mrs. Susan Dorsey, superintendent of schools of Los Angeles, referred to Miss Margaret Haley of the Chicago Teachers' association as a "soap box orator."

Affiliation with Labor Opposed. The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."

The report made this declaration: "The commission believes in the professional organization of teachers. We believe just as sincerely that the professional organizations of teachers should not affiliate with any other group. We know of no sure way to destroy confidence in the American public school system and in our profession than for our great body of teachers to organize themselves. Whatever may be our judgment with regard to the legitimacy of the program of organized labor, teachers should not affiliate with it."