

ZIONIST CONFERENCE ELECTS BRANDELS

Supreme Court Justice Is International President.

PROGRAMME IS OUTLINED

Needs for First Year of Administration in Palestine Estimated at $1,000,000.

LONDON, July 7.—Louis D. Brandeis, associate justice of the United States supreme court, was elected president of the international Zionist conference which convened today as the first Zionist gathering in seven years, to formulate a political programme that will be urged for Palestine.

Dr. Max Nordau of London was chosen honorary president. Dr. Nahum Sokoloff of Berlin, chairman, said the conference must consider the questions of immigration and finance. He declared:

"Although for the many massacres in the Ukraine not heaven nor the mercy of the angels could find palliation, the Jews do not cry for vengeance, but will face the task of restoration soberly and unobtrusively."

Audience Rises Solemnly.
"Compared with these murders," Dr. Sokoloff said, "Nebuchadnezzar was a nobleman."

During his denunciation the audience arose solemnly as an endorsement of his views. He urged a policy of mutual help and solidarity with the Arab and Christian communities in Palestine.

Professor Chayim Weizmann, the noted Zionist, in his address to the conference, made an eloquent appeal to Jews throughout the world to cooperate with the Zionists in the re-establishment of Palestine. Professor Weizmann stated that a Jewish colonization organization already had been formed, open to private initiative, from which much might be expected. He emphasized the fact that all work in Palestine would be effected in strict co-operation with the Arabs. The professor declared that at least 50,000 Jewish immigrants would be settled in Palestine during the next 12 months.

Expenses Are Estimated.
M. Ussishkin, who headed the Zionist commission in Palestine during the past few months, stated that no less than $4,000,000 would be required for the Zionist effort in Palestine during the first 12 months of the new administration.

The administration Zionists will make a united effort to have the programme adopted in Pittsburgh in 1918 accepted by the conference as the guiding principle for Palestine. This programme includes public ownership of land, a co-operative commonwealth and equal rights for all in every phase of life in Palestine.

40 TO SURVEY BASIN
Party Starts on Tour of Columbia Irrigation Project Today.

SPOKANE, Wash., July 7.—Forty editors, publishers and business men of the northwest will leave Spokane tomorrow morning on the first day's trip of the editorial survey of the proposed Columbia river basin irrigation project, under the auspices of the chambers of commerce of Spokane and eastern Washington cities.

The party will go to Albany Falls on the Pend Oreille river and Newport tomorrow, returning here in the evening. Friday will be spent in the Big Bend district, the party reaching Pasco Saturday morning. From Pasco they will journey by automobile and train to Yakima, where the tour will be concluded.

Expenses of the Columbia basin project will explain the features of the undertaking during the tour.

WOOD'S FUND BOBS UP

Hitchcock, ex-postmaster-general and a Wood man.

Money Is Returned.
Nat Goldstein and Robert Moore, the two St. Louis delegates to the republican national convention, who previously admitted receiving $2500 each to help Lowden's interests, presented canceled checks as proof they had returned the money.

J. L. Babler described the disbursement of several thousand dollars and said that sums given to E. E. McJannet and Roscoe Patterson of Springfield, Mo., candidates for governor and representative, respectively, were intended to further the Lowden interest, but the recipients might have thought the money was for their own campaigns.

"I discussed the Lowden campaign with them," Babler said. "Mr. Kesterson was closely questioned by Senator Reed concerning the Taft-Roosevelt fight in 1912. He said that E. E. Morse employed him for $25 a day and expenses to boost Taft and paid him in cash, making him indorse blank checks at the same time."

Witness Declared 'Crazy.'
"I received about $25 on each check," said Kesterson, "while they were cashed for up to $250. During the Lowden campaign Morse gave me $700, but I thought it was to make up the difference between what I received and what he got on the checks in 1912. He also gave me $100 to ad-

"DANDERINE"

Stops Hair Coming Out; Doubles Its Beauty.

After an application of "Danderine" you can not find a fallen hair or any dandruff, besides every hair shows new life, vigor, brightness, more color and thickness.

A NEW CURE FOR "DANDERINE" After an application of "Danderine" you can not find a fallen hair or any dandruff, besides every hair shows new life, vigor, brightness, more color and thickness.

Among the democrats at the station to greet Senator Chamberlain were Oswald West, Elton Watkins, John D. Mann, Dr. Eloy Hedlund, John LaTour, Milton A. Miller, George L. Smith and Thomas Williams.

WOMEN EDUCATORS DEMAND EQUALITY

The Clothing Situation

Representation on All Programmes Demanded.

VOTE "DEAL" REPORTED

Fred M. Hunter of Oakland, Cal., Reported Slated for President on Promise of Lending Aid.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 7.—New grasp on the affairs of the National Education association, in session here, has been taken by women members as a class. "The national council of administrative women" at its meeting today pledged itself to obtain for women equal representation with men on all programmes, boards and committees of "all organizations in which both men and women are admitted to membership, including especially state and national education associations."

There is a report current in many association channels that leading women members have assured Fred M. Hunter, superintendent of schools of Oakland, Cal., of their support for the presidency and in return have been assured of the backing of the Hunter leaders for placing at least two women in important positions in the association's administration.

New York Man Is Seated.
According to this report, Olive Jones of New York, president of the New York City Principals' association, will be made the nominating committee's choice for member of the board of trustees.

C. G. Pearce, president of the Wisconsin state normal school at Milwaukee, addressed today's general session on the need for "sports to build bodies." He cited figures from the selective draft statistics to indicate physical unfitness in the present generation.

The council of administrative women issued an appeal to each state council subordinate to it to aid in teacher recruiting by carrying out a propaganda plan which it outlined. Americanization, which has been a topic in the fore of this convention, was the theme of several addresses at banquet of the American Citizenship league today.

Ohio Representative Speaks.
The idea was advanced that Americanization work would fall short if it included no more than loyalty in aliens and children. Useful, effective citizenship, several speakers should be the aim.

Simeon D. Pess, representative in congress from Ohio, was the principal speaker. He declared American citizenship should be established "not by law, but by education," asserting Alexander Hamilton stood for one great essential of citizenship, "the preservation of the fundamentals of government," and Thomas Jefferson for the other, "the preservation of liberty." He went on: "Both were right. We must hold fast to the fundamentals which we preserve our liberty. While we are guaranteed liberties we are under obligation to respect law and government. Only by a thorough-going system of public education . . . can we establish American citizenship based on the foundation created . . . by Hamilton and Jefferson."

Trade Between the United States and Russia has been prohibited since the bolshevik gained control in that country a year before the end of the world war. Even before that time it had been limited because of the demoralized condition of the Russian railroads. Some exports, mostly raw material, had been sent to Vladivostok and Archangel, but much of it never was moved to the interior.

Requests that the state department lift the ban on trading with the soviet government have been made by many American exporting and other business firms and American government officials long have desired to remove the restrictions so that the suffering people might be aided in spite of the bolshevik. Fears had been voiced, however, that whatever went into the country for that population would be seized by the bolshevik and converted to their use.

Coincident with the state department's announcement of the removal of most of the restrictions on trade with Russia, the war trade board section of the department issued a series of rulings amending its previous trade regulations to make them conform with the department's policy as to soviet Russia.

Export Licenses Required.
Under these rulings individual export licenses would be necessary for the shipment to Hungary, Austria, Bulgaria or Turkey of any materials susceptible of immediate use for war purposes. Such materials include locomotives, railroad rolling stock and motor cars. It is also provided that materials imported into this country may be exported to Russia or any other country without individual license when they are conveyed in transit through the territory or via any port of the United States. The same exceptions are made as to the shipment of war materials to Russia and the other four countries as in made with Russia to such materials originating in the United States.

The board also amended its general trade license so as to authorize all persons in the United States to trade and communicate with all persons with whom trade and communication were prohibited by the trading-with-the-enemy act, subject, however, to the limitations on trade in war materials and property which has been seized by the alien property custodian or which has been reported to him as enemy property.

RESCUER KILLED IN FALL
Los Angeles Man Loses Life Trying to Save Drowning Girl.

YOSEMITE, Cal., July 7.—Gertrude Kistler, 12-year-old daughter of Sedgewick Kistler of Lock Haven, Pa., a delegate to the democratic national convention, was drowned in the Merced river here today and H. J. Pink of Los Angeles, who went to her rescue, slipped on a rock as he entered the stream and fractured his skull, death resulting instantly.

The accident occurred above Happy Isles. Pink was a well-known member of the Elks' lodge of Los Angeles.

Douglas Cherry Prices Drop.
ROSEBURG, Or., July 7.—(Special.)—Small cherry growers who failed to contract their crop with the local canning plant earlier in the season are now losing 2 cents a pound on their crop and the price is threatening to drop even below this point. From the opening price of 12 cents cherries have dropped to 10 cents a pound. The cherry crop in this section is much larger than expected and prices may go even lower than now quoted. The small producers were not approached and are now selling in the open market at the lower figure. The only remnant of old German poetry is found in the Anglo-Saxon "Hoeuulf."

Contracts were made with the large growers of the county at a top price, but the small producers were not approached and are now selling in the open market at the lower figure. The cherry crop in this section is much larger than expected and prices may go even lower than now quoted. The small producers were not approached and are now selling in the open market at the lower figure. The only remnant of old German poetry is found in the Anglo-Saxon "Hoeuulf."

CHAMBERLAIN FOR COX

doing all in its power to aid in reclamation work and under the present system of appropriations for that purpose it has been difficult to accomplish all that Oregon is entitled to, but there is no doubt the time is not far distant when larger appropriations will be available and development to greater extent had. It must not be forgotten that so great were the demands on the treasury during the war that appropriations for all kinds of internal improvements were to a large extent curtailed.

"One of the most important things for the development of the state is road construction. Some time before adjournment I introduced a bill extending the provisions of the so-called Bankhead bill. Quite extensive hearings have been had on this measure by the committee on post-offices and postroads, but I am hopeful that when congress reconvenes favorable consideration may be given to it. The states are coming to realize that for every mile of good road built its cost has added to the value to that extent to adjacent territory. In addition to that, properly constructed roads and the use of trucks not only bring the market closer to the producer, thus adding to the value of his product, but tend to solve the congested freight situation.

"Congress has not forgotten either the veterans of other wars or those of the world war. The young men of Oregon in this last great war proved themselves to be worthy sons of noble sires. They fought a splendid fight, and besides winning for themselves an imperishable place on the scroll of fame, gave Oregon a place in the annals of the world.

"There are many matters of legislation affecting the state which I will discuss at some later date as opportunity affords, but this brief statement is intended mainly to let the people of this splendid state know how delighted I am to be back amongst them once more.

Among the democrats at the station to greet Senator Chamberlain were Oswald West, Elton Watkins, John D. Mann, Dr. Eloy Hedlund, John LaTour, Milton A. Miller, George L. Smith and Thomas Williams.

WOMEN EDUCATORS DEMAND EQUALITY

The Clothing Situation

Representation on All Programmes Demanded.

VOTE "DEAL" REPORTED

Fred M. Hunter of Oakland, Cal., Reported Slated for President on Promise of Lending Aid.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 7.—New grasp on the affairs of the National Education association, in session here, has been taken by women members as a class. "The national council of administrative women" at its meeting today pledged itself to obtain for women equal representation with men on all programmes, boards and committees of "all organizations in which both men and women are admitted to membership, including especially state and national education associations."

There is a report current in many association channels that leading women members have assured Fred M. Hunter, superintendent of schools of Oakland, Cal., of their support for the presidency and in return have been assured of the backing of the Hunter leaders for placing at least two women in important positions in the association's administration.

New York Man Is Seated.
According to this report, Olive Jones of New York, president of the New York City Principals' association, will be made the nominating committee's choice for member of the board of trustees.

C. G. Pearce, president of the Wisconsin state normal school at Milwaukee, addressed today's general session on the need for "sports to build bodies." He cited figures from the selective draft statistics to indicate physical unfitness in the present generation.

The council of administrative women issued an appeal to each state council subordinate to it to aid in teacher recruiting by carrying out a propaganda plan which it outlined. Americanization, which has been a topic in the fore of this convention, was the theme of several addresses at banquet of the American Citizenship league today.

Ohio Representative Speaks.
The idea was advanced that Americanization work would fall short if it included no more than loyalty in aliens and children. Useful, effective citizenship, several speakers should be the aim.

Simeon D. Pess, representative in congress from Ohio, was the principal speaker. He declared American citizenship should be established "not by law, but by education," asserting Alexander Hamilton stood for one great essential of citizenship, "the preservation of the fundamentals of government," and Thomas Jefferson for the other, "the preservation of liberty." He went on: "Both were right. We must hold fast to the fundamentals which we preserve our liberty. While we are guaranteed liberties we are under obligation to respect law and government. Only by a thorough-going system of public education . . . can we establish American citizenship based on the foundation created . . . by Hamilton and Jefferson."

Trade Between the United States and Russia has been prohibited since the bolshevik gained control in that country a year before the end of the world war. Even before that time it had been limited because of the demoralized condition of the Russian railroads. Some exports, mostly raw material, had been sent to Vladivostok and Archangel, but much of it never was moved to the interior.

Requests that the state department lift the ban on trading with the soviet government have been made by many American exporting and other business firms and American government officials long have desired to remove the restrictions so that the suffering people might be aided in spite of the bolshevik. Fears had been voiced, however, that whatever went into the country for that population would be seized by the bolshevik and converted to their use.

Coincident with the state department's announcement of the removal of most of the restrictions on trade with Russia, the war trade board section of the department issued a series of rulings amending its previous trade regulations to make them conform with the department's policy as to soviet Russia.

Export Licenses Required.
Under these rulings individual export licenses would be necessary for the shipment to Hungary, Austria, Bulgaria or Turkey of any materials susceptible of immediate use for war purposes. Such materials include locomotives, railroad rolling stock and motor cars. It is also provided that materials imported into this country may be exported to Russia or any other country without individual license when they are conveyed in transit through the territory or via any port of the United States. The same exceptions are made as to the shipment of war materials to Russia and the other four countries as in made with Russia to such materials originating in the United States.

The board also amended its general trade license so as to authorize all persons in the United States to trade and communicate with all persons with whom trade and communication were prohibited by the trading-with-the-enemy act, subject, however, to the limitations on trade in war materials and property which has been seized by the alien property custodian or which has been reported to him as enemy property.

RESCUER KILLED IN FALL
Los Angeles Man Loses Life Trying to Save Drowning Girl.

YOSEMITE, Cal., July 7.—Gertrude Kistler, 12-year-old daughter of Sedgewick Kistler of Lock Haven, Pa., a delegate to the democratic national convention, was drowned in the Merced river here today and H. J. Pink of Los Angeles, who went to her rescue, slipped on a rock as he entered the stream and fractured his skull, death resulting instantly.

The accident occurred above Happy Isles. Pink was a well-known member of the Elks' lodge of Los Angeles.

Douglas Cherry Prices Drop.
ROSEBURG, Or., July 7.—(Special.)—Small cherry growers who failed to contract their crop with the local canning plant earlier in the season are now losing 2 cents a pound on their crop and the price is threatening to drop even below this point. From the opening price of 12 cents cherries have dropped to 10 cents a pound. The cherry crop in this section is much larger than expected and prices may go even lower than now quoted. The small producers were not approached and are now selling in the open market at the lower figure. The only remnant of old German poetry is found in the Anglo-Saxon "Hoeuulf."

Contracts were made with the large growers of the county at a top price, but the small producers were not approached and are now selling in the open market at the lower figure. The cherry crop in this section is doing all in its power to aid in reclamation work and under the present system of appropriations for that purpose it has been difficult to accomplish all that Oregon is entitled to, but there is no doubt the time is not far distant when larger appropriations will be available and development to greater extent had. It must not be forgotten that so great were the demands on the treasury during the war that appropriations for all kinds of internal improvements were to a large extent curtailed.

CHAMBERLAIN FOR COX

"One of the most important things for the development of the state is road construction. Some time before adjournment I introduced a bill extending the provisions of the so-called Bankhead bill. Quite extensive hearings have been had on this measure by the committee on post-offices and postroads, but I am hopeful that when congress reconvenes favorable consideration may be given to it. The states are coming to realize that for every mile of good road built its cost has added to the value to that extent to adjacent territory. In addition to that, properly constructed roads and the use of trucks not only bring the market closer to the producer, thus adding to the value of his product, but tend to solve the congested freight situation.

"Congress has not forgotten either the veterans of other wars or those of the world war. The young men of Oregon in this last great war proved themselves to be worthy sons of noble sires. They fought a splendid fight, and besides winning for themselves an imperishable place on the scroll of fame, gave Oregon a place in the annals of the world.

"There are many matters of legislation affecting the state which I will discuss at some later date as opportunity affords, but this brief statement is intended mainly to let the people of this splendid state know how delighted I am to be back amongst them once more.

Among the democrats at the station to greet Senator Chamberlain were Oswald West, Elton Watkins, John D. Mann, Dr. Eloy Hedlund, John LaTour, Milton A. Miller, George L. Smith and Thomas Williams.

Among the democrats at the station to greet Senator Chamberlain were Oswald West, Elton Watkins, John D. Mann, Dr. Eloy Hedlund, John LaTour, Milton A. Miller, George L. Smith and Thomas Williams.

Among the democrats at the station to greet Senator Chamberlain were Oswald West, Elton Watkins, John D. Mann, Dr. Eloy Hedlund, John LaTour, Milton A. Miller, George L. Smith and Thomas Williams.

Among the democrats at the station to greet Senator Chamberlain were Oswald West, Elton Watkins, John D. Mann, Dr. Eloy Hedlund, John LaTour, Milton A. Miller, George L. Smith and Thomas Williams.

Among the democrats at the station to greet Senator Chamberlain were Oswald West, Elton Watkins, John D. Mann, Dr. Eloy Hedlund, John LaTour, Milton A. Miller, George L. Smith and Thomas Williams.

Among the democrats at the station to greet Senator Chamberlain were Oswald West, Elton Watkins, John D. Mann, Dr. Eloy Hedlund, John LaTour, Milton A. Miller, George L. Smith and Thomas Williams.

Among the democrats at the station to greet Senator Chamberlain were Oswald West, Elton Watkins, John D. Mann, Dr. Eloy Hedlund, John LaTour, Milton A. Miller, George L. Smith and Thomas Williams.

WOMEN EDUCATORS DEMAND EQUALITY

The Clothing Situation

Representation on All Programmes Demanded.

VOTE "DEAL" REPORTED

Fred M. Hunter of Oakland, Cal., Reported Slated for President on Promise of Lending Aid.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 7.—New grasp on the affairs of the National Education association, in session here, has been taken by women members as a class. "The national council of administrative women" at its meeting today pledged itself to obtain for women equal representation with men on all programmes, boards and committees of "all organizations in which both men and women are admitted to membership, including especially state and national education associations."

There is a report current in many association channels that leading women members have assured Fred M. Hunter, superintendent of schools of Oakland, Cal., of their support for the presidency and in return have been assured of the backing of the Hunter leaders for placing at least two women in important positions in the association's administration.

New York Man Is Seated.
According to this report, Olive Jones of New York, president of the New York City Principals' association, will be made the nominating committee's choice for member of the board of trustees.

C. G. Pearce, president of the Wisconsin state normal school at Milwaukee, addressed today's general session on the need for "sports to build bodies." He cited figures from the selective draft statistics to indicate physical unfitness in the present generation.

The council of administrative women issued an appeal to each state council subordinate to it to aid in teacher recruiting by carrying out a propaganda plan which it outlined. Americanization, which has been a topic in the fore of this convention, was the theme of several addresses at banquet of the American Citizenship league today.

Ohio Representative Speaks.
The idea was advanced that Americanization work would fall short if it included no more than loyalty in aliens and children. Useful, effective citizenship, several speakers should be the aim.

Simeon D. Pess, representative in congress from Ohio, was the principal speaker. He declared American citizenship should be established "not by law, but by education," asserting Alexander Hamilton stood for one great essential of citizenship, "the preservation of the fundamentals of government," and Thomas Jefferson for the other, "the preservation of liberty." He went on: "Both were right. We must hold fast to the fundamentals which we preserve our liberty. While we are guaranteed liberties we are under obligation to respect law and government. Only by a thorough-going system of public education . . . can we establish American citizenship based on the foundation created . . . by Hamilton and Jefferson."

Trade Between the United States and Russia has been prohibited since the bolshevik gained control in that country a year before the end of the world war. Even before that time it had been limited because of the demoralized condition of the Russian railroads. Some exports, mostly raw material, had been sent to Vladivostok and Archangel, but much of it never was moved to the interior.

Requests that the state department lift the ban on trading with the soviet government have been made by many American exporting and other business firms and American government officials long have desired to remove the restrictions so that the suffering people might be aided in spite of the bolshevik. Fears had been voiced, however, that whatever went into the country for that population would be seized by the bolshevik and converted to their use.

Coincident with the state department's announcement of the removal of most of the restrictions on trade with Russia, the war trade board section of the department issued a series of rulings amending its previous trade regulations to make them conform with the department's policy as to soviet Russia.

Export Licenses Required.
Under these rulings individual export licenses would be necessary for the shipment to Hungary, Austria, Bulgaria or Turkey of any materials susceptible of immediate use for war purposes. Such materials include locomotives, railroad rolling stock and motor cars. It is also provided that materials imported into this country may be exported to Russia or any other country without individual license when they are conveyed in transit through the territory or via any port of the United States. The same exceptions are made as to the shipment of war materials to Russia and the other four countries as in made with Russia to such materials originating in the United States.

The board also amended its general trade license so as to authorize all persons in the United States to trade and communicate with all persons with whom trade and communication were prohibited by the trading-with-the-enemy act, subject, however, to the limitations on trade in war materials and property which has been seized by the alien property custodian or which has been reported to him as enemy property.

RESCUER KILLED IN FALL
Los Angeles Man Loses Life Trying to Save Drowning Girl.

YOSEMITE, Cal., July 7.—Gertrude Kistler, 12-year-old daughter of Sedgewick Kistler of Lock Haven, Pa., a delegate to the democratic national convention, was drowned in the Merced river here today and H. J. Pink of Los Angeles, who went to her rescue, slipped on a rock as he entered the stream and fractured his skull, death resulting instantly.

The accident occurred above Happy Isles. Pink was a well-known member of the Elks' lodge of Los Angeles.

Douglas Cherry Prices Drop.
ROSEBURG, Or., July 7.—(Special.)—Small cherry growers who failed to contract their crop with the local canning plant earlier in the season are now losing 2 cents a pound on their crop and the price is threatening to drop even below this point. From the opening price of 12 cents cherries have dropped to 10 cents a pound. The cherry crop in this section is much larger than expected and prices may go even lower than now quoted. The small producers were not approached and are now selling in the open market at the lower figure. The only remnant of old German poetry is found in the Anglo-Saxon "Hoeuulf."

Contracts were made with the large growers of the county at a top price, but the small producers were not approached and are now selling in the open market at the lower figure. The cherry crop in this section is doing all in its power to aid in reclamation work and under the present system of appropriations for that purpose it has been difficult to accomplish all that Oregon is entitled to, but there is no doubt the time is not far distant when larger appropriations will be available and development to greater extent had. It must not be forgotten that so great were the demands on the treasury during the war that appropriations for all kinds of internal improvements were to a large extent curtailed.

CHAMBERLAIN FOR COX

"One of the most important things for the development of the state is road construction. Some time before adjournment I introduced a bill extending the provisions of the so-called Bankhead bill. Quite extensive hearings have been had on this measure by the committee on post-offices and postroads, but I am hopeful that when congress reconvenes favorable consideration may be given to it. The states are coming to realize that for every mile of good road built its cost has added to the value to that extent to adjacent territory. In addition to that, properly constructed roads and the use of trucks not only bring the market closer to the producer, thus adding to the value of his product, but tend to solve the congested freight situation.

"Congress has not forgotten either the veterans of other wars or those of the world war. The young men of Oregon in this last great war proved themselves to be worthy sons of noble sires. They fought a splendid fight, and besides winning for themselves an imperishable place on the scroll of fame, gave Oregon a place in the annals of the world.

"There are many matters of legislation affecting the state which I will discuss at some later date as opportunity affords, but this brief statement is intended mainly to let the people of this splendid state know how delighted I am to be back amongst them once more.

Among the democrats at the station to greet Senator Chamberlain were Oswald West, Elton Watkins, John D. Mann, Dr. Eloy Hedlund, John LaTour, Milton A. Miller, George L. Smith and Thomas Williams.

Among the democrats at the station to greet Senator Chamberlain were Oswald West, Elton Watkins, John D. Mann, Dr. Eloy Hedlund, John LaTour, Milton A. Miller, George L. Smith and Thomas Williams.

Among the democrats at the station to greet Senator Chamberlain were Oswald West, Elton Watkins, John D. Mann, Dr. Eloy Hedlund, John LaTour, Milton A. Miller, George L. Smith and Thomas Williams.

Among the democrats at the station to greet Senator Chamberlain were Oswald West, Elton Watkins, John D. Mann, Dr. Eloy Hedlund, John LaTour, Milton A. Miller, George L. Smith and Thomas Williams.

Among the democrats at the station to greet Senator Chamberlain were Oswald West, Elton Watkins, John D. Mann, Dr. Eloy Hedlund, John LaTour, Milton A. Miller, George L. Smith and Thomas Williams.

Among the democrats at the station to greet Senator Chamberlain were Oswald West, Elton Watkins, John D. Mann, Dr. Eloy Hedlund, John LaTour, Milton A. Miller, George L. Smith and Thomas Williams.

Among the democrats at the station to greet Senator Chamberlain were Oswald West, Elton Watkins, John D. Mann, Dr. Eloy Hedlund, John LaTour, Milton A. Miller, George L. Smith and Thomas Williams.

WOMEN EDUCATORS DEMAND EQUALITY

The Clothing Situation

Representation on All Programmes Demanded.

VOTE "DEAL" REPORTED

Fred M. Hunter of Oakland, Cal., Reported Slated for President on Promise of Lending Aid.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 7.—New grasp on the affairs of the National Education association, in session here, has been taken by women members as a class. "The national council of administrative women" at its meeting today pledged itself to obtain for women equal representation with men on all programmes, boards and committees of "all organizations in which both men and women are admitted to membership, including especially state and national education associations."

There is a report current in many association channels that leading women members have assured Fred M. Hunter, superintendent of schools of Oakland, Cal., of their support for the presidency and in return have been assured of the backing of the Hunter leaders for placing at least two women in important positions in the association's administration.

New York Man Is Seated.
According to this report, Olive Jones of New York, president of the New York City Principals' association, will be made the nominating committee's choice for member of the board of trustees.

C. G. Pearce, president of the Wisconsin state normal school at Milwaukee, addressed today's general session on the need for "sports to build bodies." He cited figures from the selective draft statistics to indicate physical unfitness in the present generation.

The council of administrative women issued an appeal to each state council subordinate to it to aid in teacher recruiting by carrying out a propaganda plan which it outlined. Americanization, which has been a topic in the fore of this convention, was the theme of several addresses at banquet of the American Citizenship league today.

Ohio Representative Speaks.
The idea was advanced that Americanization work would fall short if it included no more than loyalty in aliens and children. Useful, effective citizenship, several speakers should be the aim.

Simeon D. Pess, representative in congress from Ohio, was the principal speaker. He declared American citizenship should be established "not by law, but by education," asserting Alexander Hamilton stood for one great essential of citizenship, "the preservation of the fundamentals of government," and Thomas Jefferson for the other, "the preservation of liberty." He went on: "Both were right. We must hold fast to the fundamentals which we preserve our liberty. While we are guaranteed liberties we are under obligation to respect law and government. Only by a thorough-going system of public education . . . can we establish American citizenship based on the foundation created . . . by Hamilton and Jefferson."