

PAULIST CHOIR GIVES ZEPHYRUS PROGRAMMES

Boys in Ensemble Appear Better Trained Than Ever.

DISCIPLINE IS UNUSUAL

Tenors are Sweetly Voiced and Sopranos are Delightfully Clear in Vocalism.

BY JOSEPH MACQUEEN. Sometimes with faint murmurs of vocalism like the twittering of birds in the deep wood...

Such are the two finest rendered programmes of the Paulist choir of New York city, Father William J. Finn, conductor...

Portland is no stranger to these concerts of the Paulist choir, formerly of Chicago and now of New York city. The choir last was heard in concert in the public auditorium in the city in early June, 1915...

The 1920 Paulist choir is now better trained, and today it is, without doubt, one of the most finely trained male-voice choirs in the world. The choir discipline is unusually strict...

Among the soloists the chief attraction is the great John Finnegan, tenor soloist in the choir of St. Patrick's cathedral, New York city. He is little of stature. He has a lyric tenor voice of fine, sparkling, even quality...

Master Billy Probst, boy soprano, has an excellent voice which has been finely and carefully trained. He made good in "Mattiata" (Leoncauvallo) and "Songs My Mother Taught Me"...

But the big treat and surprise after all is the lovely and inspired ensemble unaccompanied singing of the massed choir, and especially that of the wonderful sopranos. The principal choruses heard were the glorious Palestrina music of the sixteenth century...

One special feature of the concert is that the boy sopranos sang the long programmes from memory, while often the men singers sang from music scores.

Father Finn directed with consummate artistic ability. The concerts are quite a feather in Portland's cap—being managed along with 44 other concerts en route by the Western Musical bureau of this city—concerts from Winnipeg, Canada, to southern California.

The main feature of last night's concert, apart from the splendidly sung tenor solos of Mr. Finnegan, consisted of the near-sensational ensemble singing of the "Pat and the Genii" and white clad choir, and especially that of the soprano boys who reached the peak of vocal excellence...

Mr. Finnegan won his audience last night, and got a flattering reception. His silvery tenor was highly effective in legato work. His principal solo was "Rudolph's Narrative" from Puccini's "La Boheme"...

In vocal accompaniment by the boys' chorus, in "Old Joe" and "The Old Joe," sung by Master Probst, the massed boys' voices sounded like muted violins.

The two audiences yesterday are estimated to be about 2700 people. Both concerts were arranged locally by the Knights of Columbus.

At the Theaters. Hippodrome. A DIMINUTIVE lass named Jewell and her clever sister Raymond, who wears her hair short to maintain a boyish personality...

Jewell is saucy and curly-pated and extremely graceful. She talks naturally and not in the squeaky, strident voice assumed by the average youthful prodigy. Raymond is a delightful impersonator of a young lad...

Tom Nawn, a character actor of ability, sponsors a keen, little comedy called "Pat and the Genii" in which a mystic plays an amusing and diverting part of the plot. Tom is an Irish gardener with a valuable house-keeper named Sarah...

Chad Blough and Reilly Lockard put on characters exterior and one is a private and the other a sergeant of much authority in a highly entertaining satire of military flavor. Songs and smart dialogue make the act stand out for cleverness and originality.

Dr. David N. Roberg, secretary of the state board of health, will submit his resignation to the board, probably within the next few weeks...

Dr. David N. Roberg, who may resign as secretary of state health board.

learned from official sources last night. It was reported that Dr. Roberg's contemplated resignation comes as a result of his differences with city health officials over the Cedars convent...

Dr. Roberg last night would neither deny nor confirm the report that he intended resigning. He admitted that the inadequacy of the salary paid to the secretary of the state board of health was such as to cause one to consider such action...

Dr. Andrew C. Smith, a member of the state board, said he understood that Dr. Roberg would resign soon because of the small salary. There seemed to be no doubt in his mind but that it was generally understood among members of the board that Dr. Roberg soon would sever his connections with the organization...

Dr. Roberg has been secretary of the state board of health since 1915, having succeeded Dr. Calvin S. White. He is elected by the board.

2000 ELKS ENJOY PICNIC

Portland and The Dalles Dances Have Outing at Bonneville.

Elkdom took possession of Bonneville yesterday when the Elk lodges of Portland and The Dalles staged a joint picnic near the site of the state fish hatchery. A special train of eight cars, bearing 1600 Elks and their families, went to the picnic grounds from Portland...

Mr. Barnes is survived by a widow and two babies. Mrs. Barnes was prostrated yesterday by the shock of her husband's death. The body will be turned over to the Miller & Tracy undertaking chapel.

SIMON'S EMPLOYEES PICNIC

Day Is Spent at Athletics, Dancing, Boating and Bathing.

The employees of Simon's store, together with their families, held their annual picnic yesterday at San Rivera park on the Sandy river. In addition to 15 automobiles, four big trucks from the store's delivery service were pressed into service to transport the commissary and the crowd...

Much interest centered in the tug-of-war. "Field Marshal" Heinie Busch and "Rear Admiral" Benny Bernatzen were captains and end-anchors for their respective sides. Each man weighs in the neighborhood of 300 pounds. Although Joseph Simon, head of the firm, brought up reinforcements in aid of the naval forces, the land division, under the superb generalship of "Field Marshal" Busch, triumphed.

Result of a vote taken on the questionnaire submitted to 700 members of the retail trade bureau relative to what members thought of certain forms of advertising, were announced today by Harold N. Moore, secretary of the bureau. Mr. Moore's statement of the vote follows:

"The advertising committee of the retail trade bureau concedes the value of the newspapers as being perhaps the most efficacious and has conducted an inquiry among the 700 members of the retail trade bureau to guide it in its decisions as to some of the other publications. Six questions were put and were answered as follows:

"Should the fact that a medium is legitimate be sufficient for the committee to endorse it? The answers were 21 per cent 'no.' "Should the committee be guided by its value to the retail advertiser? Yes, 91 per cent.

"Do you believe high school weekly or monthly publications should be endorsed? Answers, 74 per cent no. High school annuals and high school yearbooks, 82 per cent no. Free circulation publications? Answers, 60 per cent no.

Man at Vancouver, Wash., Twice Attempts to Kill Himself.

Strychnine and ether were both drunk by C. A. Rogers, 900 East Grant street, in two attempts to take his life on the streets of Vancouver, Wash., yesterday afternoon and early evening. As Rogers raised the wial of ether to his lips in his second effort to commit suicide he was seen by Patrolmen Hilton and Russell of the Vancouver police, who rushed him to St. Joseph's hospital, where first aid was administered. It was reported at the hospital last night that Rogers would recover.

On Rogers' consciousness it was said that Rogers blamed marital troubles for his attempt to kill himself. Demanding that Rogers, an employee of the Vancouver Land & Fuel company, and had just returned from Canada, right to strike.
