FRUIT CANNERS SEE GOOD SEASON AHEAD

Situation Improves as Price Peak Is Passed.

FINANCIAL AID IS NEEDED

Short-Time Loans Necessary and Appeals May Be Made to Banks of Portland.

Fruit canners report signs of improvement in the canned goods market as it concerns the 1920 pack. For a time the outlook was anything but cheerful and some of the canners feared there would be a serious slump in prices of "futures." This the ascribed to the action by certain Call fornia packers, who, after putting out their opening prices, proce quote discounts in the hope of at-

As a result, the Oregon canners say the jobbers held back and refused t buy, believing that further shading of prices, would follow. Now there is a disposition on the part of all canners stand firm and as a consequence the jobbers are showing more interest in the market.

Financial Question Bothersome.

The canners still have the financial managers of some of the smaller plants in this state declare they will have to close down their establish-ments unless the large banks of Port-land come to their assistance. In several instances country banks have accommodated the institutions of their communities to the limit of their abilities and in the past week a number of interior canners have come to Portland looking for relief. Reserve Bank Not Appenled To.

Statements made by representatives f several of the smaller canners that the federal reserve bank had refused to furnish sufficient capital to finance them during the peak of the fruit sea-son are denied by officials of the Portland branch of the federal reserve bank. The bank has not only not re-fused to make short-time loans to the canners, but has had no direct dealings whatever with them, as it operates early through member banks and so far as the federal reserve officials criminated against the fruit packers when eligible paper was offered.

ENTIRE NORTHWEST SEARCHED FOR T. S. HAYNES.

Former Sea Captain Disappears. Brother Here, H. H. Havnes, Suspects Foul Play

A search covering the entire north-west is being made by H. H. Haynes, of the Haynes-Foster Baking com-pany, for his brother, Thomas S. pany, for his brother, Thomas S. Haynes, of Aberdeen, Wash., who dis-appeared on July 8, being last heard from in Olympia Wash. Relatives fear that he has met with foul play and the matter has been taken with the police departments of vari-ous northwestern cities in the effort to ferret out the mystery of the man's

H. H. Haynes has spent most of the trying to obtain some clue.

Thomas Haynes had recently been engaged in the automobile tire business, being head of the Haynes Rub-ber company at Aberdeen. Previous to that he was for many years a steamboat captain on Alaskan waters and also engaged in mining in that

On one occasion he superintended he building of a boat in Portland, which was the first vessel to success fully navigate the waters of the Koy

Captain Haynes left Aberdeen on a business trip for Tacoma on the day of his disappearance, going by bus as far as Olympia. Since that time nothing has been heard from

He is described as 49 years of age, about five feet eight inches tall and weighing about 145 or 150 pounds. He was bald and had a scar on top of his head.

ROBBERY REPORTED FAKED

Mrs. Meacham Said to Have Confessed to Police Inspectors.

Clarence Meacham, Berkley hotel, Third and Taylor streets, thought that his wife was working in a res-taurant. Instead she was employing cording to a confession she is said to have made.

Yesterday, which was supposed to be pay day at the resistance of the

Yesterday, which was supposed to be pay day at the restaurant, Mrs. Meacham could think of no way to explain why she had received no money, so she is said to have told a story of being robbed. To make the story more realistic, she went to their apartment in the hotel and gagged herself with a piece of cloth and bound her hands with a necktic. When the husband returned home he notified the police.
