

BERGOLD'S BROTHERS
SURVEILORS TO LAW

Prisoner to Answer Charge of Army Desertion.

MAN SOUGHT FOR 2 YEARS

Prisoner Noted as Motor Car Racer.
Wife Dies While Husband Is Fugitive.

NEW YORK, July 21.—While Lieutenant-Colonel John E. Hunt, retired, former commanding officer of the United States disciplinary barracks, Fort Jay, was facing court-martial today for alleged neglect of duty in connection with the escape of Grover A. Bergold, draft dodger, the convicted deserter's half brother, Erwin E. Bergold, was noted as a motor car racer at Governor's Island, and gave himself up after having been sought for more than two years on a similar charge.

With Bergold at the time of his unexpected surrender, was Judge Romig of Philadelphia, and another half brother, Charles Braun, Judge Romig, a friend of the Bergold family, is under indictment with Bergold, as a result of the recent escape in Philadelphia of Grover Cleveland Bergold.

Grover eluded military guards in whose custody he was released from Governor's Island to go to Maryland in search of $150,000 he claimed to have buried in the mountains there.

Erwin Bergold was immediately locked up.

Charges of desertion will be preferred against him. He announced he would not resist court-martial and would defend himself with military counsel.

Erwin Bergold's defense is expected to be based upon the fact that he had not registered for the draft and consequently could not be classed as a deserter. Grover A. Bergold's defense was along similar lines.

The trip from Philadelphia was made without Bergold being recognized. At the outset of the court-martial of Colonel Hunt the prosecution announced that no attempt would be made to prove collusion by the accused officer with those who are alleged to have conspired to effect Grover's escape.

PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—(Special.)—The career of Erwin Bergold has been most sensational as that of Grover. He was the most noted of the four Bergold brothers as a motor car racer, breaking a record in the 200-mile Fairmount Park race and rivaling De Palma as an expert driver.

Like Grover he was a terror to motorists and pedestrians on the suburban roads around Philadelphia. Communists protested and he paid many heavy fines. He is 39 years old. His wife died last year while he was a fugitive.

FIERCE BATTLE RAGES

Enemy Breaks Through Poland's Lines in Spots and Brings Fight on Republic's Soil.

WARSAW, July 21.—The heaviest fighting ever experienced on the southern front is now under way, the bolsheviki having launched a general offensive from the Rumanian border to the Frapet marshes. Detachments of bolsheviki have forced the river Zbrucz, bringing the battle upon Polish soil for the first time.

An official communication issued today announced fierce fighting along the Sty river. All the red attacks have been repulsed, except at one place, where the reds forced a crossing. During an infantry engagement along the Galician frontier, a Budenny cavalry detachment attacked a hospital train, but afterward was expelled.

The communication also says that a furious battle is raging in the region of Rovno, where a red cavalry patrol broke through the rear of the Polish line.

In the north the fighting had reached a point east of Grodno. After two days of fighting with infantry and tanks, the bolsheviki are withdrawing. The reds are attacking repeatedly east of the river Sekury and the town of Slonima. All the attacks have been repulsed. The Poles are entrenched at places and endeavoring to make a stand behind the barbed wire defenses used by the Russo-German forces, in the face of overwhelming numbers of reds.

LONDON, July 21.—Troops of bolsheviki have occupied Orany, Mordoch, a Mordochian, Dubaj and Radon to the northeast of Grodno, according to an official statement on the fighting operations from Moscow under date of Tuesday. The statement says 1500 Poles were taken prisoner around Vilna. Fierce fighting continues around Dubno, it says.

SOVIET READY TO NEGOTIATE

Lloyd George Says Answer to Allies Is Much Muddled.

LONDON, July 21.—Premier Lloyd George, addressing the house of commons today, said the soviet answer to the allies regarding peace with Poland was incoherent, ambiguous and propaganda largely intended for home consumption. So far as he could understand, however, the soviet indicated its willingness to negotiate direct with Poland.

The soviet government, the premier declared, also wanted to give Poland better boundaries than those named by the allies. Mr. Lloyd George said there were some phrases in the soviet message indicating the bolsheviki only were prepared to discuss the matter with a proletarian government. He declared the soviet government had no right to dictate to Poland what sort of government the Poles should have.

The premier asserted that an independent Poland was essential to the whole fabric of peace and the allies were prepared to discuss the destruction of Poland and the march of bolshevik armies through Poland territory. If the bolsheviks overran Poland, they would be up against the German front and Mr. Lloyd George said this would furnish Germany a great temptation with her millions of trained men.

It would be a cheap way, according to the premier, for Germany to get out of her obligations. "I only ask the members to think whether it might not have the effect of depriving the allies of the fruits of the dearly bought victory," Mr. Lloyd George added.

Mr. Lloyd George pointed out that the soviet government has not been chosen by the Russian people and he declared that the soviet government is an autocracy as its predecessor.

The premier announced that the soviet ambassador at Berlin had gone to Poland and said it was possible that Marshal Foch would go there later.

It was to the interest of Great Britain and of Europe that Poland should not be wiped out, declared the premier for an armistice.

Mr. Lloyd George said the impression received at the Spa conference was that Foch and Simons, the German chancellor and foreign secretary, respectively, were two perfectly honest and upright men who would do their best to fulfill the treaty obligations. Reciting the results at Spa, the premier declared:

Christensen, farmer-labor party candidate for president, today telegraphed to Senator Harding, republican nominee, and Governor Cox, democratic candidate, suggesting that all join in a demand upon President Wilson to immediately release Eugene V. Debs from prison. The text of the message follows: "I have been selected by the farmer-labor party as its candidate for president of the United States. It is my intention to inaugurate as quickly as possible a nation-wide campaign in behalf of the ideals of political and industrial democracy embraced in the platform of that party. But I dislike utterly to start on such a campaign while one of my opponents is in prison, and especially while he is in the ideas of how best to conduct the affairs of society, and so may I be and so may you, but my conception of liberty includes the right to think wrong. I say to Mr. Debs and to others with whom I disagree, including the candidates of the republican and democratic parties, 'I loathe your ideas like death, but I will defend with my life your right to express them.' "Does it not appeal to you as a matter of simple justice that the presidential candidates of the democratic, republican and farmer-labor parties should join in a demand upon the president of the United States to immediately release the socialist candidate from Atlanta prison? As for me, it shall not be said that I have been a party to the persecution of any man for the opinions he holds, and I should so regard myself if I failed to publicly announce my condemnation of the imprisonment of Debs since I have entered a race in which he is a competitor. Your sense of sportsmanship must have led you, since your nomination, to consider the position of Debs. I beseech an answer from you to this proposal."
