

HARDING PROMISES TO SAFEGUARD U. S.

Peace by Resolution of Congress Favored.

7-HOUR RECEPTION HELD

March of Delegations Before Front Porch of Marion Home Begins at Sunup.

And precise enunciation but he mixed with it some sweeping gestures which helped keep his audience cheering. With doubled fist he poured home his plea for protection of American sovereignty in any association of nations and the crowd answered with repeated bursts of applause.

Speech Lasts Hour and Half.
Senator Harding spoke for nearly an hour and a half when another round of applause had again ended the ceremonies came to an end with singing of America and a benediction by Father J. M. Denning of St. Mary's Catholic church here.

A noisy aggregate of Marion citizens that looked like half the town, led off with a demonstration. To their howling acclaim the senator played the leading part in a flag raising, pulling the stars and stripes to the top of the weather-beaten McKinley flag pole sent here a few days ago from Canton.

Delegation after delegation, with bands blaring and colors flying, followed up to the Harding front porch as 30 special trains and thousands of automobiles unloaded their crowds. Marion was dressed within an inch of its life for the debut in the great affairs of the nation. Patriotic flags and bouquets draped the city from tip to toe. Business was adjourned and partisanship was forgotten as republicans and democrats joined in acknowledging the honor that had come to one of their neighbors.

From the senator's home down to the heart of the business section a lane of tall white pillars formed a spotless court of honor to mark the route of the parades, and along the way scarcely a window was without its portrait of the republican candidate.

Paintstaking arrangements had been made to provide a luncheon for the crowds. Profiteering had been put under the ban by agreement of the city's business men, and many housewives had laid in an extra supply of food to make sure that no one went hungry. Most of the public counters were under supervision of the churches.

One of the delegations to whose coming Senator Harding looked forward with keenest anticipation was a brass band from Caledonia, his boyhood home.

The purple, white and gold of the woman suffrage cause early made its appearance in the gathering crowds, but the plan of the women to picket the notification ceremonies was abandoned. During the morning the senator had an appointment to receive a delegation from the national woman's party, who wanted him to aid in obtaining favorable action by the Tennessee legislature on the suffrage amendment. He said he would be glad to listen to their request, but would have no immediate reply to make.

Last night he saw a similar delegation from the National American Woman Suffrage association and afterward sent a telegram to Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, head of the association, declaring that if any republican members of the legislature asked his opinion he would advise that the amendment be ratified at once. The woman's party group, led by Alice Paul, declared themselves pleased at his action, but decided to present their petition as they had planned.

National Committee Guests.
A feature of the day was a luncheon given by Dr. C. E. Sawyer at his farm on the outskirts of Marion to the members of the republican national committee and of the notification committee appointed by the Chicago convention.

Will H. Hays, national chairman, was the presiding officer at the notification, for which the city had refitted its chautauqua pavilion. The programme included an invocation by Bishop William P. Oldham of the Methodist Episcopal church, the formal notification speech by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Senator Harding's response, and a benediction by Father Joseph M. Denning, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church here. A glue club came from Columbia to the assemblage in singing the Star Spangled Banner and America.

Harding Makes Short Talk.
The Marion boosters cheered the senator until he consented to make a short talk, thanking them for their show of "neighborly interest" and enthusiasm.

"I am going to make my speech later in the day," he said, "but I cannot let you go without saying how deeply I am touched by this tribute from the home folks."

Members of the Hamilton club of Chicago came up singing "Good Morning, Mr. Harding," fashioned after the army marching song, "Good Morning, Mr. Zep," and presented the candidate with a resolution giving him honorary membership in the club. In response, he declared there ought to be a similar republican organization in every great city.

"We do not give enough attention to our politics," he added, "for good government ought to be the least business of every citizen. And I think we do not pay enough attention to party; in this country we have had too much of the rule of the individual and not enough of the rule of the great masses. I am especially proud to be a member of your club because it bears the name of the man who to my mind was the greatest constructive American statesman that ever lived."

Suffrage Answer Promised.
Senator Harding told the delegation from the woman's party that he would give his answer to their request that he intercede in Tennessee for ratification of the suffrage amendment in his speech of acceptance. "My conception of suffrage contemplates women taking a place fully and equally with men," he said.

Claims of the woman's party were presented by Sue S. White of Tennessee and Mrs. H. O. Havemeyer of New York city. Headed by a band, the women leaders marched to the Harding home, Senator Harding met them on the steps and stood leaning against a column while the two speakers presented their claims.

"We need the 36th state and it seems as impossible for us to attain it as it was for the children of Israel to enter the promised land," Mrs. Havemeyer said.

Long before noon the delegates began to troop on one another's heels, and the candidate had to abandon hope of shaking hands with all of those who came. He took his position on the steps of his porch and smilingly waved acknowledgments as the howling throng marched past.

He got an extra round of applause from one delegation when he led Mrs. Harding down the steps and presented her as "the head of this family."

When the Caledonia band marched into the lawn wheeling out its old-time melodies Senator Harding came down from the front porch and shook hand all around. He told the bandmen their harmony had improved since the days when he was their trombone player, but his old-time companions insisted that he was wrong and assured him that he was greatly missed.

While the Columbus Glee club was singing Theodore Roosevelt climbed up over the porch rail and shook hands with Senator Harding. The crowd cheered and the nominee led Colonel Roosevelt to the front steps and presented him to the club as "the son of a great American, for whom you have sung often in the past." The colonel responded briefly.

Thousands of women were in the parade. One man stirred a flurry of feminine cheering when he carried past a banner announcing that "my wife is for Harding, too; it's the first time we've ever agreed."

Many far distant states were represented. A motor party from Florida rolled past with a banner reading "Florida for Harding," in the lead.

At a meeting of the Ohio ways and means committee with National Treasurer Upham at the Sawyer home, prior to the arrival of the national notification committee, it was stated that William Cooper Proctor of Cincinnati, General Leonard Wood's pre-convention manager, took an active part. Plans for conducting the Ohio campaign and especially the matter of finance were considered.

ALASKA TO PROVIDE COAL
GOVERNMENT ORDERS REVIVAL OF MINING OPERATIONS.

Secretaries Daniels and Payne on Return Form North Announce Extension Plans.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 22.—Immediate extension of mining operation in government coal fields of Alaska has been ordered today by Secretary of the Interior Payne, who returned to Seattle on a trip through Yellowstone national park, before returning to Washington, D. C.

Mr. Daniels and Mr. Payne will be guests at a number of affairs in their honor and at midnight will leave for Yakima, Wash., for an inspection of irrigation projects in that vicinity. Later they will proceed to Helena, Mont., and will be guests of United States Senator Walsh on a trip through Yellowstone national park, before returning to Washington, D. C.

"There is $1,000,000 available through the navy bill for development of the Matanuska fields," he said. "I have directed that mining operations be pressed and suitable homes erected for the miners. We are now actually mining in the Chikilna fields and the interior department is taking out coal at Eskra for railroad and commercial use."

"The value of these deposits may be realized by remembering that the coal now used by the Pacific fleet is mined in the east and shipped to the Pacific through the Panama canal."

In addition to the government coal stations at Seward and Anchorage, a station may be constructed in the Aleutian islands for the use of commercial vessels, Mr. Payne said.

In speaking of development of the territory, Mr. Payne said: "In Alaska too many things are reserved. One almost thinks of 'verboten' in Germany. Conservation in the states is most desirable, but what Alaska needs is more men and women, and less government regulation."

LOST WILL FOUND HERE

The will was said to have been discovered in an office in Portland.

ARE WE SOON TO BECOME A RACE OF BALD-HEADED MEN?

PROF. JOHN H. AUSTIN
Bacteriologist, Hair and Scalp Specialist of Chicago, Who Now Has Offices at The Owl Drug Co., Talks Most Interestingly About the Hair.

He says baldness is increasing rapidly among men and points out some of the reasons. Prof. Austin is probably right in saying that only about one man in every hundred ever thinks about his hair at all, except to comb it two or three times a day. If it falls out he looks anxiously at the falling hair and then promptly forgets it until the next time he uses a comb.

A man will give the utmost attention to his teeth, because he knows that when trouble arises he will have more trouble and probably lose his teeth if he doesn't go to a dentist promptly. But his hair doesn't ache, it just gradually dies, and when it is nearly gone and the roots are dead he anxiously tries a dozen different remedies at once and then resigns himself to baldness.

Prof. Austin says the use of dandruff cures, massage cures and hair tonics is like taking medicine without knowing what you are trying to cure. The particular trouble with which your scalp is afflicted must be known before it can be intelligently treated.

Prof. Austin examines the roots of your hair with a powerful microscope. He finds out just what is the trouble with YOUR HAIR, and then he tells you what to do for the trouble.

FREE MICROSCOPIC EXAMINATION of the hair and scalp—both men and women invited. Private Offices at The Owl Drug Co., Broadway and Washington. Hours, 10 to 12 and 2 to 4—Adv.

MRS. M. E. SMITH, prominent of Tampa, Florida, woman, who says, thanks to Tanlac, she is now able to walk around without the help of a cane after eight long years of suffering.

"I am so glad my health is being restored after suffering for over eight years with indigestion and rheumatism that I feel like telling everybody about Tanlac." was the enthusiastic statement made recently by Mrs. M. E. Smith, one of the best-known and most highly respected women of Tampa, Fla., residing at 306 Morgan St. "The rheumatism from which I had suffered for years even before I had stomach trouble, pained me worse than ever, and until recently I was not only unable to walk without the use of a cane, but I was so weak at times I could hardly get out of bed. I tried many medicines, but nothing helped me and I almost despaired of ever getting any better. When Tanlac came along and in just a few days after I began taking this grand medicine my appetite began to improve and in only a short time I was able to enjoy my meals and everything seemed to agree with me perfectly.

"My rheumatism is so much better and I have so much more strength, I am now able to walk all about the house and up and down the stairs without my cane. Friends who have become so accustomed to seeing me walk with my cane are astonished when they see me now walking around without it.

"I will always praise Tanlac for what it has done for me."

Tanlac is sold in Portland by The Owl Drug Co.—Adv.
