BUSINESS MAN HELD FOR TRIAL

John Matschner was held to the federal grand jury yesterday on a charge of violating the national prohibition law. Mr. Matschner, who has been a business man and resident of Portland for more than 30 years, waived his hearing before a United States commissioner. Officials claim they found quantities of beer and liquor in his home and Matschner declares the beverages were for personal use.

PROPERTY OWNERS FILE PROTEST

A protest signed by 34 property holders has been filed with Commissioner Barbur against the building of an auditorium in connection with a private house by a faith healer, T. M. Minard, on Burrell Heights, East Twenty-fifth and Adams streets. The owners state that they purchased their homes as high-class residential property, that this action would endanger the health of the community as well as people with all sorts of diseases would be attracted to the healer for the treatment. The matter will come before the council Wednesday.

JURY ALLOWED IN ADMIRALTY CASE

Use of jurors in admiralty cases is exceptional, but a jury has been allowed in the case of Edward C. Williams, against the Pacific Steamship company, the emergency fleet corporation and shipping board. Williams was injured on a vessel on which he was working, the accident being at Yamhill, Wash. As a rule, admiralty cases are decided by a judge, but because of a point raised by the attorneys for Williams, he has been allowed a jury. Williams claims $10,000 damages and brought his suit under the common law remedy, instead of libeling the ship.

SUGAR REPORTED STOLEN

Thieves some time Thursday morning stole five sacks of sugar from the basement of the Kennard & Adams store, Williams avenue and Russell street, according to a report made yesterday to police detective headquarters. Police were unable to learn how entrance to the basement had been gained. The manager of the store told the police that four weeks ago thieves had made away with four sacks of sugar in the same mysterious manner.

SUGAR IS MORE PLentiful

There is no prospect of a revival of the war-time regulations restricting the use of sugar, declares Lester W. Humphreys, United States attorney. Mr. Humphreys says that sugar is becoming more plentiful and a lowering in price so he sees no reason for a revival of war restrictions. Some officials in the war-time sugar administration started the rumor by declaring that the way to meet the acute sugar shortage would be to resort to the war-time regulations.

FRUIT TREES THREATENED

Recent inspections of orchards in Multnomah county have shown indications of threatened destruction of foliage on fruit trees by the fall web worm. In most instances the growers have not yet noticed the damage, the web being very small. Owners of trees should examine carefully and destroy all webs at once by burning, this being the best means of control, according to a statement issued by the county horticultural inspector.

FIRE CHIEF TO RETIRE

B. F. DOWELL RESIGNS AFTER 22 YEARS' SERVICE.

John E. Young, Battalion Chief, Appointed to Fill Vacancy Pending Examination.

Benjamin Frank Dowell, chief engineer, who has been continuously in the service of the fire bureau for 22 years, retired yesterday as head of the fire department. John E. Young, battalion chief, was appointed acting chief engineer by Commissioner Hig-

low. Chief Young took up his new duties last evening at 8 o'clock.

Chief Dowell's resignation was accepted yesterday and he was placed on the pension list by the firemen's meeting. Chief Dowell asked that his retirement be effective August 1.

Dowell said yesterday that he did not know exactly what he would do. He said he had a definite business in mind several months ago, but that just now he was undecided.

Commissioner Bigelow offered the position of acting chief engineer first to the senior man of the department, M. Laudenkos, assistant chief engineer, who declined the office on account of ill health.

Civil service examinations for chief engineer will be held, probably next month. The civil service board will meet on Monday, July 26, at 10 o'clock, August 12. After the examinations have been completed the permanent chief will be announced.

PERMIT TO BE DENIED

Council Disfavors Application to Build Undertaking Parlors.

Members of the city council have viewed the neighborhood of Tenth and Columbia streets and have decided to deny the application of Edw. and W. J. Holman to erect an undertaking parlor on the southwest corner of these two streets. The council members were unanimous in the opinion that the district is a residential one and that the property holders have the right to protest against such a business being established there.

Dr. Parrish explained that he has taken the matter up with Dr. Roberg, state health officer, and that he has done all he could to check it. "The state health board allows him little or no money to conduct his affairs, which handicaps him greatly," says Dr. Parrish.

LAYING "HENS" ROOSTERS

Man Charges He Was Deceived by Handsome Chickens.

"He guaranteed that in three months they would be laying eggs," said the man who yesterday laid out three handsome White Wyandotte chickens parading the attorney's table in the court of District Judge Jones yesterday.

"I want to know how these birds could ever lay," he pursued. "It would indeed be a remarkable feat," conceded Judge Jones, for expert testimony in the case had been that the fine "hens" were roosters. "It seems you have been deceived. I'd advise you to take them back and demand your money and the cost of their feed while their sex has been developing under your observation."

FORECLOSURE SUIT IS BIG

Judgment of $1,139,860.20 Sought by Oregon Real Estate Company.

A judgment of $1,139,860.20, with interest at 5 per cent from January 11, 1918; $25,000 attorneys' fees, taxes and costs of the suit, is demanded in the largest foreclosure action ever brought in the local circuit court, filed with County Clerk Beverage yesterday.

In the suit of the Oregon Real Estate company against the Anglo-Pacific Realty company, a note given from July 11, 1912, forward. The property mortgaged to secure these notes, sale of which is demanded to meet the judgment, includes tracts in Holladay's addition, Wheeler's addition and Helges' addition, in East Portland, and 80.74 acres in Washington county.

The action is brought by Attorney John A. Leing of Portland and Kerr & McCord of Seattle.
