

PREPARATIONS BEGUN FOR LIVESTOCK SHOW

General Manager Plummer and Staff at Work.

BIGGER EXHIBITS ASSURED

Premium Money for the Different Classes of Aberdeen-Angus Cattle Totals $5000.

O. M. Plummer, general manager of the Pacific International Livestock exposition, and his staff at 421 North-western bank building are now busily engaged in making arrangements for the 1920 stock show, which will be given in the new exposition building at North Portland November 14-20, inclusively.

All indications, according to Mr. Plummer, are for a stock show that will even surpass the record-breaking event of last year. Additional barns have been built to accommodate the increased number of pure-bred entries in all classes, and plans are being completed for a big machinery hall in which the extensive exhibits of farm machinery and allied industries will be housed.

Professor Brandt at Work. P. M. Brandt, professor of dairy husbandry at Oregon Agricultural college, will have charge of the big dairy division of the 1920 stock show.

Karl B. Musser, of Washington State college, at Yakima, Wash., will have charge of the Western Dairy show last year, will again direct this big division, and will arrive in Portland October 1 to take up work on the ground.

O. M. Nelson of Oregon Agricultural college, will have charge of the stock division, which will be much larger than last year. J. H. Longwell of Oregon Agricultural college, will have charge of the hog division.

Aberdeen-Angus Premiums $5000. A section of the Pacific International livestock exposition which will show a notable increase in size and importance this year over last will be the Aberdeen-Angus department.
