

ARGUMENTS TO END TODAY ON PICKETING

Judge May Take Movie Case Under Adjudication.

POINTS IN LAW DISCUSSED

Attorneys on Both Sides Confine Themselves Largely to Similar Cases in Other States.

The arguments being presented in the hearing of the Peoples Amusement company for a permanent injunction to restrain the unions from picketing its theaters will be concluded today at noon, according to order of Circuit Judge Tucker, presiding judge in the case. Attorneys on both sides think that Judge Tucker will probably take the case under advisement.

Trouble Not in Portland.

John F. Logan, one of the attorneys for the moving picture house owners, emphasized the fact that there was no dispute between the employers and the employees in Portland, but that the trouble arose in Tacoma.

The opposition advances the ridiculous proposition that the union does not have to give a reason for striking; that the union does not have to give a reason for picketing," he said. "They can do, then, as they see fit, on the side of a labor union would dare do."

Mr. Logan said that the pickets chosen were women and that their purpose was intimidation. He characterized the whole action as illegal, un-American and wrong.

Utter Explains Strikes.

W. S. Utter, one of the attorneys for the moving picture union local, stated that this was not a case of a sympathetic strike. He explained the length of the difference between a sympathetic and non-sympathetic strike, giving it as his belief that a sympathetic strike was one in which union members outside of the trade directly involved entered the strike.

"No one claims that there is any real strike in any of these theaters," said Dan J. Maloney, one of the attorneys for the houses. "The only cause for these theaters in Portland being boycotted is that over in the state of Washington some controversy has arisen between employees other than the employees mentioned in the case and employers who do not employ the employees mentioned in this case."

The court will open tomorrow's hearing at 9 A. M.

LAND TITLE IS IN DOUBT

Application for Purchase on Larson Inlet Raises Question.

MARSHFIELD, Or., July 30.—(Special.)—An interesting case is being investigated on Larson inlet, wherein the title to some rich bottom land is placed in question by the application of Archie Philip, former county commissioner, to purchase the property from the state.

The land is now occupied by Julius Larson who dyked the land and claims ownership.

To definitely decide the status of the land the state board has sent surveyors and investigators here to examine into the matter and to report the findings. The question at issue is whether the property is tide-lands, and if so, whether it is subject to sale by the state land board.

DOCTOR CALLS BY PLANE

New Method of Travel to Patients Introduced at Marshfield.

MARSHFIELD, Or., July 30.—(Special.)—Dr. E. Minguet, of this city, introduced a new method of travel in this locality in visiting patients when he engaged Brigant Brigant and his airplane to convey him to Bandon for a consultation.

Dr. Minguet received the call when he could not leave for more than a short time. Bandon is 22 miles from Marshfield by the shortest automobile route and the trip would have consumed at least six hours by that method of travel. By going by airplane he was in Bandon in 22 minutes. The consultation occupied half an hour and he returned to Marshfield in 24 minutes, being away less than two hours.

RELICS TO FEATURE FAIR

Booth at Eugene to Be Devoted to Mementos of Pioneer Days.

EUGENE, Or., July 30.—(Special.)—Relics of early days in Lane county and Oregon will be a feature of the exhibits at the county fair here in September, according to the arrangement of W. C. Yoran, secretary of the fair association. It is proposed to devote a large booth to this department, and pioneers and others who have such relics are asked to lend them to the association for the occasion.

R. A. Babb, local hardware dealer, who has often had displays of relics in his show windows, has been placed in charge of collecting the exhibit.

PLANT MAY BE REBUILT

Also Wood Products Company Considering Albany Plans.

ALBANY, Or., July 30.—(Special.)—Though definite plans have not been made, it is probable that the plant of the Alco Wood Products company, which was entirely destroyed by fire Wednesday evening, will be re-established. It is reported the building may not be built on the old site, but a new structure erected at some other location.

This company had developed a large business here in the manufacture of alios, other wooden articles of various kinds and a general planing mill business.

BOY, GIVEN UP, SURVIVES

Cottage Grove Youth Weathers Attack of Pneumonia.

COTTAGE GROVE, Or., July 30.—(Special.)—Walter Gardner Jr., recently with the American forces in Siberia, is home from Letterman hospital, San Francisco, and is the only one to survive the number who went into the hospital with him suffering with influenza and pneumonia. His sickness was nearly fatal and the screen which indicated that the case had been given up was put around his bed. He ordered it taken away and proceeded to get well.

He is making an extended visit at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Ostrander Sr.

COOS FISHERMEN QUIT

Gillnetters Say Five Cents Not Enough to Maintain Equipment.

MARSHFIELD, Or., July 30.—(Special.)—Fisherment in general have discontinued gillnetting on Coos bay owing to the lowering of prices offered for chinook, which is the seasonable catch at this time of the year. The fishermen were being offered 5 cents a pound when they quit. Those who complained of the price and took up other work declared that they could not afford to maintain their equipment at the price offered for their catches.

The price is 2 cents lower than is being paid on the Umpqua river, where most of the fishermen also laid off.

WAGE AWARD PLEAS

Some Classes of Employees Think Increase Should Have Been More.

ASHLAND, Or., July 30.—(Special.)—No radical comment is heard in the local railroad yards concerning the wage award recently made the railroad workers. However there is a feeling among the fraternity here that some classes of employees, notably switchmen and bridge workers, should have received greater increases.

One well-known locomotive engineer states: "The switchmen, bridge workers and one or two other classes of railroad employees never have received compensation in true proportion to that received in other lines of railroad work."

TOM HOWARD IS KILLED

Former Eugene Man Victim of Accident in Texas Oil Fields.

EUGENE, Or., July 30.—(Special.)—Tom Howard, a former Eugene boy, was killed in the oil fields of Wichita, Tex., July 15, according to word received by friends here. Some of the machinery broke, throwing him to feet breaking both legs and arms and injuring him internally. He lived only an hour after the accident.

Mr. Howard and his mother returned to Texas eight years ago after having lived here for a number of years.

Two Men to Face Larceny Charge.

VANCOUVER, Wash., July 30.—(Special.)—Frank Keller and Frank Anderson, brought here from Chico, Cal., by Sheriff Johnson and Deputy F. Wiley on a charge of having stolen a machine at Camas July 3, were arraigned today before Cedric Miller, a justice of the peace.

The car was stolen from Ed Leaver and not being able to furnish bail of $2500 each were remanded to jail until after the return of Judge Fisher and so badly damaged he was compelled to purchase a new one.

Coquille Ranch Brings $35,000.

MARSHFIELD, Or., July 30.—(Special.)—Seventy-one acres of land by-adjacent to the city of Coquille was sold by its owner, Mr. Kistner, to E. N. Smith, for a consideration of $35,000.

This ranch is practically all bottom land with the exception of a few acres. The price is probably the highest for which any Coos county farm of like area has brought. The ranch is mostly devoted to dairying.

Provder Fastidious One.

SALEM, Or., July 30.—(Special.)—The provder who robbed the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Pollock here last night apparently is a fastidious one. He displayed unusual taste for finery, appropriating several pairs of Mr. Pollock's silk socks and other articles of considerable value.

CHANGE IN GARBAGE DISPOSAL PROPOSED

Better System Here Held Imperative Need.

BIDS WILL BE SOLICITED

Firms and Individuals to Be Asked to Make Proposals, Voters Then to Decide Matter.

Municipal collection of garbage, or at least a complete change from the present method of garbage disposal in this city, seems inevitable. The city council yesterday authorized a call for bids for the privilege of either collecting or disposing of Portland garbage. With such bids before the council by September 10 it is hoped that some proposal may be submitted to the voters at the November election.

City Commissioner Bigelow has investigated various proposals made by reduction plants and garbage collection agencies and he said yesterday he was satisfied that some plans suggested would be more satisfactory to the city, both from a financial and a health viewpoint, than the system now in operation.

It is the plan of Commissioner Bigelow, approved by the council, to obtain bids from firms and individuals prepared to tackle the Portland garbage problem. Bids will be called for through advertisements intended to reach all persons interested in the subject.

Los Angeles Plan Favored.

Such bids must be submitted to the council by September 10, after which time the council will make a careful investigation of the various proposals and select the most suitable for submission to the voters.

The Los Angeles plan is looked upon with considerable favor. There a contract is in effect with a reduction company which pays the city for the garbage delivered to the plant. This, it is said, not only pays all the cost of garbage collection but yields a neat profit for the city.

Under the present system of garbage collection in Portland it is estimated that not more than one-third of all the garbage is collected and destroyed at the incinerator. The collection is in the hands of private collectors who charge a monthly fee for their service.

Charge Held Disadvantageous.

This charge results in many people in the city refusing to utilize the present system. Garbage disposal by individuals, in many cases, is said to be a menace to public health.

At least one firm operating throughout the United States are expected to bid for the privilege of collecting garbage in Portland or paying for the garbage the city will collect in the event the voters endorse the plan.

THE reception for Miss Grace Mitchell which was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. William F. Flebig, aided by the Unitarian Woman's alliance, Wednesday afternoon was largely attended by Portland's representative women. Miss Mitchell, who is touring this country, was sent from England as a delegate to the annual meeting of the National Unitarian Woman's alliance, which was held in Boston last May, as a representative of the "membership league of Unitarian and other liberal Christian women" of England.

The Fiebig home was a bower of beautiful flowers; on the porch were large boxes of growing flowers. The hall, where stood Miss Edwards, showed a profusion of Gaillardias.

In the living room, among other decorations, were clusters of giant dahlias, which were being with Miss Mitchell and Mrs. Flebig were Mrs. J. S. Young, president of the Portland alliance; Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. R. Wentworth, vice-presidents; Mrs. O. Summers, treasurer; Mrs. L. A. Walker, secretary; Mrs. J. W. Fatcherd, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. William G. Elliot.

The dining room was a bower of beauty in kind and color. The purple and cerise petunias, artistically veiled in gypsophilla, made a most attractive center piece for the table with its silver and china, where Mrs. Lee Hoffmann and Mrs. L. W. Sutton poured and served iced coffee, assisted by Miss Ferguson, Miss Cora De Lin, Miss Corliss, Misses Cora and Ruth Elliot, Miss Ethel Wentworth, Miss Hawley, Mrs. A. C. Forester and Mrs. Marsh Boothby.

Arriving in Portland last Tuesday Miss Mitchell has been busy meeting and speaking to the people here, not only at the reception Wednesday, but at the Unitarian church, Thursday. She left yesterday for California, and expects to return to England in the autumn.

Mrs. Henry Hart (Emma Hackney) of Bol and M. J. Berry (Annetta Hackney) of Plainview, Tex., were entertained yesterday with a motor and luncheon at the Jack o'Lantern with Mrs. Benjamin Fenner as hostess.

Henry Berger Jr. left yesterday for Seaview for a visit of two weeks with his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Mattern are occupying the Sealy cottage at Long Beach this summer.

Mrs. J. C. English entertained yesterday afternoon at an informal tea at her home in Brice avenue. A coterie of friends shared the pleasure of Mrs. English's hospitality.

Mrs. Charles A. Brodie had a few friends in to tea yesterday in compliment to her mother and sister, Mrs. L. W. Smith and Miss Marjorie Smith who will leave next week for Kennebunk, Ind. Several other social affairs have been given recently for Mrs. Smith and her daughter, Miss Marjorie. On Tuesday of next week Mrs. J. F. Mathews will give a luncheon for them at her home on East Fourteenth street.

VANCOUVER, Wash., July 30.—

(Special.)—L. R. Cusick of Vancouver, and Miss Eunice Canfield of Portland, were married here today by Rev. C. C. Curtis of the First Christian church. They left later for a ten-day honeymoon trip to Joseph, Or., and upon their return will make their home in the city.

After a short honeymoon they returned to Pullman, Wash., where Mr. Klossner is in business, and at which place Mr. and Mrs. Klossner have a new bungalow, recently acquired in anticipation of the happy event.

HOOD RIVER, Or., July 30.—(Special.)—One of the season's pleasantest entertainments was given last night at the Lotus Grille, with the post of the American Legion as hosts. About 200 participated in an evening of dancing and witnessing a cabaret performance given by a company of Hawaiians from Portland. Proceeds were appropriated to the legion building fund.

BAKER, Or., July 30.—(Special.)—Word has been received in Baker of the marriage of Miss Bessie Irene Trent and John Charles Rupp. The bride has been one of the nurses at St. Luke's hospital, and the bridegroom is a representative of the Idaho Candy company. The newlyweds will take up their residence in Baker following a short honeymoon.

BAKER, Or., July 30.—(Special.)—Miss Gussie Nelson and Charles R. Johnson, well-known young couple of Baker, were married Wednesday afternoon in the office of Justice of the Peace George E. Allen. The bride will be next month and before the month's end is to be issued by County Clerk Tombs it was necessary to obtain permission of the girl's mother.

Several college girls were entertained last evening by Miss Henrietta Bettf, er, who presided at an alfresco supper at her home in Lovelock street.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bowman, accompanied by Miss Jane Allen and Miss Archibald, are in California, following an automobile tour of Oregon. They are en route to the Yosemite Valley and will return in mid-August.

Dr. and Mrs. H. R. Bryan and their little daughter, who came from La Crosse, Kan., to attend the wedding of Miss Elaine Bryan and Leon Bishop solemnized last Thursday, are leaving for California to continue a sightseeing trip.

Miss Dorothy Worcester will leave today for a fortnight's visit at Gearhart and Cannon Beach.

Leaska tonight at Seapoope is of musical and social interest. A number of Portlanders will motor there for the occasion. Miss Constance Piper will be the accompanist for the singer.

Women's Activities

MARSHFIELD, Or., July 30.—(Special.)—Miss Genevieve Thompson of Creswell, Or., has been engaged by the Coos county court as county school supervisor to assist the county superintendent. Miss Thompson is a graduate of the state normal at Monmouth.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., July 30.—(Special.)—Miss Betty Gram of Portland, one of the national organizers of the national woman's party, arrived in Tennessee today and will interview legislators at Nashville, preparatory to the coming suffrage battle in the legislature August 9. Although one of the youngest workers, she is a veteran campaigner in the national fight in New Jersey, in Maine and in West Virginia, where she kept the senate in session a week waiting the arrival of one vote from California.

Tennessee is rapidly filling with suffragists from everywhere. Today's arrivals include Miss Anita Pollitzer, national legislative secretary, making her headquarters here; Miss Fresh from interviewing both Governor Cox and Senator Harding, she says: "The acid test of republican-democratic sincerity in the proposition they give in the legislature. Suffragists all over the country are watching party records in this state."

HOOD RIVER, Or., July 30.—(Special.)—Miss Grace E. Smith, an Oregon Agricultural college graduate, has been chosen head of the home economics department of the Hood River high school. Miss Smith is expected here August 15, when she will begin work immediately with canning clubs, whose members will participate with demonstrations and exhibit at the annual school fair to be held the middle of September.
