

DAIRY LEAGUE URGES BOTH SIDES AGREE TO ABIDE BY BODY'S DECISION.

MAYOR DICTATES TERMS
Baker Says He Will Not Appoint Board of Inquiry Unless Reduction of Cost Is Result.

The question of the city's future course in the milk situation has not yet been determined. In all probability Mayor Baker will decide to appoint a milk commission to investigate all phases of the milk business, but before making such an announcement the mayor is making a careful study of the situation.

Yesterday Mayor Baker received a letter from Alma D. Katz, president of the Oregon Dairywomen's Co-operative league, urging the appointment of a milk commission to determine the price for milk consumers and the possible means of simplifying the milk distribution system of the city of Portland.

Both sides accept decision. The Portland Dairy Milk Company, has given its verbal consent to agree to the decision of the league. Officials will do likewise. Mr. Katz in his letter yesterday offers to abide by the commission's decision, with a proviso that the dealers do likewise.

Before Mayor Baker consents to the appointment of a milk commission he will demand the written acceptance of certain terms from both the producers and the distributors. As to the scope of the inquiry to be made by the commission, Mayor Baker will reserve the right to dictate such terms, although he believes that he has welcomed all suggestions from both sides.

Baker Wants Price Cut. Mayor Baker said yesterday that the milk situation was a serious one, that he was viewing it strictly from the point of the ultimate consumer and that he would not have any commission unless such body would promise to work out some suggestions that would tend to reduce costs of production. He said that he would thus bring about a reduced cost of milk to the consumer.

"Man and woman who served on commissions in the past did splendid work," said Mayor Baker yesterday. "But in each case the necessity of making a hasty inquiry with insufficient funds made the investigation necessarily superficial. In each case increases of the price of milk followed. It is probable that the conditions at the time of the report justified such increases."

Marm is series of Misses. "But in considering the appointment of a milk commission to unravel the present tangled affairs of the milk situation, I believe that special study should be made with a view of reducing costs. A constant series of increases in the price of milk will do far more harm to the dairy men than anything I can conceive."

Increased production at the very lowest cost and the cheapest distribution system that can be worked out will be the true solution of the milk situation.

REPUBLICANS OPEN VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN

SUCCESS OF EVERY MAN ON TICKET PURPOSE OF CLUB.
NOMINEE IS TELEGRAPHED
R. N. Stanfield Sends Congratulations to President Banks, Predicting Success.

The Harding and Coolidge Campaign club, which is obtaining a large membership, and expects to work incessantly for success of the republican ticket in Oregon, has as its object the election of every republican on the ballot, first, of course, the president and vice-president.

According to President W. W. Banks, an equally strong fight will be made for a republican United States senator and members of congress, to support and sustain the republican ticket in his program of legislation.

Following out this policy, the Harding and Coolidge club sent a message to the republican nominee for United States senator, Robert N. Stanfield, in which the club was congratulatory. Both telegrams follow and are self-explanatory:

Hon. Robert N. Stanfield, Weiser, Idaho: A Harding and Coolidge campaign club has just been organized and officers elected at a meeting of republicans at the Press club.

It is the object of the club to enlist at least 15,000 republicans, men and women, in Multnomah county, a large number of whom have already signed their names to the membership rolls, to make an active fight for the ticket from president to coroner, and to see to it in particular that no democrat is sent to either branch of congress from the banner republican state of Oregon.

WILLIAM W. BANKS, President, GEORGE P. FISHER, Secretary, Harding and Coolidge Campaign Club, Keon building, Portland, Ore.

In organizing this club, the organization of the first Harding-Coolidge club in Oregon, I was struck by your membership rolls, to make a republican name and house to support Senator Stanfield, who is a republican of the highest order. The republican control of the United States senate must be retained, otherwise the Harding and Coolidge ticket will be unable to carry out republican policies.

Since the election of the Harding ticket for nomination in North Dakota, the republican majority in the senate was practically wiped out in local business circles, must make a determined effort in every corner to elect a republican senate in order to insure a republican senate.

Oregon may earn the distinction at November election of electing a republican to cast the deciding vote in the United States senate, with the aid of a republican control and republican support for the president.

R. N. STANFIELD.

ALBANY RECTOR FETED

REV. FATHER ARTHUR LANE ORDAINED 25 YEARS.
Mass and Social Held in Honor of Event—Julie Celebration to Be September 6.

ALBANY, Or., Aug. 5.—(Special)—Rev. Father Arthur Lane, rector of the local parish of the Roman Catholic church, today observed the 25th anniversary of his ordination. Mass was celebrated this morning in honor of the event, and this evening there was a social on the lawn of St. Mary's academy.

The silver jubilee celebration, however, has been postponed until September 6, when it will be conducted with the ceremonies incident to Father Lane's investiture of the rank of archbishop. Shortly before that time the title of monsignor, recently conferred upon him by Pope Benedict, Archbishop Christie of Portland and clergy from all sections of the state will be here at that time to participate in that ceremony.

Father Lane was ordained to the priesthood at St. Mary's cathedral in Portland August 5, 1895, by the late Archbishop William Gross. Shortly before that date he had been graduated from Grand Seminary at Montreal after 12 years' study.

All of the 25 years of his service here at St. Mary's he has spent in Oregon. For the last 15 years he has been rector of St. Mary's church. Since Father Lane's service here established here a new rectory building and a big addition to St. Mary's academy construction. Missions have been established at Seaside, Mill City, Jefferson, Brownsville, Shelburn and Lyons. It was during the 25 years of his service here in the establishment of missions that Father Lane received the honor of monsignor, a rank conferred upon less than 25 persons in the United States.

DOMESTIC FIGHT SHIFTED

Case of Harrisburg Couple Now in Circuit Court at Albany.

ALBANY, Or., Aug. 5.—(Special)—The battle between Nathan L. Gant and his wife, Laura J. Gant, has been shifted from their home in Harrisburg to the circuit court here. Mrs. Gant yesterday filed an answer in this divorce case instituted recently by the husband and with it a cross-complaint in which she asks for the divorce, the custody of the two children and $50 a month for the support of herself and the children.

Mrs. Gant also asked for money for her support pending the trial of the divorce suit and the expenses of the case, and Judge Kelly issued an order yesterday for Gant to show cause why $200 suit money should not be paid.

In his complaint Gant alleged that while he was in a hospital in Portland recovering from an operation his wife was guilty of improper conduct. She denies this and asserts her husband has an un governable temper and is abusive.

DIVORCEE SHOOTS SELF

SERBIAN GIRL, IN NOTE, SAYS HUSBAND "FRAMED" SUIT.

Malan Bolch, Named as Co-Respondent, Said to Be in Portland Jail on Mann Act Charge.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 5.—(Special)—Mrs. Shaffer, a pretty Serbian divorcee, shot herself at 6 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at her home in 733 Lane street, inflicting a wound in her right wrist which may prove fatal. Reasons advanced for the attempted suicide are conflicting.

Before firing the shot Mrs. Shaffer wrote a note in which she blamed her former husband, Nicholas Shaffer, 735 Lane street, for her actions, saying he had "framed" her to secure the divorce that was granted him in superior court here just a week before.

The husband, on the other hand, told the police that she had been driven to insanity by Malan Bolch, who was named as co-respondent in the divorce suit, and who, he claimed, is now in jail in Portland awaiting action by the federal grand jury on a charge of violating the Mann white slave act.

The note written by Mrs. Shaffer, which was found by the police when they entered her room, had evidently been poured on a Luray and was ungrammatical and hysterical in places. It said: "The cause of my death is caused by my husband and his folks. They are not charged with evil conduct, but conceded virtues taught the world over. If Americans will meet us in a spirit of fair play, we will make the best of citizens."

RAIL RISE AIDS ASHLAND

Division Point Town Expects Pay of Workers to Offset Increase.

ASHLAND, Or., Aug. 5.—(Special)—Ashland, in common with many other towns in the federal grand jurisdiction throughout the country, where the railroad payroll contributes to the prosperity of the community, feels that it is coming out "on top of the heap" in the railroad wage and rate increase turmoil.

For, while Ashland will have to pay higher prices, if higher prices result, the increase turned loose in the city on payday twice a month will more than make up for slight increases in prices of commodities caused by higher freight rates as far as the average prosperity of the average citizen is concerned.
