FEDERAL CASES INCREASE

PROHIBITION BRINGS RISE IN CRIME, SAYS ATTORNEY.

Bootleggers and Moonshiners Pay Fines Totalling $20,456.57 During June.

Bootleggers and moonshiners during the past year have paid a heavy toll in fines in federal court because of their activities with the copper still and heavy suitcases. Figures made public Wednesday by United States Attorney Humphreys show that the total amount received in fines from violators of the federal prohibition act and the internal revenue act reaches the sum of $20,456.57, for the year ending June 30, last. The payment of these fines is in addition to scores of jail sentences which were imposed on those who engaged in the illicit manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor.

"The coming of national prohibition has brought with it an alarming increase in the number of criminal cases in the federal court," said Mr. Humphreys. And in support of this statement he cited records which show that the greatest number of criminal cases in the history of the Oregon district was recorded in June of this year, when 99 indictments were returned, 64 of which were for violations of the prohibition laws of the nation. During the war the greatest number of criminal cases in any one month were handed in November, 1918, when 60 were placed on the federal court docket. The total amount received in fines during the year ending June 30 was $41,235.92. The biggest month of the year was last May, when $8900 was received in fines. Moonshiners and bootleggers paid the heaviest tribute

Fine for Skin Exposed to Sun or Flying Dirt

These days the face needs special care and attention. Flying dust and dirt, the heating sun, are severe on any skin. Their despoiling effects are best overcome by the application of pure mercolized wax. This keeps skin and pores in a cleanly condition, the complexion beautifully white and spotless. Reddened, tanned, freckled or roughened cuticle is actually absorbed by it. One ounce of mercolized wax, obtainable at any drug store, is sufficient to completely renovate a soiled complexion. It is used like cold cream, allowed to remain on over night, and washed off in the morning. Fine lines and even the deeper wrinkles often appear at this season. In such cases nothing is better than a face bath made by dissolving an ounce of pure powdered salolite in a half pint which basal. This is remarkably effective.—ADV.
