Military and Naval Aid at Once Is Decision.

CRISIS SECOND TO 1914

Britain and France Convinced Soviet Intends to Set Up Government in Warsaw.

REDS DENY TEN-DAY TRUCE

Blockade of Russia Will Be Resumed; French Want to Seize Ruhr District.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—Great Britain and France are convinced that the bolsheviks intend to capture Warsaw and set up a soviet government in Poland.

In British and French circles it is admitted that the situation has brought a crisis only second in gravity to that of 1914.

This was learned from an official source tonight, following announcement at the conference on Poland between Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain and Millerand of France, held today, that the conference would continue tomorrow, when the premiers will pass on naval, military and economic plans to save Poland.

The plans are being drawn up tonight by Marshal Foch and Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, chief of the British imperial staff.

10-Day Truce Refused.

These developments followed official announcement that the soviet had refused a ten days' truce requested by Mr. Lloyd George in Friday's meeting with the Russian mission headed by MM. Kamenoff and Krassin.

While there has been no talk of officially declaring war on Russia, the allies have decided to give Poland military, naval and economic assistance at once.

The premiers received two notes from Moscow today. Tonight they sent another to the soviet and advised Poland to seek a truce direct from the bolsheviks, who indicated if the request came from the Poles it might have a better chance. One of the bolshevik notes said a meeting of the Poles and Russians had been called for Minsk Wednesday and that the bolsheviks preferred to make their own arrangements with the Poles.

Blockade Is Imminent.

It was reliably reported that the blockade of Russia would be reimposed immediately.

Mr. Lloyd George has deferred his statement in the house of commons until Tuesday.

France is urging establishment of a defensive line in Poland either before Warsaw or immediately behind it. Mr. Millerand also proposed that the French and British troops in the plebesite areas be used chiefly for moral support and that Roumania and Czechoslovakia also be asked to send troops.

Following the conference, M. Millerand presented for approval of the British delegates a declaration warning Germany that if an attempt is made to co-operate with the bolshevik allies will occupy the Ruhr and other points in Germany.

Lloyd George Holds Out.
Mr. Lloyd George has not yet indicated his approval, but French circles believe he will agree to it.

It was learned tonight that at the meeting in London Friday between the bolshevik representatives and Mr. Lloyd George, MM. Krassin and Kamenoff apparently thought they could induce Moscow to accept a truce. Refusal of the soviet is taken here as meaning Kamenoff and Krassin have but minor influence with Premier Lenin and War Minister Trotsky.

Mr. Lloyd George offered every guarantee that the truce would not be used to reinforce the Poles position. He agreed to have bolshevik officers behind the Polish lines to see that the terms were enforced. He answered all Russian objections

MOB IN UNIFORMS BATTLES WITH POLICE

CLASH IS PRECIPITATED BY ARREST OF SAILOR.

Gols, Marines and Soldiers at Revere Beach, Mass., Cause
Riot; Five Badly Hurt.

REVERE, Mass., Aug. 8.—Five sailors were severely wounded in a riot in a battle at Revere beach tonight between Metropolitan Park police, harricaded in the police station, and several hundred attacking sailors, marines and soldiers.

The battle, precipitated by the attempt of a police officer to arrest a sailor on a charge of drunkenness, raged two hours and was quelled only when troops, sailors and police from adjoining cities aided the beleaguered Metropolitan officers.

At midnight troops with fixed bayonets were patrolling the beach, which had been swept clear of its Sunday night crowd, and the situation was said to be under control.

While thousands looked on, the sailors and marines, joined by a few soldiers and numbering more than 400, took the prisoner from the officer and then gave battle to other members of the force. Some seized rifles from shooting galleries and opened fire on the police station. The police returned the fire. Several patrolmen were injured, none seriously. Excitement among the onlookers was intense, especially when the officers fired over their heads. In an effort to frighten away the attackers, women and girls screamed and some of them fainted in the crush.

Later the police arrested three sailors on charges of inciting to riot, and J. B. Wilkes of the United States ship Delaware on a charge of drunkenness, it being claimed he was the one whom the police had attempted to arrest.

About 75 other sailors were held pending investigation.

ARMISTICE STAGE SET

Soviet Notifies Britain Arrange- ments Made for Meeting at Minsk on August 11.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—The outer forts of Warsaw have been under bombardment since Friday, said a wireless dispatch from Berlin.

Poles were returning the bolshevik fire.

If it is decided to re-impose the blockade on Russia the blockade can be made effective in a few hours, as far as the British navy is concerned.

Light cruisers and other light craft are in the Baltic ready to begin intensive patrols, while units in the Black sea are more than enough effectively to blockade all ports.

WARSAW, Aug. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—Przansysz, a city about 41 miles directly north of Warsaw, has been captured by the bolshevik cavalry, which is sweeping in broad lines westward along the Prussian frontier, according to an official statement tonight.

Smaller detachments were approaching Milawa, about 3 miles further west, and some have been reported near Cieszanow, still nearer this city. This was one of the most rapid strides the soviet forces had made since they crossed the Orzez river in their push designed to cut the Warsaw-Danzig railroad.

Ostrolenka, northeast of Warsaw, has been captured by the bolsheviks after two days of fighting. The bolsheviks were then 70 kilometers north of Warsaw.

Heaviest fighting since the bolshevik offensive began a month ago today was developed along the Bug, where both sides were throwing in all their forces. Towns and points of vantage change hands daily, but the (Continued on Page 2, Column 1.)

NEW YORK-OAKLAND MAIL FLIGHT ENDED

DELIVERY FIRST TRANSCONTI- NENTAL ONE ON RECORD.

Two All-Metal Monoplanes Blazing Trail for Postal Service Arrive in California.

OAKLAND, Cal., Aug. 8.—Two all-metal monoplanes that left New York July 29, to blaze a trail for the transcontinental air mail service, landed at Oakland flying field this afternoon.

J. M. Larsen, owner, and one of the pilots of plane No. 1, delivered to Postmaster Roseborough a package of mail from New York City, constituting, it was said, the first transcontinental air mail delivery on record.

Plane No. 1 was piloted by Bert Acosta, former army lieutenant, and Eddie Rickenbacker, former army captain and American "ace," and J. M. Larsen were passengers. Plane No. 2 contained Charles K. Holt and L. B. Lent, both former army officers.

The two planes left Reno, Nev., at 11:30 A. M. today and made the jump of 157 miles in three hours. Pilot Rickenbacker said they had fought a stiff wind crossing the high Sierras, but otherwise the flight was without incident.

The flyers were met at the landing by a crowd estimated at 10,000 persons and reception committees from San Francisco and Oakland and of aviation organizations of the San Francisco bay region.

Following the ceremonies, Pilot Acosta surrendered to the Oakland police, who held a warrant for his arrest issued on complaint of Miss Irah B. Dodge of Sacramento, who said Acosta had failed to keep a promise of marriage.

AURORA, Or., Aug. 8.—(Special.)—Philip Ott, 45, a farmer of Hubbard, Or., was killed almost instantly at 8:30 tonight when his light touring car crashed through the railing of the bridge over Pudding river, just outside of the city limits on the Pacific highway north, and fell a distance of about 40 feet. Just how the fatal accident happened is not known, as Ott was alone at the time and there were no witnesses. An automobile driven by B. F. Morden of Portland arrived at the bridge, going toward Portland, a few moments later. Members of the Morden party lifted Ott from beneath the machine. He died while members of the Morden party were giving first aid to him. Coroner Clough of Marion county could not be found so the body was brought here.

COX NOTIFICATION IS SHOWY AFFAIR

Parade of Bands and Clubs Is Miles Long.

NOMINEE MISSES NOTHING

Personal Greeting Seems to Be Given Everyone.

LEAGUE APPEAL IS MADE

Speaker Seems to Be Really Try- ing to Put Self Squarely in Wilson's Shoes.

BY MARK SULLIVAN.
(Copyright by New York Evening Post, Inc. Published by Arrangement.)

DAYTON, O., Aug. 8.—(Special.)—The Cox notification was much more of a show than the Harding occasion at Marion three weeks ago. The show part of it was more thoroughly organized, was very much bigger, got more attention from the audience and altogether was much better played up.

There were miles and miles of marching clubs and bands. It took fully two hours for the parade to file past the judge's stand on the race course where Cox and Roosevelt reviewed it. The songs, the uniforms of the marchers, the banners and the slogans on the standards were a show in themselves, apart from the speeches. There was abundant evidence of piquancy, both prepared and spontaneous.

Cox Sang Sung Many Times.
The Cox song, "Ohio, Ohio, We'll Elect Jimmie Cox or Know the Reason Why," was sung half a hundred times to the tune of "Oh, We'll Ramble, We'll Ramble." The singers and slogans had jokes and allusions.

The delegation from Senator Harding's home town, Marion, announced on the banners that "We're Here, Jimmy" and a delegation from Milwaukee carried a banner saying "The vote that made Milwaukee famous—ninety-nine and one half per cent Cox one half of one per cent Harding."

Of this kind of thing there was endless quantity and infinite variety. Cox did not miss a minute of the whole parade nor a single face of the paraders. He had the air in a wholly quiet and restrained way of giving a personal greeting to each marcher an unobtrusive greeting that did not quite seem far as a nod, but did seem to include the business of giving a penetrating and reassuring look into the face of each person who marched past him. It was a look that seemed to say to each person, "I want you to know that I appreciate this. I will see you again on election day and you can depend on me to remember you."

It was wholly subdued. There was in perfect taste and it was 100 per cent effective. Cox had ahead of him the most important speech of his career, but he was not distracted for a single moment from the important business, of making a good deal of interest on election day.

Your correspondent will watch the vote of the young men of the country with a good deal of interest on election day.

White Looks Like Rural Preacher.
The parade part of it ended and then the national chairman, George White, came forward with his countenance of lean earnestness, looking a little like a country clergyman of a generation ago. He had but a sentence or so to say and then a local figure, Mr. McMahon, introduced the Rev. Mr. Hale to lead in prayer.

You can take it completely for granted that the clergyman had been acquainted with the speech that was to come later. He knew what was to be the point of and burden of Cox's speech. His prayer was "that war may end" and he spoke of a "covenant keeping rod."

Then the vice-presidential candidate, Franklin Roosevelt, was introduced to the gathering. He merely bowed in a friendly way and gave the crowd enough time to get very enthusiastic about him. At length the notification proper came.

Robinson Begins With Humor.
Senator Robinson began with humor, not the most subtle humor nor the most effective in the world, but applauded for its friendliness nevertheless. He spoke of Dayton sending a message to Marion, and made a rather awkward play between Cox's army that once marched to Washing-

The White Star line has issued notice that the steamer is expected to dock here at 6 P. M. Monday.

No word has been received from the Archbishop, but the Dublin deputation, which arrived last night to confer the freedom of Dublin on him, expect him to come here.

Much suppressed excitement was noticeable today.

QUEENSTOWN, Ireland, Aug. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—It was presumed here that the steamer Baltic, on board which Archbishop Mannix of Australia sailed from New York, had passed Queenstown, as some torpedo boat destroyers which had been on patrol returned to port here.

3-YEAR-OLD GIRL MAIMED

Father Severs Feet With Mower While Cutting Hay.

EUGENE, Or., Aug. 8.—(Special.)—While cutting hay on his farm a few days ago Fred Lockwood, a rancher of the North Fork country in the western part of the county, cut off both feet of his 3-year-old daughter, who was playing in the tall oats. The little girl was not seen by her father until an instant before the sickle hit her.

Lockwood's two children had been playing about the barn, where he was getting the mower ready to cut hay. As he drove into the field he did not see them and thought they had gone to the woods. On the first round he suddenly came upon the little girl but was unable to stop the horses until too late.

A surgeon from Florence attended the child's injuries and she was taken to that place, where she is said to be recovering.

The troops aboard the Bonita were saved.

HARDING ASSAILS MR. COX'S SPEECH

Republican Stand on Tax Problems Defended.

$2,414,115,144 HELD SAVED

Blocking of Democratic Effort in Congress Lauded.

LEAGUE IS MADE ISSUE

Party's Attitude Is Declared Not in Opposition to Wishes of People of United States.

MARION, O., Aug. 8.—Assailing Governor Cox's speech of acceptance as a "curious mixture of errors and misstatements," Senator Harding's headquarters replied in a statement tonight to the governor's criticism of the record of the republican congress on taxation, finance and the league of nations.

"The republican party," it said, is ready to join battle on whether the senate attempted to subvert and did subvert the wish and purpose of the American people in preventing ratification of the president's league.

"Charges that congress had made an effort to reduce tax burden, as described as 'far from recorded facts,' and it was declared that by opposing democratic appropriation proposals congress had saved $2,414,115,144 in government expenditures.

Tax Proposal Criticized.
The statement also asserted that the bill suggested repeal of consumption taxes and enactment of a blanket one and one-half per cent levy on busi- ness of going concerns Governor Cox had shown "he has no program, ex- cept to appeal for the support of people who want somebody else to pay the taxes."

"Leadership which would distort these facts as Governor Cox has done," it continued, "will hardly com- mand confidence when the country turns attention to our fiscal future."

Another telegram urging republican co-operation in ratification of the suffrage by the republican legisla- ture was sent to Nashville today by Senator Harding. It was addressed to Harriet Taylor Upton, a suffrage leader, and said:

"You may say for me to republican members of the general assembly that it will be highly pleasing to have republicans play their full and becom- ing part in consummating the con- stitutional grant of woman suffrage. It is no longer a question of policy. It is a matter of republican contribu- tion of a grant of suffrage to which our party is committed and for which our party is in the main re- sponsible."

Mixture of Errors Seen.
The statement said:
"Governor Cox's acceptance address will not fail to please his political opponents who are convinced that the country's most immediate task is to get its business administration into the hands of people competent to take care of it, and get its interna- tional relations into the control of men who are Americans first, rather than internationalists."

"The speech is a curious mixture of errors and misstatements as to facts so well known that mere uter- ance can cause nothing less than amusement.

"On government expenses Governor Cox said:

"Immediately following the armistice measures to modify onerous and annoying taxation should have been taken, and the republican con- gress has not made a single effort or passed a single law to lift a load of war taxation that cannot be tol- erated in peace. Federal taxation must be heavily reduced, and it will be done at once if a democratic ad- ministration is chosen."

"The foregoing is far from the re- corded facts. The 56th congress re- duced the country's taxes by $2,414, 115,144.11. It appropriated that much less than the amount which the dem- ocratic administration demanded."

"The democratic 65th congress died March 4, 1919. It had failed to pass many appropriation bills. Its task was supposed over to the incoming con- gress, which proceeded to prune down the estimates prepared by its demo- cratic predecessors. This pruning re- sulted in a saving of $53,697,541.97."

More Appropriations Cut.
"Following this came the regular session of the republican 66th con- gress, from which the democratic ad- ministration demanded appropriations aggregating $4,324,112,929.66. Instead of granting by the amount which was insisted upon with all vehemence by democratic departments, this session cut the estimated appropriations $1,474,422,692.14.

"In the face of this, it is rather astonishing that Governor Cox should declare that 'the republican congres- s' has not made a single effort or passed a single law' to reduce taxation.

"The estimates submitted by the democratic administration had been granted, appropriations would have exceeded the revenues by $1,490,096, 090. But because of republican econ- omy there will be a surplus of $1,108, 000,000. The figures are from the (Continued on Page 2, Column 3.)
