Entertainments Are Today.

Two big entertainment features are scheduled for today. The first is the funcheon given at the Lewis and Clark aviation field of the Oregon-Washington & Idaho Aeroplane company, where the visiting buyers will be entertained by daring "stunts" in the air and by a military drill by the aviators. A number of the buyers will be taken on sight-seeing trips via aeroplane. Automobiles carrying the visitors to the aviation field will leave headquartors at 11.30 sharp.

The first woman buyer to request a ripp over the city via aeroplane was Mrs. Li store of Molaila. Mrs. Robbins is the buyer for the firm and has been at the paster of the second entertainment features for today is the vaudefile and window trimmers contest at the Baker theater at 8 P. M. Window trimmers representing the firms of Meier & Frank, H. Liebes & Co., Lipman, Wolfe & Co., and Olds, Wortman & King will demonstrate all the latest wrinkles in window decoration and live models will be used to display dresses from uncut goods. A violing solb by Mrs. Gabriel Puilla, accompanied by Fred A Brainard, and an accordion solb by Mrs. Barage Leonard and an elevator. Following a dinner on hoard the Bluebird a dance will be given and the return trip to the city will be made at 11 P. M.

Miss Bernice Riley was the complainant, charging J. Gaspari of the Sweet Home candy store and lunch counter on Third street, near Alder, with employing her unreasonably long hours, in violation of rules of the industrial commission. She was making claims for overtime compensation and was backed by the commission.

William M. Davis, appearing for Gasparis, maintained that the law of 1917 and 1919, permitting hours for women was superseded the laws of 1917 and 1919, permitting women to work 9 hours a day in restaurants though not more than 60 hours a week. Mrs. Millie R. Trumbull, secretary of the weifare commission, insisted that the powers conferred in 1913 had not been removed.
