According to the plans of the company, as made public yesterday by Mr. Miller and Captain Pilts, the wooden hull Acarmen, the last shipping board product of the Grant Smith-Porter company, is to be purchased from the supply and sales division of the shipping board, and completed as a fourmasted barkentine for operations in the off-shore trade out of Portland, particularly in carrying lumber to Australia and South Africa.

The barkentine, Multinomah, as the new windjammer is to be known, will have a sail area of approximately 25,000 square feet, which is 3000 more than is carried by the Darkentines Adequate And others completed from shipping board hulls by the Pacific Freighters company.

Foresall is immense.

The large foresall alone will be 30 by 27 feet in dimensions. A departure planned from the conventional barkentine rig is a fixed gaff dividing the ring-tailed topgallantsail into two seperate sails, and thus allowing more canves on the spanker mast.

The Multinomah will have a lumber carrying capacity of 1,900,000 feet, and will be able to carry 3500 tons of coal. It is estimated that the total cost of purchasing the hull and completing it as a barkentine will be about $250,000.

crease for 1920 of nearly 50 per cent over 1919.

"Since June 30 this year, when the last report was issued, stocks have been accomulating, and as tanners still keep out of the market, it looks as though we are in for very low prices for all classes of hides and skins for some time to come. Export demand for leather has fallen off almost entirely. Exports of sole leather for June, 1920, were 48,199,897, against $10,803,509 for June, 1910, and with the English pound sterling down to around $3.69, against nearly $4 in June, the export business in leather for July and August has been almost nothing.

"The quotations we are putting out today are nominal, and we have withdrawn our buyers from the road completely, only taking on such goods as are consigned to us. There is no assurance that we will continue to pay these prices for consigned goods for any length of time. If tanners continue to keep out of the market and leather sales do not improve, hides this fall and winter will be a drug on the market and may reach low levels before unheard of."

WHEAT AVERAGES HIGHER

FRANCE AND ITALY REPORT-ED IN MARKET AS BUYERS. Less Favorable Crop Advices and

Light Receipts at Primary Points Aid in Uplift.

CHRCAGO, Aug. 11.—Wheat averaged higher in price today, owing more or less to reports that France and Italy were in the market as buyers. The close was unsettled at 15 15 to net advance, with December $2.38 % and March $2.42. Corn gained $515c and oats finished unchanged to it higher. In provisions the outcome varied from 12c decline to a rise of $56. outcome varied from 12c decime to a rise of 45c.

Demand for wheat was general and efferings limited until the market had scered a substantial upturn. Then selling broadened out somewhat and therewere numerous actoscks and railles, with the bulls as a rule retaining some advantage. Missivings in regard to the Russo-Politin struggle appeared to have much to do with the arrength of the market, but more particular attention was given to talk of export business, especially dealings with France. Bouldes there were unfavorable crop advices from the northwest and primary receipts were far from liberal.

down lard and ribs. Fork questations were higher, but virtually nominal.

The Chicago market letter received yesterday by Overbeck & Cooke company of Fortland said:

Wheat lacked a definite trend, starting strong and higher and later meeting realizing wales by recent buyers. Strength in all cash markets exerted a restraining influence on bearish sentiment, as did also the intimations that export delmand is beginning to broaden. The total yield of spring wheat is still in doubt despite the guvernment estimate of 252,000,000 bushels. Advices from the northwest are extremely cenflicting, some points sending in reports of very favorable showings, while others say most of the wheat is badly shriveted and yields disappointing. Receivers generally report more difficulty getting care than anything clse, as the southwestern farmer is a willing seller. Receipts at primary markets are running at the rate of about 30 per cent of last year, even though the railroads are giving wheat preisrence over other grain.

Corn-Elevator interests were again conspicuous buyers of both cash and futures, with the former the more responsive, advancing 2 to 3½ cents, due to light receipts. Local sentiment appeared rather bearish and traders found encouragement in messages from New York reporting liberal importations from Argentina of corn Reports of corn firing in certain sections of Western lows. Nebraska and Central Oats advanced and declined with corn, having an easy tone at the finish. A small sale was reported to an eastern experter, the first in some time. Cash premiums were figm early, but eased again at the close. If this small volume of expert businesse today should prove a fore-runner of better demand, it might easily furnish the incentive to give a higher market, as the recent decline of nearly 60 cents in the price of cash oats from the top made in June is generally regarded as excessive.

top made in June is generally regarded as excessive.

Ryc—Futures sold higher, with offerings limited and market acting tight. Some of the buying was credited to the seaboard, believed to reflect sales of cash grain to exporters. Sentiment is somewhat more friendly to the market in anticipation of better foreign demand.

Provisions—Trade was small and market had an easy tone at times, due to local pressure. There is little change in conditions except that outside liquidation is less in swidence.

Coffee Futures Again Decline.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—After opening at a decline of 10 to 17 points on disappointing early cables from Brazil, the market and for coffee futures rallised on the better tone of the stock market and European news and firmer late cables from Santos. December sold up from 9.73c to 2.90c, or back to about the closing price of yesterday, but prices weakened again later under renewed liquidation and selling by importers. December broke to 2.70c and closed at 9.75c with the general market showing a net decline of eight to 24 points. There were renewed rumors that the Brazilian government would come to the assistance of the market, owing to the extent of recent declines, but they were too indefinite to create much sentiment.
