REPUBLICANS WARM TO POLITICAL FUTURE

Lively Aspect Is Assumed at State Headquarters.

HARDING FEELING FOUND

R. N. Stanfield Returns From Visit to Klamath Falls and Predicts Easy Victory.

Republican politics warmed up in sympathy with the weather yesterday and the state headquarters, 628 Morgan building, assumed a lively aspect. By the time the vacation period has passed, the campaign will rather momentum and the organization machinery will be in full motion.

Early in September ratification meetings will be held under the auspices of the state committee and the Multnomah county central committee. J. L. Day, county chairman, is now endeavoring to obtain a speaker of national prominence for the occasion.

Harding Sentiment Found. "I find wherever I go," said Mr. Stanfield, "the best of feeling toward the Republican standard bearers, Harding and Coolidge, and my part in the campaign will be to aid the state committee to roll up the biggest majority for them as possible."

Johnson Supporter Volunteers. Among the volunteers as speakers for the republican ticket is James S. Stewart of Corvallis, who was prominent in the Johnson campaign. Mr. Stewart volunteered to go wherever the state committee chose to send him.

Cox May Attend Round-Up. If Schedule Will Permit, Nominee Will View Pendleton Event. "If his schedule will permit, Governor Cox will come to Oregon in time to attend the Pendleton Round-up," says Elton Watkins, republican leader from Ohio, who was one of the committee which notified Governor Cox of his nomination for president by the democratic convention.
