MARION, O., Aug. 13.—To Governor Cox' declaration that the republican party stands on the skyline of a setting sun, Senator Harding replied today that "if we may look backward to clear our vision, we may look forward more confidently."

"Call it reaction if you like," said the republican nominee in a speech here, "but we need the old standards of honesty, the lofty standards of fidelity."

"If we are living in the past, to recall the wisdom of Washington, the equal rights of Jefferson, the genius of Hamilton, the restoration of McKinley, or the awakening by Roosevelt, I am happy to drink of the past for my inspiration for the morrow."

Speech is from front porch.

The speech delivered from the front porch of the Harding residence to the Ohio Republican Editorial association, was a plea for a return to old-time morality and fairness. If every one were to be "rigidly honest," he said, "peace might long since have been established, and the quietude of the advocated a forest policy to insure an adequate domestic supply of timber to meet the demand for printer paper pulp."

The candidate revealed tonight that he expected soon to elaborate on his previous declarations for an international understanding that would not imperil American integrity.

Foreign Policy Touches.

He indicated the emphasis of his foreign policy would be included in the speech that he is to make early in September. The Minnesota state fair is under consideration as the place where this address will be delivered. Today's address omitted mention of Governor Cox by name, but the republican nominee repeated in exact form the words used by his democratic opponent in his acceptance speech.

"I suppose some people will say I am looking backward," said Senator Harding, after declaring his faith in old-time standards of patriotism and morality. "But we must look backward to clear our vision, we may look forward more confidently."

"Something has been said recently about looking to the sunrise of tomorrow, not the skyline of the setting sun. In the horizon of republicanism, there is no mirage to lure the American caravan, but we mean to go securely on, over the proved routes of triumph."

Senator Harding said in part: "There is a temptation today to blend shop talk with politics, because I know how intimately you are thinking of the problem of news print, the cost of which has added an excessive burden to the expense account of every newspaper. Men speak of immediate relief, but the problem is too big for that."

Forest Policy Held Necessity.

"Permanence and ample relief must come by going to the underlying causes. It is obvious that we must have a forest policy which shall make us self-reliant once more. Forest conservation is a necessary accompaniment to printing freedom, and a matter of concern to all the people. Three-fifths of the original timber in this country is gone, and there are 30,000,000 idle acres in which we ought to be growing forests for the future."

"But I want to turn your thoughts to a service in our columns. There is one service for the American press, not partisan, but patriotic, for which there is a call today. America needs a baptism in righteousness, and a new consecration in morality. Every-day honesty urged."

"Call it reaction if you like, we need the old standards of honesty, the lofty standards of fidelity. I could call it for but one distinction, I would like ours to be known as an honest people. We need the stamp of common, every-day honesty everywhere."

In the downtown districts were sizzling in the heat yesterday, especially the bitulthic pavements, which softened in the high temperature to such an extent that passing trucks, automobiles and even pedestrians left noticeable imprints in the melted surface. And by the time the breeze reached the street level between the canyon-like walls of the office buildings it had lost what little coolness it possessed and resembled more the breath of a blast furnace.

In the outlying districts the residents flocked to the city parks, water-
