Where the Teams Play This Week. Oakland at Portland; Vernon at Seat-tle, Sacramento at Los Angeles, Salt Lake at San Francisco,

After handing the Angels an unmercful lacing in the series before last here on the home grounds, the Beavers winning six out of eight games played against the club, Walter McCredie's cohorts turned around and had to submit to a little of their own medicine in Seattle last week. Siwashes are on the warpath for fair and whoever inoculated them with "fire water" certainly gave them a "fire water" certainly gave them a strong shot.

Portland lost five out of seven games last week and as the result find themselves not only back in their home town but back in familiar second division ground in the percentage column. There is one consolation, however, and that is it is not such a great step back to four hole and even third, but it will have to be admitted that the teams now occupyadmitted that the teams now occupy ing those positions, even if only by point or so, have the edge.

Acorns Hit Good Pace. The Beavers are home again for a two-week stretch on the Vaughn-street grounds and are billed to open
