POLES CLEAR MORE TERRITORY OF REDS

Lomsea and Bialystok Are Taken in Advance.

20,000 MADE PRISONERS

All Government Districts Except Suwalke and Grodno Nearly Free of Bolsheviki.

WARSAW, Aug. 24.—(By the Associated Press.)—Lomsea, 75 miles northwest of Warsaw, and Bialystok, 50 miles east of Lomza, have been recaptured by the Polish armies, said an official war office communication today.

In the remaining occupied sectors in the north, the bolsheviki were crossing the Prussian frontier in great numbers. In this region the 18th and 33d bolshevik divisions had been smashed and all of the 54th have been taken prisoner.

The 5th Polish army alone, operating on the northern front, had accounted for more than 20,000 prisoners, including the staff of the 18th and the 54th divisions, said the communique.

Reds Cross Into Russia.

The military authorities announced that the various government districts of Poland, with the exception of Suwalki and Grodno, have been virtually cleared of the bolsheviki, some of whom, in the panic, crossed into east Prussia.

Many red detachments had been cut off from retreat and were gradually being gathered in. Peasants, armed with hunting clubs, were assisting the Polish soldiers.

Hunting Parties Organized.

Between the Vistula and Prussia where the bolsheviki have been cut off from their communications, there were organized hunting parties of the members of hunt clubs and others, who beat the wooded country in search of reds the same as for deer and wild boar.

General Pilsudski issued an appeal to the peasants to aid the army and urged the peasants to make prisoners in all cases and turn them over to the soldiers. The military authorities declared that since the Polish offensive began, more than 50,000 prisoners have been taken.

Reds Reported Surrounded.

Red forces hemmed in between Prussia and the Vistula were trying to fight their way eastward. Reds caught on all sides by the Poles launched an attack south of Mlawa, but the attack was repulsed.

The communique said the Poles taken prisoner by the Kuban Cossacks had been murdered.

"In the region of Snaidovo," the statement continued, "there was bayonet fighting. The Poles smashed the eleventh Red division and occupied Lomza (to the north), taking prisoners and several camels which the Reds had used for hauling supplies.

"Reds fighting at various points in Bialystok were taken prisoner, and the city was occupied.

"Polish successes on the southern front were reported."

DANZIG SEIZURE DISCUSSED

Britain and France Consider Occupation by Allies.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—One plan for the settlement of the Danzig problem under consideration today by Great Britain and France was allied military occupation of the city, although no decision was reached.

It was stated here that the military authorities of both countries are agreed that it would be inadvisable to attempt to unload munitions there at present.

HOQUIAM SHOWS BIG GAIN

Population 10,065 as Compared With 8171 Ten Years Ago.

HOQUIAM, Wash., Aug. 24.—(Special.)—This city has a population of 10,065, according to Samuel L. Rogers, director of the federal census, in a letter to Congressman Albert Johnson under date of August 14, which the latter made public yesterday evening.

This figure means that Hoquiam has made a growth of 23.17 per cent in the last decade, as the 1910 census gave her 8171.

The official count gave Hoquiam 9885, but when it was announced a recanvass was made and 229 names sent in, of which 49 were found on the lists, leaving 180 good ones.

Mr. Rogers said the new figure would be found in the official report when printed.

BATTLE IN MAINE BEGUN

agree on one candidate for the long of one-man power" and of the high cost of living in general. They reflect that vague dissatisfaction in "wanting a chance."

On the other hand, there can be no doubt whatever that the league of nations issue is distrustful to the republicans. Many of the republican leaders in Maine are trying to satisfy those voters who are interested in this issue by saying that the difference between Cox and Harding is the difference between the "league of nations" and "a" league of nations and this distinction between "the" and "a," by the way, is coming to be characteristic of the discussion of the league of nations in many parts of the country. In Maine one of the most competent observers I know writes as follows:

"A good many of the Maine voters have the idea that the republicans have abandoned the league altogether and the republicans will lose many votes on this account. Some of the republican leaders here, however, are taking the position that the republicans have not by any means abandoned the league, but what they are against is the league in the form presented to America by President Wilson and that especially the republicans are against article X. These republican leaders will be in a league of some sort within a very short time, either the present league with reservations or the present league amended. With article X and other objectionable features left out—or an entirely new association. The pro-league republicans are, in my opinion, in the majority in the state."

League Sentiment Varies.

Another equally competent Maine observer, a republican, writes:

"Our people are not especially interested in the league of nations and they wish that it might have been ratified with the Lodge reservations simply to get it out of the way. The feeling is that if there is any good in it then they are perfectly willing to give t a trial, always with the understanding that none of their rights as a nation would be jeopardized. There is quite a sentiment against any league at all, but I think the majority feel about as I have stated."

Still another observer, also a republican, says:

"My inquiries lead me to believe that outside the ministry and the teaching profession there are few who favor the league as submitted to the senate by the president. But I would hazard a guess that at this time a considerable majority of the people of Maine would approve the entrance of our country into the league of nations with the senate reservations or the substance of the attached covenant, but not otherwise. I don't dare say this will be the sentiment in a month, for European conditions are militating against the league and the drift of our people as I sense it is away from the league rather than for it."

Your correspondent expects that after Senator Harding's speech at Marion next Saturday the league of nations issue, as between the parties, will look less clear cut than it now does. After that speech there will be more justification for those republican leaders who claim that the distinction is merely between "the" league and "a" league. But until we see just how the republican candidate further amplifies his position and makes it more exact and detailed there can be no doubt that the league of nations is troublesome to the republican leaders in Maine.

CONVENTION IS PROPOSED

DRYS' REHABILITATION FIRST NECESSARY BY PETITION.

Attorney-General's Opinion That Woman's Nomination Is Illegal Remains in Effect.

SALEM, Or., Aug. 24.—(Special.)—John W. Cochran, assistant secretary of state, today sent a letter to Mrs. Ada Wallace Unruh, executive secretary of the state prohibition party, notifying her that in case the party was rehabilitated in the third congressional district through the medium of petitions, it would be advisable for the organization to hold a convention and nominate its candidates for the November election.

The prohibition party in the third congressional district is without political effect, according to opinions given previously by the attorney-general and rehabilitation can be made only through petitions bearing signatures equal to five per cent of the votes cast by the party there in the 1918 election.

These petitions must be filed with the secretary of state by September 7. At a pretended convention of the prohibition party held in the third congressional district recently Dr. Esther Lovejoy was selected as the nominee of the organization for congress.

This nomination was found to be void upon consulting the previous opinions of the attorney-general.

TURKEYS TO BE SCARCE

CONSUMERS EXPECTED TO PAY DOLLAR A POUND.

Farmers Reported Holding Birds for Further Increases in Market Price.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—(Special.)—San Francisco epicures, long accustomed to turkey as the piece de resistance of all well-regulated Thanksgiving dinners, this year may have to search for some substitute for the popular birds, according to statements made by local commission men and merchants.

"The cold storage supply here is said to be virtually exhausted, and turkey raisers throughout the state are refusing to sell at the present price of 65 cents a pound.

Predictions were freely made today that the consumer, when Thanksgiving day rolls around, will pay around $1 a pound, with none too great a supply in the state at that price. California has never raised turkeys in numbers sufficient to meet the local demand, and the supply during the past two years has fallen far short, according to turkey raisers who were in San Francisco today conferring with commission men.

Turkey raisers, expecting prices to advance, are holding their turkeys, refusing to contract for future delivery.

FEDERAL PRISONER FREED

Sentence of Violator of Prohibition Law Completed.

Habeas corpus proceedings in the case of Sam Conord and Joseph Wilson, convicted several months ago on the charge of illicit liquor manufacture, resulted in the release of Conord yesterday by Federal Judge Bean, on the ground that the maximum of six months' imprisonment under the prohibition law had been completed. Wilson will be held until the completion of his sentence.

Both men were arrested on a charge of violating the internal revenue laws and the writ of habeas corpus was brought on the ground that the federal prohibition law automatically repealed the internal revenue statutes. On recommendation of United States Attorney Humphreys Conord was released, as his arrest was made earlier than that of Wilson.

ROAD VERDICT SATISFIES

Clackamas County Pleased With Highway Commission Ruling.

Judge H. S. Anderson of Clackamas county, with W. A. Proctor and W. F. Harris, commissioners of that county, were in attendance yesterday at the meeting of the state highway commission in behalf of the road matters affecting that county up for consideration.

They were pleased with the ultimate decision for location of the Mount Hood loop road, as they have already under construction a road that will form a connecting link from the Clackamas river road at Barton to a connecting point with the new road at Kelso.

TRAM CAR ILLS LAID TO MISMANAGEMENT

Solution of Problems Said to Be Common Sense.

WILSON BOARD REPORTS

Public Ownership Is Not Believed to Be Likely to Result in Betterment of Conditions.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Satisfactory solution of the problem presented by the electric street railway industry can be reached through application of principles "of ordinary economic and business common sense," is the unanimous opinion of the seven men who composed the federal electric railways commission appointed by President Wilson in 1919.

In a summary the commission said in part:

"The present condition is the result of early financial mismanagement and economic causes, accentuated by existing high price levels of labor and materials and the failure of the uniform unit fare of 5 cents prescribed either by statute or by local franchise ordinances or contracts to provide the necessary revenues to pay operating costs and to maintain the property on a reasonable basis.

"Restoration of credit involves a readjustment of relations which will remove public antagonism, provide public co-operation and insure the investor the integrity of his investment and a fair rate of return thereon.

"While eventually it might become expedient for the public to own and operate electric railways, there is nothing in the experience thus far obtained in this country which will justify the assertion that it will result in better or cheaper service than privately operated utilities could afford if properly regulated."

FOUR PLANES REACH NOME

TRIP FROM MINEOLA, N. Y., TAKE 55 FLYING HOURS.

Hop-Off on Return Flight to New York to Be Made Within Few Days.

NOME, Alaska, Aug. 22.—The four United States army airplanes flying from Mineola, N. Y., to Nome, arrived here from Ruby, Alaska, at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The actual flying time from New York was 55 hours, Captain St. Clair Street, head of the expedition, announced.

The hop-off on the return trip to New York will be made in a few days.

AERO CLUB IS ENTHUSIASTIC

Message of Congratulation Is Telegraphed to Aviators.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—News that four army airplanes flying from Mineola, N. Y., to Nome, Alaska, had reached their destination aroused enthusiasm among members of the Aero Club of America here today.

"It was a remarkable, epoch-making achievement which does credit to the air service and to American aeronautics," said Augustus Post, speaking for the club, of which he is secretary.

"The splendid success of this expedition foreshadows better communication facilities by air, not alone with Alaska, but with all distant and inaccessible lands. We are now hoping that the government will establish aerial mail routes to Nome without delay."

The contest committee of the Aero Club of America tonight telegraphed the following message to the flyers:

"Congratulations on your wonderfully successful flight. It is a splendid demonstration of how the most remote part of the country can be brought into close touch with the federal government. The flight is a forerunner of mail and commercial routes, which we hope will soon be established."

FOREST CHIEFS ON WAY

COLONEL GREELEY INSPECTS BIG NATIONAL WOODS.

Excellent Opportunity to Establish Paper Mill in Alaska, According to Report.

Colonel W. B. Greeley, chief of the forestry department of the United States government, accompanied by District Forester George H. Cecil of Portland, left Ketchikan, Alaska, yesterday, en route to Portland, after an extensive examination of the Tongass national forest.

This was the word contained in a communication to the forest service here from J. D. Guthrie, forest examiner in charge of public relations, who accompanied the chiefs on their tour of inspection, but who is now proceeding into the Chugach national forest, further north.

Colonel Greeley and the party accompaning him into the Tongass forest specifically examined the possibilities of obtaining wood pulp for the manufacture of paper.

The paper shortage has given rise to numerous investigations of forests for the purpose of establishing paper mills, and Alaska is said to possess in the Tongass forest an excellant site for such an industry.

The party left Portland August 1, and will return here about September 1. Colonel Greeley will then leave for Washington, D. C.

Forest Examiner Guthrie left for Cordova yesterday and will go thence on the Copper river railroad as far as the line is constructed and then travel through snow the balance of the distance into Fairbanks. After this he will go to Chitina, thence over Brood pass, coming out of the interior at Seward. He expects to arrive in Portland October 1.

COLUMBIA FIRE CHECKED

Force of 50 Men Busy Fighting Raging Flames.

Fire covering between 10,000 and 12,000 acres in the Columbia national forest, was practically under control late yesterday afternoon, according to long distance messages received here at the forest headquarters.

The blaze has been raging along the Lewis river, above the Twin Butte ranger station for some time and a force of 50 men has been kept busy fighting it.

Forest Superintendent Sherrard, of the Oregon national forest, long-distance yesterday that the blaze on Camas prairie was also nearing control. The message came from Clackamas lake during the afternoon.

The entire logging force of the Bridal Veil Lumber company continued yesterday to fight the blaze that is taking heavy toll on Larch mountain. Reports yesterday were that rain failed to fall there, though it fell in other districts, but a heavy fog blanketing the scene of the fire aided somewhat. Other small fires throughout the state are under control.

HOME CIDER LID OFF

NATIONAL ENFORCEMENT OFFICER MAKES RULING.

Apples and Fruits Can Be Taken to Mill but Must Be Used Only at Home, Is Decision.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—A copy of a ruling by John F. Kramer, prohibition enforcement officer at Washington, D. C., stating that home-made cider may contain more than one-half of 1 per cent alcohol "if it is not intoxicating in fact," has been received by United States District Attorney Sliva.

The ruling declares that although any person may take apples and fruits to a mill and have them made into cider and fruit juices, they must be used exclusively at home.

RULING NOW IS IN EFFECT

Federal Inspector at Seattle Discusses Home Brew.

SEATTLE, Aug. 24.—The ruling of John F. Kramer, federal prohibition enforcement officer at Washington, D. C., announced in San Francisco today, that home made cider may contain more than one-half of one per cent alcohol if it is "not intoxicating in fact" has been made effective, according to Gordon E. O'Hara, federal inspector in Seattle.

Persons may keep fruit juices in the home until they are converted by natural processes into vinegar, Mr. O'Hara said. "If persons desire to drink the 'hard' cider while it is in the process of fermentation, there is no way in which they may be prevented," Mr. O'Hara said.

AUTOIST ON WILD DRIVE

Ben Sines Tours East Side on Rims When He Loses Tires.

Ben W. Sines, 38, was arrested last night after a chase of more than two miles, and was charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated. He drove his automobile over the curb and across the flower bed in the center of Ladd avenue and punctured three tires.

Continuing to the end of Ladd avenue, he turned east on Division street and drove to East Fifty-eighth street before Patrolmen Hunting, Meacham and Regan overtook him in another machine. By that time he had lost one tire and was running on one full tire, two flat tires and a bare rim. The police found a pint of whisky in the automobile and seized it as evidence.

Blake failed to recover complete consciousness after spending 12 hours in jail, so he was transferred to the emergency hospital. Late last night he recovered sufficiently to speak, although he was only semi-conscious. The doctors said he might have been recovering from intoxication induced by drinking patent medicine.

Sam Shnitzer of the Alaska Junk company, 203 Front street, was arrested yesterday by Inspector Russell and charged with violating the second-hand dealers' ordinance. The offense is alleged to have been committed July 30, when, it is said, Shnitzer purchased for $75 two stolen automobile tires and failed to make a report of the transaction to the police. The tires were taken from a for-hire automobile during the Shriners' convention. The police did not find them until yesterday. Shnitzer was released on $250 bail. The case was set for trial in the municipal court today.

BOURBONS OF IDAHO OPEN CONVENTION

Senator Nugent Apparently Has No Opposition.

FULL SLATE TO BE PICKED

Two Delegations From One County Row Over Legality of Their Convention.

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho, Aug. 24.—(Special.)—The state democratic convention meeting at Idaho Falls reconvened this afternoon at 3:30 after it had adjourned at 12 o'clock, following the appointment of the members composing the credential, order of business and resolutions committees. These committees were composed of one member from each county and in cases where there was only one delegate he will act on all three committees.

Credentials Committee Reports.

After the meeting had been called to order in the afternoon the report of the credentials committee, with Mrs. Nell K. Irion of Sandpoint as chairman, was read and adopted with no changes. This made Frank L. Moore of Moscow, Idaho, candidate for the senate in 1918 against Borah, permanent chairman, and Mrs. Grover Rich, Burley, Idaho, delegate to the national convention and prominent in Idaho democratic circles, permanent secretary, with William J. Chandler of Ririe, Idaho, assistant secretary.

Following the report of this committee, Senator John F. Nugent, at the request of the delegates, delivered a stirring address on the league of nations. After Nugent's speech, W. O. Chapman of Twin Falls, chairman of the credentials committee, read the committee's report, which showed there were 181 delegates attending the convention.

The only fireworks of the convention so far came after the report of the committee had been adopted. Shoshone county had two delegations present. One claimed the county convention was illegal and that another convention had been held and delegates named. They also attended and asked to be seated in preference to the other delegation. Most of the committee's time was taken up with settling this dispute, which resulted in the original delegation, composed of D. W. Breenburg, C. L. Herrick, N. J. Hull, A. P. Hutton, S. E. Meyer being appointed. R. E. Lee, Shoshone county, made an attempt to have the committee report reconsidered.

The convention then adjourned until 7:30 tonight, when it is expected the resolutions committee will report. The only sure candidate seems to be John F. Nugent for senator.

Green, president of the musicians' union, head of the amusement section of the central labor council and vice-president of the Washington state federation of labor.

The picture operators' demand is scheduled to go into effect September 5.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 24.—(Special.)—Problems connected with the issuance of city licenses to aliens were the principal feature of today's session of the city council, and, although no decisive action was taken, preliminary steps for the adoption of the policy was initiated.

Councilman Tindall introduced an ordinance which provides that "before any license shall be granted to any person, firm, company or corporation to conduct or maintain any junk shops, pawnbroker's shop, employment agency or billiard and pool room, it shall be necessary for such person making the application for such license, or in case of a firm, corporation or company, for the officers or managers thereof to prove to the satisfaction of the city council his or their ability to speak, read and write the English language."

The ordinance is understood to be aimed particularly at Japanese, although under its terms many other applicants for city licenses would be barred. The council will withhold action on the measure until the license committee has investigated and reported on the proposed legislation.
