

DR. WILLENGER LOSES GEARHART TOURNEY

Douglas Nicol Wins Match Before Big Gallery.

GOLF WEATHER IS IDEAL

Errol Kay Beats Roscoe Fawcett and Goes Into Semi-Finals for Today's Play.

GEARHART, Or., Aug. 26.—(Special.)—Douglas Nicol, the youthful golfer who finished with a 142 in the qualifying round yesterday, furnished the surprise in the day's play of the annual Gearhart tournament today by winning from Dr. O. P. Willinger, medalist and last year's titleholder, in the second elimination round of the championship. Nicol won by three and one.

Errol Kay and Roscoe Fawcett played a beautiful match throughout, the former going into the semi-finals when he made a birdie three on the 18th. Fawcett was 1 up and 2 to go at the 17th tee, but his drives on both holes went into the rough, and although his second shots were well placed, Kay's putting on the last two greens gave him the match. Kay's score was 74. Fawcett took 75.

Rosenblatt Is Eliminated.

In the first round in the morning Dr. Willinger defeated Millard Rosenblatt in the first elimination, the former playing a steady game as he did in the qualifying round. Willinger won from Rosenblatt in the finals last year.

By consistent play Nicol was leading going out, and maintained this advantage coming back, taking 72 for the round. Nicol, who will meet Nicol tomorrow morning, won from E. Neustadter and Woodson Patterson of Baker defeated E. Frohman.

Both players exhibited a number of beautiful approach shots in the last five holes.
