

SOLDIER AID FUND OF STATE IS SCANTY

Necessity of Increasing Tax Seems Likely.

PERMISSION IS NEEDED

Legislature May Be Asked to Increase Levy to Take Care of Anticipated Enrollment.

SALEM, Or., Aug. 26.—(Special.)—On the basis of the present tax levy, as fixed by the legislature at the 1920 session, and the anticipated increase of 10 per cent in the enrollment of students for the coming year, state officials are of the opinion that it will be necessary for them to go before the lawmakers next January and urge an increase of the tax, aggregating four-tenths of a mill for the operation of the so-called soldiers' aid and marine educational aid act.

This law was originally approved by the state legislature at the 1919 session and later was referred to the voters at the special election held on June 2 of that year. The voters approved the measure and it became a law on June 23, 1919.

The original measure provided that any and all honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines who had been in the service during the war with Germany, and who desire to pursue a course of study in any institution in the state, whether public or private, would receive financial aid to an amount not exceeding $25 for any one month and not exceeding $200 for any one year, and that such aid should be limited to a term of not to exceed four years.

Original Law Amended.

To combat any fraud that might be attempted the original law was amended at the 1920 special session of the legislature by inserting in the act a clause to the effect that the maximum amount of $25 for any one month would be allowed any honorably discharged soldier, sailor or marine, who physically attended 60 or more hours of instruction in any one month, and to those attending less than the minimum number of hours a proportionate part of the $25 for any one month based upon the actual number of hours attended would be allowed.

In cases where the proportion was less than actual expenses, incident to the pursuit of the course of study, it was provided that the ex-service man should be allowed such expenses, which in any case should not amount to more than $25 for any one month. In case of a student's inability to attend school because of illness, not exceeding two weeks, it was provided that the monthly allowance should be the average allowed for the preceding two months.

The amendment to the original act became effective on July 1, 1920, with the exception of that part of the act providing for two-tenths of a mill on all taxable property in the state which was referred to the voters. This part of the amendment was approved by the voters and became a law on June 18, 1920.

Levy Raises $198,087.00.

Following inception of the measure there was raised by the tax levy of two-tenths, the sum of $198,087.09 and $220,000 appropriated by the legislature at the 1920 session. All of this has been expended, together with $31,000 of the $225,000 deficiency appropriation authorized by the emergency board at a meeting held on June 4, 1920. In other words the total disbursements under the law to August 25 aggregated $249,087.09.

Prior to August 25 there were filed with the secretary of state 4495 applications, while approximately 4300 students received aid during the year ended June 30. Under the law levied now effective there will be raised annually approximately $400,000, based on the present assessed valuations, but with an anticipated increase of 10 per cent in the enrollment for the next school year this sum will not be sufficient.

U. S. TEACHERS SUFFER

Instructors Forced to Exist on Scant Food Supplies.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 26.—(Special.)—Seattle teachers in government schools in the Bering strait and Kotelbu districts have experienced a hard and stormy summer, attended by considerable suffering, as the result of depleted food supplies.

This was the information sent south by Fred R. Tait, world war veteran and husband of Marguerite "Fergy" Tait, daughter of J. E. Green, Seattle photographer. The Tait's are teachers in the government Eskimo school at Wainwright, the westernmost point of the continent.

"While waiting for supplies we were visited by a shipwrecked party of 14 persons who were stranded on Bering strait during a terrific storm," said Tait in a letter received today by W. T. Lopp, Alaska chief of the United States bureau of education. "The visitors had no food for several days. Our supplies were nearly exhausted, but we all lived for two weeks on beans and dried pea soup. It was a little food furnished by the Eskimos."

"We also suffered from the cold because we had no coal, and the weather was too stormy for us to gather wood."

JUDGE DARCH RESIGNS

N. B. Brooks Appointed to Fill Vacancy in Washington.

KELSO, Wash., Aug. 26.—(Special.)—William T. Darch, judge of the superior court of Clatsop, Skamania and Klickitat counties for the last eight years, resigned the first of the week and Governor Hart has appointed N. B. Brooks, an attorney of Goldendale, Klickitat county, to serve.

Judge Darch resigned in order to devote his time to personal business matters. H. E. McKeeney of this city and Homer Kirby of Kalama are candidates for the judgeship to succeed Judge Brooks in January, 1921.

Walla Walla Registration 5084.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Aug. 26.—(Special.)—The registration of Walla Walla was 5084 when the books closed last night. This is less than before the general election in 1918, but fully equal to that in the primaries.

HOP WARNING IS GIVEN

PACIFIC GROWERS TOLD TO WATCH PICKING CLOSELY.

English Corporation Declares the Continent Now is Keen Competitor for London Market.

SALEM, Or., Aug. 26.—(Special.)—That the foreign demand for Oregon hops this season will depend to a great extent on the manner in which the product is harvested and prepared for shipment, was the statement made in a letter received at the offices of Durbin & Cornoyer here today from Wigan & Richardson. The Wigan-Richardson corporation maintains offices at London, England, and in previous years has handled large consignments of hops from Marion county.

"The Pacific coast grower must remember," said the letter, "that they now have the continent as a competitor, and we must say that the way in which the continent hops from all countries were harvested and managed left no fault to be found. You can quite understand why that the continent is making every effort to capture the London market again, which would be at the expense of the Pacific grower."

"As a result, if the Pacific coast grower wishes to retain his trade with England, he must pay proper attention to picking, which is more essential at this time than at any other period of the industry."

The letter also said that crop prospects in England were unusually bright.

HOP HARVEST STARTS SOON

Picking in Klaber Yard to Begin About September 6.

CHEHALIS, Wash., Aug. 26.—(Special.)—Picking of hops at the yard of the Klaber Investment company here today will begin about September 6, according to Gus Anderson, superintendent in charge. Owing to the dry weather, the yield will be smaller than had been hoped, but will be of good quality.

The Klaber company has 30 acres of hops in bearing this year and has planted more than 100 on the farm which will be harvested and plowed up. Pickers this year will receive $1.50 a box for picking.

Bond Ordinances Up Monday.

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., Aug. 26.—(Special.)—Ordinances authorizing issuance of street improvement bonds, aggregating $48,820, will be before the city council for final passage Monday night. The bond proceeds will be expended in paving four scattered units, approximately 15 blocks in all.

EX-SERVICE MEN ADVISED

Holding of War Risk Insurance Urged Upon Students.

OREGONIAN AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Aug. 26.—(Special.)—The desirability of holding on to their war risk insurance, and later converting into some form of government life insurance is urged upon former Oregon Agricultural college ex-service men by President Kerr. In response to a request from the bureau of war risk insurance Dr. Kerr said: "Officials of the college will be glad to do everything feasible to interest its ex-service men in continuing their insurance. We advised them last year, personally, and through student body publications, and will bring the matter to their attention at once through student publications, and others likely to come to their attention."

CORNERSTONE TO BE LAID

Sisters of St. Joseph Hospital to Be Built in Pasco.

PASCO, Wash., Aug. 26.—(Special.)—At 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon the cornerstone of the new Sisters of St. Joseph hospital will be laid, for which event more than 500 invitations have been issued.

Immediately following the laying of the stone, further exercises will be held at the parish house, when the Rt. Rev. A. F. Schinner, D. D. bishop of Spokane diocese, will deliver an address.

Cannery to Be Enlarged.

ALBANY, Or., Aug. 26.—(Special.)—The Albany cannery will be enlarged at once by the construction of a new structure, 60x90 feet, for fruit and berry preparation room. This work is done now in a portion of one of the other buildings, where space is needed for canning operations. The cannery buildings now occupy the greater part of a block more than 1 1/2 blocks in size and probably the entire tract will be utilized for buildings soon.

Coyotes Common in Coos.

MARSHFIELD, Or., Aug. 26.—(Special.)—Coyotes are becoming common in some parts of Coos county and an effort is to be made by residents in the pest-ridden districts to have the county court establish a bounty for the animals. The coyotes frequently are seen along the ranches on the Middle Fork of the Coquille, and much damage has been done among sheep, calves and pigs in the past few months. Until about five or six years' registration record in this city, 420 ago a coyote had never been seen west of the coast range of mountains, but now Curry county is being ravaged by them that a bounty of $75 is paid.

MOTHER OVERJOYED AT GEORGE'S RECOVERY

Victim of Stomach Trouble for Three Years, Portland Lad Gains Fifteen Pounds Taking Tanlac and Is Now Strong and Happy.

"No one knows just how grateful I feel toward Tanlac, for it has restored our little twelve-year-old boy to health when nothing else seemed to help," was the remarkable statement made by Mrs. A. LeGrand of 1923 Berkeley street, Portland, Or. "For the past three years he suffered terribly from stomach trouble. He had no appetite and we didn't dare let him eat anything sweet, and he became so starved and thin that he was almost just a frame. He had dreadful cramps in his stomach that lasted for hours at a time, and the pain was so severe that it just drew him double. He would lie on his back so that it would bleed like he was going to smother, and he was so constipated we had to give him laxatives every day. He was so nervous the least little thing would upset him. "We could find nothing that would help him until we started him on Tanlac, but this proved to be the very thing he needed. Why, three bottles of this medicine has helped him so much that he has actually gained fifteen pounds in weight, and seems to be happy and feeling fine all the time. His appetite is so good that he wants to be eating all the time, and his stomach is in such splendid order that he can eat anything and everything he wants without it troubling him a bit. We owe his good health entirely to Tanlac, and I think so many of the medicine I just can't praise it enough." Tanlac is sold in Portland by the Owl Drug Co.—Adv.
