

CHARGE OF POWDER BY USES DENIED

Damascus Creamery Manager Answers Mickle.

STATEMENT HELD FALSE

A. M. Work Avers Dairy and Food Commissioner Admitted He Had Seized No Evidence.

The charge of State Dairy and Food Commissioner Mickle that the Portland Damascus Creamery company "manufactured" milk and sold it as "fresh milk," in a newspaper yesterday after conferring with Mr. Mickle.

"We did not manufacture powdered milk for sale as fresh milk in any quantity, either one gallon, 1000 gallons or 20,000 gallons," said Mr. Work.

Mr. Work's statement follows: "This morning I was called by Mr. Mickle, dairy and food commissioner, and told me he was going to summon me, and I notified him that wasn't necessary to summon me as I was coming right over."

Mr. Mickle admitted to me that he had conducted his investigation without a proper investigation. "I called upon Mr. Mickle and demanded that he explain the charge made through the newspaper."

Mr. Mickle said that if we did what he suggested we did, the milk is pure and good, but that the milk is not pure and good, and that the milk is not pure and good, and that the milk is not pure and good.

Mr. Mickle said yesterday that he did not get the full facts in the case, and that he was not satisfied with Mr. Work's statement.

Mr. Mickle will take several days for his investigation.
