Representative Entry List Received and Some Spirited Competion Expected.

The swimming meet to be held at Columbia beach Sunday under the auspices of the Amateur Athletic Union and asa feature of the Multnomah Guard's annual pow-wow, is causing much interest among the aquatic enthusiasts.

The list of entries, regardless of the inent swimmers are at present abroad representing the United States at the Olympic games, is one of the most representative seen here for a long

E. Binney, hailing from the east, has entered the 50-yard dash unattached, and is looked upon as a dark horse. Duke Walker, who has entered in both the 50-yard and century swims under the Portland Natatorium colors, is swimming better than ever before. Duke, who was so dubbed because his stroke so resembles Duke Kahana-moku, world's champion sprinter, is expected to carry off more than one

And speaking of trophies, Jack Rut-ledge has on hand six silver lov-ing cups and some medals that are to be awarded as prizes. Joseph Reig, manager of Columbia beach, has do-nated three sterling silver cups to the trophy list.

CAREER OF DISTINGUISHED OREGON PIONEER CLOSED.

Ex-Legislator and ex-Sheriff of Polk County Crossed Plains With Father in 1844.

BEND, Or., Sept. 1.—(Special.)—
B. F. Nichols, one of the earliest of early Oregon ploneers, known to his many friends in central Oregon as "Uncle Frank," died at 11 o'clock at his home in Tumalo last night, aged 95 years. Mr. Nichols had been bed fast for the past year as the result of fast for the past year as the result of broken leg. In the death of Mr. ichols, Oregon loses one of her oldest pioneers. Funeral services were held in Tumalo this afternoon, many Bend citizens attending. Interment is to be made in the Prineville cemetery omorrow. Born in Missourl, near St. Louis, on November 27, 1825, Mr. Nichols crossed the plains with his father in arrival in the northwest, with Marcus Whitman, a year before the historic Whitman massacre. He then removed to the Willamette valley, where he was appointed sheriff of Polk county. In the latter part of his life, he had the distinction, as the result of this, of being the only surviving appointed official of the Oregon territory. He engaged in the drug business for a time during his residence if the valley, then moved to Prineville where he was admitted to the practice of law, and elected a member of the house of representatives in the Oregon legislature. It was largely through his efforts that Crook was cut off from Wasco, the parent county. His residence in Prineville included the vigliante period.

Toward the beginning of the present century Mr. Nichols purchased land in the Tumalo section, including in his purchase a part of the pro-right-of-way of the Corvallis & rn railroad, and up to the time of his death he remained firm in his belief that the road would eventually be built into the Deschutes valley, connecting central Oregon with the country west of the mountains.
