

JAZZ DANCES MUST GO, SAYS PROFESSOR

Terpsichorean Millenium in America Visioned.

ANIMAL STEPS DENOUNCED

National Ballet Like That of Russia, Graceful and Charming, Held Possibility.

Will an American ballet, such as the former Russian ballet and the present French ballet, drive "jazz" dances to their lair? Senor Stefano Mascagno, premier teacher of the ballet, in Portland attending the normal school of the American National association of masters of dancing, thinks it will.

More than that, Senor Mascagno believes the animal dances, such as the "camel-walk," the "bunny hug" and the "grizzly," will not be granted the prerogative of their name-sakes and be permitted merely to hibernate—if the masters of dancing succeed in plans to force "jazz" dances from pavilions, ballrooms and cabarets.

ZONE MEASURE SOUGHT

EFFORT TO SIMPLIFY BALLOT WILL BE MADE.

At Present Two Proposals Are to Be Submitted to Voters for Approval of Ordinance.

Although two measures are scheduled to appear on the ballot in the city election next November for the ratification, or rejection, of the proposed zoning plan, steps are being taken by City Commissioner Barbur to eliminate a measure in order to prevent confusion.

Shortly after the city council adopted the zoning law, spring opponents of the plan circulated petitions providing for a measure to repeal the law. Prior to the passage of the ordinance, members of the city council pledged themselves to present a repealing ordinance which would be presented to the voters.

Some weeks ago Mr. Barbur referred the question to City Attorney LaRoche requesting his opinion on the legality of the city council withdrawing the ordinance.

Woman in Dead Faint Dragged Out From Under Auto.

COVALLIS, Or., Sept. 2.—(Special).—Dr. Harry L. Anderson was slightly injured, and Mrs. M. J. Anderson, in-law, had a shoulder bone fractured when the doctor's car overturned yesterday at the foot of Alsea mountain.

GIRL'S ESCORT RELEASED

Youth Arrested With Camper in Boy's Attire Cleared.

ALBANY, Or., Sept. 2.—(Special).—Jack Brown, 19-year-old boy of Terre Haute, Ind., who was arrested in this county a month ago with Geraldine Eley, when the two were traveling through the country, the girl's juvenile court here to the Home of the Good Shepherd in Portland, escaped from that institution recently.

ACHE YIELDS TO POISON

Bend Man Drinks Poison by Mistake, but at That Is Cured.

BEND, Or., Sept. 2.—(Special).—Because of a violent headache, D. St. Orr of this city drank two ounces of poison last night, mistaking the bottle for headache medicine.

FOREST SERVICE RECEIPTS GROW

United States forest service receipts for this district in August were considerably larger than those of the same period last year, owing to heavy timber sales.

NEW ROAD BODY PLANNED

REORGANIZATION OF HIGHWAY COMMISSION SUGGESTED.

State Engineer Would Be Placed in Personnel and Pay for Duties Would Be Given.

SALEM, Or., Sept. 2.—(Special).—Complete reorganization of the Oregon state highway commission by including the state highway engineer in the personnel of the body and providing salaries for the members commensurate with their duties, probably will be sought through a bill to be introduced at the next session of the legislature, according to a letter received here today from an eastern Oregon legislator.

Although no definite plans for the reorganization have been formulated, the writer said he had conferred with several colleagues and that the proposal had met with their approval.

In the conduct of the affairs of the state highway commission, it was pointed out that the three members of the body, none of whom are actually connected with the operating department, designate the highway to be constructed or improved, together with providing appropriations for the work.

To get the best results, the legislator advocating reorganization contends that the highway engineer is the one man in the state who should occupy a seat on the commission and participate in the legislative action of the body.

The highway engineer passes a great deal of time inspecting roads under improvement and contemplated, and in this capacity is intimately familiar with the plans of construction, estimated costs and other details.

It made an active member of the commission it was contended that his advice and knowledge of road affairs always would be available, and that his responsibility in making vast expenditures would be increased materially.

IRWIN COBB LEAVES BEND

PARTY ENTERTAINED AT DINNER BY W. C. BIRDSALL.

Noted Short Story Writer Getting Data for Three Articles on Central Oregon.

BEND, Or., Sept. 2.—(Special).—On an extended tour of the mountains and lakes of central Oregon, Irwin S. Cobb, noted short-story writer and humorist, left Bend this afternoon accompanied by Dr. Dudley Roberts of New York and A. Whisnant and N. G. Jacobson of this city.

On their arrival in Bend last night, Mr. Cobb and Dr. Roberts were guests of honor at a dinner given by W. C. Birdsall, manager of the Pilot Butte inn.

During his trip Mr. Cobb will gather material for a series of three magazine articles on central Oregon.

OFFICE-SEEKERS REMISS

NONE SEEKING SPACE IN CANDIDATES' PAMPHLET.

Copy for Statements and Arguments Must Be Filed Not Later Than September 23.

SALEM, Or., Sept. 2.—(Special).—The extent to which the candidates' pamphlet for the general election in November will be patronized is probably less than expected, according to the publication in this pamphlet must be filed in the office of the secretary of state not later than September 23, no candidate has engaged any space therein to date.

However, from inquiries made of Sam A. Koser, secretary of state, during the last few days it is evidently the intention of the republican, democratic and socialist parties to avail themselves of this medium of publicity for reaching the voters.

Each political party has prepared a pamphlet in behalf of their candidates for president and vice-president.

One general pamphlet will be published and distributed for the November election. It will contain statements and arguments submitted by and in behalf of the candidates of all parties, and will be mailed to every registered voter. Each political party is restricted to the use of 24 pages and independent candidates to two pages each in the pamphlet.

Political parties and independent candidates must pay $50 for each printed page of space in the pamphlet for all arguments submitted in behalf of any candidate or candidates, excepting only candidates for president or vice-president. All other candidates, who do not submit their arguments or statements through the state committee or the managing officers of their political party, must pay $100 a page for each printed page of space in the pamphlet.

Every person regularly nominated by a political party recognized as such by the laws of the state for president or vice-president or for any state office or for senator or representative in congress is entitled to the use of four pages of space in the campaign book.

No charge is made for the use of space for candidates for president or vice-president for space in the pamphlet, but they must file in the secretary of state's office a signed statement authorizing the publication of such argument as may be submitted by the party and in behalf of their candidates. These candidates are entitled to four pages each, or eight pages jointly in the campaign pamphlet.

STATE HOSPITAL EMPLOYE ARRESTED

SALEM, Or., Sept. 2.—(Special).—George Spiker, employed at the state hospital, was arrested here tonight and charged with passing worthless checks aggregating more than $100.

The police said Spiker had been operating in Salem for about four weeks. The checks were purported to have been signed by W. A. Andrews.

The ex-king of Bavaria is said to own a table service of solid gold including 100 pieces.

NESTLES' AGENT SCORED BY DAIRES

Opposition to League Laid to Attacks on Company.

SELF-DEFENSE ALLEGED

Frank Glass Admits Representations of Producers Are Not Allowed at Tests.

That the Nestles' Food Products company is entitled to the milk controversy in Oregon on the side of the milk distributors solely for reasons of self-defense, because of attacks by the Oregon Dairymen's Co-operative league, was the testimony of Frank Glass, representative of the Nestles' company, before Circuit Judge McCourt yesterday.

"We will not do business with people who broadcast untrue statements and do not tell the truth about the company," he declared.

As a result of this policy, you are not allowing agents of the dairymen to be present at the weighing and testing of milk purchased by your company, before Circuit Judge McCourt yesterday.

"That is right," admitted Glass. "The result of this policy, you are not allowing agents of the dairymen to be present at the weighing and testing of milk purchased by your company, before Circuit Judge McCourt yesterday."

NEGROES CONTEST ESTATE

PROPERTY OF BOOTLEGGERS KILLED IN WRECK INVOLVED.

Victim's Sister Declares White Woman Wedded in Portland Is Not Real Widow.

A battle royal over the estate of William J. Fonville, negro bootlegger who was killed when his automobile overturned at Central, Wash., while he was on a trip to Victoria, B. C., August 16, impends in the circuit court with a white and a negro woman both claiming to be widows of the dead man.

H. W. Sitton was appointed special administrator of the Fonville estate, estimated to be worth approximately $5000, by Circuit Judge Tazewell yesterday to preserve the assets until the heirs can be located.

W. Pomeroy, head of the by-product plant, had shown that 24,817 pounds of cottage cheese had been made there in 1919.

Francis admitted that he had been discharged by the league and now was in the employ of the Portland Damascus creamery, enemy of the league, but denied that he had been discharged because of uttering short propaganda in behalf of their candidates for president and vice-president.

On examination by Judge McCourt, Francis admitted that the only use for skim milk was for the making of cottage cheese or dried skim, that all the former was made that there was a demand for, and that the plant had no facilities for making the latter.

"As far as I know there was nothing else they could do with it except pour it in the sewer," he testified. He said that Pomeroy saw some poured in the sewer, an assertion which Pomeroy, a former witness, had claimed was not true.

The hearing on the injunction sought by the league against the distributors, to restrain them from interfering with operations of the league or persuading dairymen to break their league contracts, will continue today.

JURY RELEASES JOHN BASS

ALBANY, Or., Sept. 2.—(Special).—"Not a true bill" was returned by the Linx county grand jury yesterday in the case of John B. Shelburn, who had been bound over to the grand jury on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon. It is reported that Ephraim Zink of Shelburn, who asserted that Bass had hit him with a gun, accepted tomorrow preferred the charge, withdrew the charge and asked for Bass' release.

MCKENZIE PASS WORK COMPLETED

BEND, Or., Sept. 2.—(Special).—Work on the McKenzie pass highway from Sisters to the summit of the Cascades is completed and the road will be formally accepted tomorrow when Engineer Elliott of the bureau of public roads arrives here from Portland to meet with national forest officials and highway contractors.

VANCOUVER TO RESUME PAVING

VANCOUVER, Wash., Sept. 2.—(Special).—Paving will be resumed tomorrow on several contracts in the city. The work was suspended a short time because of a shortage of cement and crushed rock. Three carloads of cement arrived today, in addition to a large rock.
