

LABORATORY TO TRY 'SUNSHINE FOUR' RECIPE

Customary Parade Foregone for Ceremony.

10 O'CLOCK IS TIME SET

Plans to March Given Up So Every-one Will Be Able to Attend Dedication Programme.

Labor, dispensing with the customary parade, today will have its "finishing" with a programme that will be of historical interest to labor circles.

Labor's programme for the day, however, will open this morning at 10:30 o'clock in the municipal auditorium when Dr. W. T. McElveen, pastor of the First Congregational church, will deliver the oration of the day.

Mayor Baker Also to Speak. Mr. Fitzgerald is deputy state labor commissioner in charge of the Portland district. Mayor Baker, city and county officers and labor leaders also will be called upon for brief talks.

At the conclusion of the exercises the crowd will go to County Center park, where picnics will be held. Games, races and other sporting events also are planned.

General Business to Close. Labor day generally throughout the city is observed as a holiday, with closing of the main postoffice, department stores and banks.

A picnic picnic of sports will be enjoyed by children of the Mount Scott district at the playgrounds near Fifty-second street and Fifty-fifth avenue southeast.

The combined parishes of Our Lord of Sorrows at Woodstock and St. Crystal at Mt. View will picnic at Crystal Lake park.

WALLA WALLA Has No Parade. WALLA WALLA, Wash., Sept. 5.—(Special.)—The Central Trades and Labor council has canceled the Labor day parade here.

NEW BILLS AT THE THEATERS

Orpheum. BY LEONE CASS BAER. JOHN SULLY, who used to come with his clever mother and father and younger brother and very pretty sister each season in a comedy episode at a railway station in which everybody worked at some profession with amazingly humorous results, is at the Orpheum this week.

Baker. BY LEONE CASS BAER. UNDER the happiest auspices, with flowers and color and lights and inspirational music and Mayor Baker to reminiscence pleasantly of 20 years ago when the Baker theater was opened, so opened the new season of that organization at its new home last night. The theater itself has taken on that homelike, cheerful quality that praise agents occasionally call easy. All the enlarged photographs of players, past and present, and the photographed scenes of famous plays which decorated the old theater are now adorning the new Baker, and a good-looking, rich, dark curtain is disclosed when the asbestos curtain rolls up.

OREGON MARKETING MEETINGS STAGED

National Farm Bureau Party Visits Portland. GRAIN BODY TO BE FORMED. Committee Concludes Two Weeks' Investigation in California; Leave for East Tonight.

For the purpose of investigating farmers' co-operative marketing organizations in Oregon, six members of the grain marketing committee of the National Farm Bureau federation are in the city and will hold conferences with leaders of the co-operative movement here today.

It was recently determined by the American Farm Bureau federation to develop plans for a national wheat growers' marketing organization, to embrace wheat farmers in all sections of the country, and in view of this decision, the department of the federation appointed a committee to investigate co-operative marketing in centers where it is being employed successfully.

Easterner in Party. The following members of this committee are in the party: W. G. Eckhardt of Chicago, chief of the grain agricultural division of the Illinois farm bureau federation; J. G. Brown of Monroeville, president of the Indiana farm bureau federation; Harry G. Beale of Mt. Sterling, O., treasurer of the Ohio farm bureau federation; E. G. Nourse of Ames, Ia., professor of agricultural economics of Iowa Agricultural college; F. H. Bauman of Monticello, Ind., president of the Indiana farm bureau federation; and Herman Stein of Chicago, editor of "Prairie Farmer."

The committee has just concluded two weeks in California investigating the co-operative system there and the stay here is for a preliminary proceeding eastward tonight. The work of this committee is preliminary to the work of a committee of the National Farm Bureau federation to be formed in the near future, and association from among the different wheat farmers associations throughout the country to form a national wheat farmers marketing association.

It was said of a successful journalist and publisher who recently died, that he was a man of letters rather than for him. They were fellow workers. They were loyal to him and he was loyal to them.

HOOD RIVER, Or., Sept. 5.—(Special.)—En route from Nesqueim, Tillamook county, to Pomona, Mo., Charles A. Parsons, a registered motorist, was driving a truck carrying Dollie Lee Nesqueim, a registered motorist, when they were stopped by a 3-month-old bull.

Mr. Parsons and his son have equipped a truck with spring-padded sides and the Jersey was riding in apparent comfort. In the truck, the driver and his son were laid down and contentedly chewed his cud. They expect to camp each night in a different place, and the animals can be quickly unloaded and allowed to stretch their legs. They will travel 1800 miles.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Sept. 5.—(Special.)—Estimates of the damage done to wheat recently by the heavy rains vary greatly. Sacked grain left in the field has been damaged to some extent. The sacks were wet through, which will necessitate re-asking in some instances. Some of the wheat is so saturated with moisture that it will rot.

Normal moisture in wheat at this time of the year is nine per cent and tests show as high as 18 per cent. The wheat with a heavy moisture content will have to be replanted at least once a week until dried out, otherwise it will spoil, according to wheat men.
