

ALBANY CHURCHMAN IS HIGHLY HONORED

Rev. Father Lane Invested With New Office.

PAPAL DECREE EXECUTED

Catholic Rector Now Protonotary Apostolic Ad Instar and Has Title of Monsignor.

ALBANY, Or., Sept. 6.—(Special.)—

Rev. Father Arthur Lane, rector of the Albany parish of the Holy See, today was invested with the office of protonotary apostolic ad instar, with the title of Monsignor, to which he was appointed recently by Pope Benedict. Beautiful and impressive ceremonies, attended by prominent clergymen from all parts of the Pacific northwest, marked the investiture.

Coincident with the ceremonies, Father Lane today celebrated the silver jubilee of his ordination as a priest. A banquet given this afternoon by the Knights of Columbus of Albany, a dinner this evening at St. Mary's academy and a reception for Father Lane at the parish hall, marked the day.

Never before have so many clergymen and prominent guests gathered in Albany for any ceremony and the day was one of the most noteworthy ever observed in Albany.

Notable Churchmen Present.

Among the distinguished clergy present were archbishop Christie of Portland, Bishop Carroll of Helena, Mont.; Bishop McGrath of Baker, Vicar General Hanley of Seattle, Monsignor Day of Great Falls, Mont.; Abbott Adelmund of Mount Angel, Prior Maurus of Mount Angel, Father Black of Portland, Chancellor of the Diocese of Oregon City; Father Lawler of Portland and Father Volson of Portland. Almost 100 priests from Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana participated in the ceremonies and prominent officers and members of the Knights of Columbus from various sections of Oregon were here also.

Archbishop Christie of Portland, acting as delegate from the Holy See, invested Father Lane as a protonotary apostolic ad instar in impressive services at St. Mary's church. The papal brief of Father Lane's appointment was read by Father J. H. Black of Portland, chancellor of the diocese. After this was read Father Lane then knelt before the archbishop and made his profession of faith and took the oath of office.

Pontifical high mass then was sung.

Father Lane being attended by Very Rev. John C. Hughes of Portland as assistant priest, Father Henry of St. Louis as deacon and Father Powers of Medford as sub-deacon. Father George Campbell of Portland acted as master of ceremonies and the sermon of the service was delivered by Father George F. Thompson of Portland.

Banquet Given by Knights.

Following the services at the church, Albany council, No. 127, Knights of Columbus, gave a banquet at the Albany hotel in honor of the visiting prelates, Monsignor Lane and the clergy. Several prominent Albany men also were guests. William A. Harriet of this city, past state deputy of the Knights of Columbus presided as toastmaster, and toasts were responded to by L. M. Cull, mayor of Albany; Rev. E. V. O'Hara, L. D., of Eugene; W. L. Marks of Albany; Rev. J. H. Black of Portland; Senator S. M. Gard of Lebanon; Right Rev. A. Hillebrand of Oregon City; Right Rev. A. Christie, D. D., of Portland, archbishop of the diocese; Right Rev. Arthur Lane, Bishop Carroll of Helena, Mont., and Abbott Adelmund of Mount Angel, Or.

During the banquet musical selections were rendered by F. W. Goodrich, organist of St. Mary's cathedral of Portland; Mrs. Rose Glanville of Portland and Mrs. J. Shea of Portland.

The women of the parish served a dinner at 4 o'clock this evening at St. Mary's academy in honor of Monsignor Lane and the visiting clergy. After this dinner a reception was held in the Knights of Columbus hall.

Monsignor Lane Oregonian.

Monsignor Lane is a native Oregonian and a member of one of the state's most prominent pioneer families. He is a grandson of Joseph Lane, first territorial governor of Oregon and one of the state's first two United States senators and a son of Lafayette Lane, who represented Oregon in congress at one time. He is a cousin of the late Harry Lane, former mayor of Portland and United States senator from Oregon.

He was educated for the priesthood at Grand Seminary, Montreal, and ordained as a priest at St. Mary's cathedral in Portland August 5, 1895. The 25th anniversary of his ordination occurred last month, but the silver jubilee celebration was postponed until today, so that it could take place coincident with his investiture.

Father Lane was the first native Oregonian to be ordained as a priest, and has spent all of his 25 years of service in Oregon. He served first as an assistant at the cathedral in Portland, and his first pastorate was at St. Louis, Marion county. He then went to Astoria, where he served a few years, and later was pastor at Jacksonville, having charge of missions at Medford and Ashland. For the past 15 years he has been rector of the Albany parish.

Many Missions Established.

During his pastorate here he established St. Mary's hospital, and among other improvements made during his pastorate are the enlargement of St. Mary's academy and the erection of a parish house. He established missions at Jefferson, Seio, Brownsville, Shelburn, Mill City and Lyons.

The papal brief of Father Lane's appointment recites that it is in particular recognition of his work at the missions. The office of protonotary makes Monsignor Lane a member of the papal household and confers many privileges.

ELKS DEDICATE TEMPLE

Marshfield Ceremonies Closed With Large Lodge Dance.

MARSHFIELD, Or., Sept. 6.—(Special.)—The dedicatory ceremonies for the new Elks temple closed tonight with the lodge "banquet." Many visiting Elks who could not reach here yesterday arrived this morning on the Pullman train and the day was a busy one.

In the afternoon a general reception of visiting and lodge men was held.

School Girl is Missing.

PASCO, Wash., Sept. 6.—(Special.)—Several messages of inquiry have been received by various parties in the city today asking for information regarding Mrs. Anna Crossgrove. It seems that Mrs. Crossgrove had a daughter in St. Mary's training school in Chicago, from which she had recently been released to an aunt, and that the daughter disappeared August 30 and that fears were felt for her safety. Several of the inquiries came from a national news agency.

Mrs. Crossgrove was located in Pasco, where she resides with her husband, a switchman for the Northern Pacific.

ARTISANS END CONVENTION

ORDER IN BEST FINANCIAL CONDITION IN HISTORY.

Membership Growing Rapidly; Astoria Chosen for Next Gathering; Portland Wins Prize.

SALM, Or., Sept. 6.—(Special.)—An address of welcome by Ivan Martin representing Mayor Otto Wilson of Salem, response by H. S. Hudson of Portland, musical selections, competitive drills by degree teams of various lodges of the state and a grand ball featured the closing sessions of the annual convention of United Artisans of the northwest here today.

The morning programme, which was held at the armory, opened with a musical number by Hyman and Max Breslow, followed by the address of welcome by Mr. Martin acting as official representative of Mayor Wilson. John S. Smith of Portland followed with a few brief remarks regarding the progress of the order.

An euphonium solo then was rendered by Ivan Martin, after which Charles Breslow gave a reading. Other numbers included a duet by Miss Bennett and H. E. Hudson, address by H. S. Hudson and solo by H. E. Hudson. Degree teams of the Alberta, Fram and Liberty assemblies of Portland competed in the drill, with the result that the latter was awarded the grand prize of $50. A special prize was awarded to Redemptor lodge for coming the greatest distance to attend the convention.

Reports submitted to the convention showed that the order was in the best financial condition in its history, while the membership has increased rapidly during the last few years. The next convention of the order will be held at Astoria.

During leisure hours today the visiting lodges and their families were taken for automobile drives about the city, as well as being given an opportunity to inspect the various state institutions.

The convention closed tonight, following a dance held in the armory. Delegates were present at the convention from many parts of Washington, Idaho and Oregon and the meeting was declared by officers of the lodge to be the best ever held in the state outside of Portland.

Much credit for the success of the convention is due W. A. Dalziel, deputy state sealer of weights and measures, who was chairman of the local committee on arrangements.

Nine candidates were initiated into the order at the afternoon session.

PIPELESS FURNACE

Coal gases, when released by the heat, must be well mixed with heated air, directly above the flames, in order to ignite and produce heat. The gas, un-mixed with air and not ignited by the flames, escapes up the chimney or accumulates inside the furnace in the form of soot—heat wasted. And there are about 10,000 cubic feet of gas to the ton of soft coal. The because of the air-blast firepot, gets more heat from your fuel. The rising gases are thoroughly mixed with heated air. The big, corrugated combustion chamber causes these valuable heat-producing gases to swirl back to the flames, catch fire and produce more heat. Soft coal, so unsatisfactory in ordinary furnaces, is made to yield more heat in an A-B Furnace. Soot cannot accumulate—it is consumed. There are no places to clean out in an A-B Furnace.

The Right Heating System for your home can be determined in a few minutes by consultation with our Heating Engineer.
