The reports also gave estimates as to the strength of the bolshevik forces on other fronts, the number of men opposing the Polish advance in the Caucasus region, in south Russia, being given as 105,000, including non-combatants. General Wrangel's force is estimated at 140,000 men. On the quiet southwestern front, opposite the Black Sea, the bolsheviks have been reported to have been holding 36,000 rifle troops under the command of General Oberovich, while further eastward on the Caucasus front, the number is placed at 45,000 men. AID FOR WRANGLER REPORTED

U. S. Said to Have Asked List of Goods Wanted in Crimea.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—The Russian liberation committee here, which is an anti-bolshevik organization, today issued an official statement, among other things, that the United States are ready to give him economic aid and asked him to present a list of goods wanted in the Crimea. Russian bolshevik forces fighting against the Poles southwest of Brest-Litovsk have evacuated the city of Hrudzesow, 30 miles west of the Bug river, under pressure from Polish troops, says an official statement issued in Moscow yesterday and received here by wireless. The statement admits that the improvements in that region have been withdrawn to the eastern bank of the Bug river. In the Lemberg region, bolshevik forces, stubborn fighting continues.

highway to the respective cities, instead of attempting arbitrarily to ignore the arrangement by which the highway commission had incurred large obligations and expended large sums of money in reliance thereon. It is probable that by proper negotiations, some arrangement for co-operation between these cities, Polk county, the state and the federal government, for the improvement of the desired branch roads might have been effected. Engagements between a county and a state should be observed with the strictest fidelity by the officials vested with the execution of such engagements, regardless of whether the same are evidenced by formal contract or writing. The highway commission had been engaged in carrying out its part of the understanding for nearly a year before this suit was instituted. It had expended large sums of money in carrying out the work and the improvements in that region have been withdrawn to the eastern bank of the Bug river. In the Lemberg region, bolshevik forces, stubborn fighting continues.

Breach of Faith Imputed.

"The inequity of the plaintiffs' position imputes to Polk county a breach of faith. There seems to be authorities holding that under circumstances similar to those shown by the evidence in this case plaintiffs are guilty of laches. However that may be, the lack of equity in favor of the plaintiffs necessarily prompts the court to act as a taxpayer's suit. In such proceedings, it is necessary that plaintiff plead and prove that some act has been committed, or is threatened, or imminent which will result in some material injury to himself for which there is no adequate remedy at law. It is not sufficient that he apprehends injurious consequences which neither actually exist nor are threatened. Careful, speculative, or even possible evil results are too remote and

SALEM, Or., Sept. 9.—(Special.)—Under the Oregon school laws the term "high school district," as used therein, embraces a district maintaining a high school, or high schools of the standard prescribed or to be prescribed by the state board of education, or its equivalent, to be approved by the state board of education or any union high school district, according to an opinion given by Attorney-General Brown here today. Under the provisions of the act the taxes are levied by the county court on the taxable property of the county not situated in the high school district.

WATER CONGRESS MEETS

Five Governors Expected to Attend Irrigation Session.

According to information received from Seattle it is expected that the governors of five states will be present next Thursday and Friday at the reclamation and irrigation congress that is to meet there. Governor of Washington, Governor Stewart of Montana, Governor Carey of Wyoming, and Governor Davis of Idaho are counted upon to take part in the programme. The railroads have been asked to make excursion rates for the occasion. It is probable that a special car will be chartered for the Portland delegation to attend the congress, as the number will probably be too great to be taken care of with regular train equipment. Whitney L. Boise, chairman of the chamber of commerce committee in charge of arrangements, is listing those who will go and has made a special effort to reach those among the membership who are identified directly with irrigation development or districts through their business connections. Most of the districts throughout the state will be represented at the meeting.

FALL FISHING TO OPEN

Indications Are Columbia River Pack Will Be Small.

ASTORIA, Or., Sept. 9.—(Special.)—The fall fishing season on the Columbia river will open at noon tomorrow and the indications are that only a small amount of fish will be packed. The Herald naturally asks, "what does he mean exactly?" Who does he think is going to "attack" British wells in Mexico and Central and South America? With this in view, some special significance can be attached to his remark in an interview with the Daily Herald: "The world is nearing an oil shortage and must turn to new fields. Concessions held by British subjects in Central and South America, Mexico and Mesopotamia are certain to be attacked, and so ought to have the full protection of the British government."

No woman can overlook these trifles, which all assuredly make for perfection. They are attractively displayed in every section of this store. NEW GIRDLES. The simplest frock may be distinguished by the right sort of girdle. There are girdles of sphinx beads, of jet, of bugle, of coral—colors to enhance the beauty of the costume.

We are glad to announce a recent arrival of a number of high-class tailors which bear the label of the celebrated Pellard. These garments are incomparable for their richness, artistry and beauty. Each is a version of elegance and smartness embodying exquisitely feminine, as well as man-tailored, characteristics. One suit of Dryad tone is of chenille bolivia, the coat exquisitely lined throughout with pussy-willow silk; fashioned with tailored pockets, a touch of hand embroidery in silk of the same soft shade, and the most fascinating squirrel collar. Another suit is of finest bolivia in Kinging blue, the coat tailored with insets of stitching; throat-high collar, tailored pockets and tie belt. An exquisite model is of richest bolivia in clay, with fur trimming of beaver around bottom of coat and on collar. The coat has hand-embroidered panels of French knots, and is lined throughout with fancy pussywillow. And still another model is of rich brown duvet de laine, trimmed with beautiful beaver fur. Hand-embroidered designs enrich the jaunty coat of captivating box style, lined with finest pussywillow silk. The only one of its kind in Portland. These are but a few of the endless styles and colors of the Pellard Tailleurs for early autumn and later wear, creations suitable for many more occasions than is the ordinary tailor.
