NEAR RIOT STAGED BY WOMEN IN COURT

MRS. VAN WART IS FINED

In her own defense Mrs. Van Wart introduced her two little boys and the little colored boy to testify to profane names which Mrs. Smith was alleged to have called Mrs. Van Wart. It was this fact which Judge Ross-man declared had influenced him to levy the fine. The judge declared that in his opinion the taking of the little boys to the courtroom to testify in a case of that character illustrated the moral character of the mother Children should not be yanked from the cradle to testify in a case of this character," declared the judge. "This case illustrates clearly the reason for so many delinquent children," he said. "It is usually a case of delinquent parents." It was during the cross-examination
