

'SLUSH FUND' TOTAL IS DOUBLED BY COX

Democrat Increases Amount in Speech in Idaho.

THROAT IN BETTER SHAPE

League of Nations Preached in Borah's Home Town While Borah Opposes League in Ohio.

BOISE, Idaho, Sept. 14.—A fund of $25,000,000 to $20,000,000 is being raised by the republicans to defeat him, Governor Cox, democratic presidential candidate, declared today during his tour of Idaho and eastern Oregon.

Previously he had charged $15,000,000 was being raised. The governor's statement was made during an hour's speech from the second-story veranda of a Nampa, Idaho, hotel, and in response to a question asking how he expected to return conditions to normal, "when 80 per cent of the wealth is held by 2 per cent of the people."

"If 80 per cent of the people will forget their politics," the governor replied, "and help me lick the 2 per cent that is raising a fund of from $25,000,000 to $30,000,000 to beat me, we will make government an agency for the 100 per cent and not the 2 per cent."

Eight speeches delivered. Eight speeches, dealing mainly with the democratic doctrines of "peace and progress" were delivered by Governor Cox.

Disregarding his physician's orders banning out-door speeches, the governor, believing his attack of "speakers' laryngitis" on the wane, delivered a string of rear platform and other open-air addresses and closed his day with a speech at a large meeting here tonight at a park.

His voice still was quite hoarse, but he weathered another strenuous day of campaigning in good shape, he said.

At Huntington, Or., early today the candidate began work, and en route here made addresses at Ontario, Or., and Weiser, Payette, Caldwell, Meridian and Nampa, Idaho.

The league of nations was preached by the governor in all and was emphasized here in the home city of Senator Borah, republican "irreconcilable" foe of the league. By a coincidence, Senator Borah was said to be speaking tonight at Dayton, O., Governor Cox's home.

League Vaccination Charged. Governor Cox told his audience that opposition to the league was a "political plot against America" as well as a world civilization, designed to continue "disorder" to increase feeling against the Wilson administration and to win the present election.

"History will write it as the most reprehensible in all time," he said. Governor Cox reiterated that the republican platform and candidates were ambiguous and vacillating on the league issue.

"You don't know where the reactionary candidate stands because he himself doesn't know," the governor said, repeating that the opposition party's position was taken because Senator Borah and Senator Johnson of California threatened to "bolt" and form a third party.

Disarmament provisions of the league also were weighed upon as a means of reducing taxes, as well as precluding war.

Separate Peace Denounced. "Stop building battleships," he said, "and we will use that money in the main for reclaiming our land."

The governor denounced making a separate peace with Germany and the "senatorial oligarchy." Urging "independent, non-partisan" action in November, he played the republican leaders and emphasized former President Roosevelt's fight in 1912 against what he said was the "same crowd today."

The candidate repeated his charges and evidence in their support regarding republican campaign contributions. Referring to alleged promises by William M. Wood, president of the American Woolen company, to the republican campaign handbook enterprise of William Barnes Jr., New York, he said he observed by today's papers that the corporation's mills had been ordered reopened. The governor said he was "too modest" to discuss the incident further, except to recount his recent attacks on the corporation and Mr. Wood, whom he charged with seeking to depress wool prices in the face of increased demand and to force employees to accept lower wages. He again denounced "big business" and charged it with contributing toward "purchase of the presidency."

Nugent Accompanies Cox. Governor Cox was accompanied on his tour through Idaho by Senator Nugent, democrat, who is seeking reelection; former Governor Hawley, and T. A. Walters, democratic gubernatorial candidate.

Referring to repeal of the Idaho primary law, Governor Cox said that it was a mistake, adding:

"You can trust the people and when you repeal the primary law and take the power for the people you are presupposing that the people cannot be trusted either in their judgment or in their patriotism and that is a slander upon the citizenship of any state."

The governor left here late tonight to conclude his Idaho campaign tomorrow at Pocatello, Cache Junction, Logan and Brigham, Utah, will be reached en route to Ogden for an afternoon address and the campaign will close tomorrow night at Salt Lake City.

HITCHCOCK PLEADS FOR COX

Harding Held Under Dictation of Senatorial Oligarchy.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—United States Senator Hitchcock, Nebraska, speaking before the Arkwright club here today, declared Governor Cox, if elected, would exercise the powers of his office as they were exercised by William, Roosevelt, Cleveland, Lincoln and other strong men of both parties, while Senator Harding, if elected, would exercise his presidential powers "under some form of dictatorship by a senatorial oligarchy in control of party machinery."

"If this question can be fairly considered by the voters," he said, "it seems to me that a majority will decide in favor of an individual president, rather than a president acting as a figurehead for a combination of senators."

The democratic programme, the senator said, consists of a direct appeal to the people of the country without regard to party, on the issues of the day.

Senator Harding says he believes in party government, and if he elected the republican party will govern," he continued. "It sounds as though the rank and file of the republican party were to reach important decisions and shape party policies. The real meaning of it, however, is that the party caucus of United States senators in Washington would in those circumstances run the government just as they ran the late republican convention. Obviously, this is a party campaign of misrepresentation and falsehood. It harmonizes with dodging the issue and deceiving the voter."

COX ASKED TO BE EXPLICIT

Nominee Told to Answer Prohibition Query Frankly.

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—Virgil G. Hinshaw today made public a telegram sent by him to Governor Cox asking him to define his position on the question of opposition to an increased alcoholic content in beverages.

Referring to the democratic nominee's statement yesterday that the "liquor issue is dead," Mr. Hinshaw's message adds that the women voters' league, W. C. T. U. and prohibition national committee had repeatedly asked him to say whether "if elected president you would use your legislative power, which amounts to 72 votes in the lower house and 15 in the upper house, to prevent the passage of a law increasing the alcoholic content in beverages above one-half of 1 per cent as now provided."

In conclusion, the message says: "Why not answer this question openly and frankly? Cease to camouflage."

SHAFTS TO BE UNVEILED

CONFEDERATE GENERALS' MEMORIES HONORED.

Memorials of Granite Columns Are Erected to Names of Ramseur and Pettigrew.

WINCHESTER, Va., Sept. 14.—Memorials to two Confederate generals, Stephen Dodson Ramseur and James Johnston Pettigrew, both North Carolinians, will be unveiled near here this week at the places where they died. Many southerners, principally North Carolinians, are expected here for the exercises, which will be under the joint auspices of the North Carolina division of the United Confederate Veterans, the North Carolina division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy and the North Carolina historical commission.

The two memorials consist of granite columns, the gift of the late Colonel Mayo of Richmond, Va. The tablet on the Ramseur memorial reads:

Northwest of this tablet, 800 yards, is the Boyd house, in which died, October 20, 1864, of wounds received at Cedar Creek, October 19, 1864, Major-General Stephen Dodson Ramseur, C. S. A., a native of North Carolina, he resigned from the United States army in 1861 and, entering the Confederate states army as a lieutenant, rose to the rank of major-general at the age of 27.

The Pettigrew memorial tablet is inscribed:

Due west of this tablet, 800 feet, is the Boyd house, in which died, July 17, 1863, Major-General James Johnston Pettigrew of North Carolina, C. S. A. At Gettysburg he commanded the 1st division in the assault on Cemetery Ridge, wounded and killed. He was mortally wounded at Falling Waters, and died at the age of 27.

"He was a brave and accomplished officer and gentleman, and he will be deeply felt by the country and the army."

JAPAN'S DELAY REPORTED

Complaint Made to U. S. Department of Commerce by Attache.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Increasing difficulties between Japanese customs officials and American traders in Japan, leading to delays in entering and installing American industrial machinery, there were reported to the department of commerce today by Commercial Attache Abbott at Tokio.

The attache said it was quite possible that a misconception of the economic forces behind Japan's heavy imports of industrial machinery had caused undue zeal on the part of customs officials in applying the import regulations.

Japanese imports continue far in excess of exports and this adverse balance of trade can only be relieved by an increase in exports or a decrease in imports, Mr. Abbott's message said.

SHELL BURSTS; 5 KILLED

One petty officer and nine sailors were fatally injured, while two others were slightly wounded.

Vice-Admiral Prince Fushimi was aboard the warship when the explosion took place, but escaped injury. It is understood the damage was confined to one of the turrets of the ship.

RADICALS TO FACE FIGHT

SOVIETISTS IF RE-ELECTED MAY BE OUSTED.

Assemblymen Unsettled for Alleged Disloyalty Making Strong Race for Office.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—A special election will be held here Thursday, September 16, to decide whether the five socialist assemblymen ousted from the New York legislature last winter for alleged disloyalty shall be returned with the addition of another member of the same political faith.

Republican and democratic leaders in the state's lower house have declared that if the five ousted men are re-elected, steps will be taken to deprive them or to expel them again after they have taken their seats. The ouster last spring focused on Albany the attention of public leaders of all parties all over the country.

The five socialists who were expelled last year are all candidates for reelection. They are August Claassen and Louis Waldman of Manhattan, Samuel A. DeWitt and Samuel Orr of the Bronx, and Charles Solo-man of Brooklyn. Nat Rubin is the socialist candidate of the nineteenth Brooklyn district for the seat vacated by the death of John Damico, assemblyman.

In each case the socialists are prosecuting their campaigns vigorously. Efforts have been made by republicans and democrats to agree on fusion candidates in opposition to the socialists, or failing this, to have one of these two parties make no nominations.

To save their assemblies from another expulsion if elected, socialists of the state have announced that they would amend their constitution, striking out several of the articles which were cited in the ouster proceedings of last year as rendering the socialists unfit to sit in the assembly. A referendum vote is to be taken by the party on these proposed changes before the election.

Two of the provisions of the socialist constitution which party leaders say will be amended are those prohibiting members from voting for military appropriations and providing that the party may force resignation of its representative in case he fails to obey their instructions.

WIDOW SAYS SHE'S JILTED

$20,000 WANTED BECAUSE FIANCE WED ANOTHER.

Plaintiff Says She Found Out About Wedding Only When She Tried to Hurry Her Own.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 14.—(Special.)—To have your fiance marry somebody else without notifying you is humiliating to the extent of $20,000, according to Annie Abrahamson, a widow and proprietress of a brick factory, who has filed suit in superior court for alleged breach of promise on the part of D. A. Marshall, identified with shipbuilding and other commercial projects.

Mrs. Abrahamson is the widow of Alfred Abrahamson, and as his successor is principal partner in the A. Abrahamson Brick company. She lives at Thirteenth avenue, southwest, and West Edmunds street. In her complaint she declares that in July and August, 1919, she and Marshall discussed marriage, and agreed on a life partnership which was never fulfilled.

She still is willing to marry him she affirms, or would be if he hadn't lost his eligibility to wed.

Their engagement, asserts the complaint, continued until July 13, 1920.

When, without warning, she learned of her alleged fiance's alleged marriage. On this day, she contends, she notified Marshall that she thought it was time they were going to the min-later. Abruptly, she relates, he told her it couldn't be done, for he was then a married man. The resulting mental anguish she values at the sum demanded.

Porous rubber prevents premature blowouts

What we have learned about tire troubles

Why porous rubber in ordinary tires breaks down quickly

SEE how this tread is wearing down! Look at this sand bore! The tread of this tire is all loose! These are the complaints that dealers have been hearing for years.

This is what you would hear if you were selling ordinary tires. For years tire manufacturers, large and small, have been working to overcome these common tire troubles. Yet until recently the secret weakness of rubber tires had not been known.

Ordinary rubber is porous—it absorbs moisture, grit, oil, grease and other foreign substances. It quickly weakens and disintegrates. To produce a rubber that has not these weaknesses, two practical tire men and two research chemists spent months in laboratory research and road tests. They discovered Crolide—a non-porous rubber compound which eliminates premature tire troubles.

Crolide seals up the millions of small pores. Made with Crolide Compound, Thermoid tires are from 50% to 100% tougher than ordinary tires, yet they gain in resiliency. It was after comparing their value, point by point, with 9 other makes that we became distributors for Thermoid Crolide Compound Tires for this territory.

You are invited to call and see these new tires—also famous Crolide Compound tubes. Let us tell you why Thermoid Tires end premature trouble and give better mileage. Write or ask for name and address of the Thermoid dealer who will supply you.
