

LEGION IS TO FIGHT FINNISH NEWSPAPER

Influence Is Vicious, Says Resolution Adopted.

EDITORS NOW IN PRISON

Restriction of Immigration Recommended by Session Held in Astoria.

Fully persuaded that the Toveri, Finnish newspaper published at Astoria, was inimical to the American Legion and everything for which the organization stands, the state executive committee of the American Legion, meeting in Portland yesterday afternoon, pledged itself to unrelenting warfare against that newspaper, in which would be employed "all legitimate means" to destroy its influence.

Though the editors of the newspaper have been imprisoned following trial in the federal court on disloyalty charges and are serving two-year sentences, the publication continues to spread what legionnaires believe to be a vicious influence, not only in the northwest, but in other parts of the country reached by its circulation as the organ of Finnish socialists. In the past the fight against the paper has been carried on only in Astoria, but the action yesterday means that the state organization will bring its guns into action also.

Enlistment of the forces of organized labor in the American Legion's fight against radicals and disloyalty is the purpose of a recommendation to be presented at the national convention of the legion at Cleveland, O., September 27 by the Oregon department.

Radicals to Be Fought.

It is recommended that the relation between local posts of the legion and local councils of labor be surveyed and views interchanged on social and economic questions with the aim of enlisting the aid of labor against radicals and of teaching each organization the viewpoints of the other.

Rogers MacVaugh, chairman of the American committee of the Oregon department, had drafted the recommendations of the legion state convention at Astoria into form for presentation at the national meeting. His report was adopted. It recommended the handling of the Japanese immigration problem as a national and not a coast problem; the restriction of all immigration; the investigation of all American institutions and places; and a national law prohibiting the publication of foreign-language newspapers unless parallel columns of English translations were used.

Bitter Fight Promised.

Major William S. Gilbert of Astoria, department commander of the American Legion, presided at the meeting, which was attended by G. L. Goodell, vice-commander; Edward J. Elvera, adjutant; Prescott W. Cookinham, finance officer; George R. Wilbur of Hood River, executive committeeman; Howard Gildea of McMinnville, executive committeeman; Ben S. Morrow of Portland, executive committeeman; Rogers MacVaugh of Portland, and Dr. R. H. Hoskins of Astoria, representing the executive committee of Klatsop post.

MacVaugh was reappointed chairman of the grievance committee and Arthur A. Murphy of Corvallis chairman of the grievance committee. Rev. G. H. Parkinson of Corvallis, state chaplain, was named chairman of the benevolence committee.

The resolution concerning the Toveri, moved by Wilbur of Hood River, follows:

"Resolved, that the executive committee, American Legion of Oregon, is fully persuaded that the Toveri, a newspaper published at Astoria, Oregon, exclusively in a foreign language, is an enemy to this organization and to the things for which it stands, continuing to oppose this organization and its efforts to enlarge its membership and further its work, that its influence is vicious and contrary to those things which the legion is advancing in its desire for better Americanism, and in results makes for actual disloyalty.

"And this executive committee does declare its purpose to combat and oppose all such efforts and influence on the part of such newspapers and of the movement of which it seems to be the agent and mouthpiece, with all legitimate means."

MAN AUTOIST HIT LOST

ACCIDENT REPORTED BY DRIVER BUT VICTIM GONE.

Inmate of Hospital Who Is Dazed May Be One Sought by Police to Clear Mystery.

A full-fledged mystery was presented to the accident department of the traffic bureau at the police station last night. Department sleuths puzzled over it in vain, and at a late hour the mystery was still unsolved.

Warren Paulsen of 567 1/2 East Davis, reported to the accident department last night that he had run over a man at 5:20 o'clock at Sixteenth and Gilsan streets. He stopped the machine, he said, and supported the unconscious man to the pavement, when the driver of another machine volunteered to take the injured man to the hospital. Paulsen did not take the man's name or address.

Thomas Bathe, of whom little is known beyond the fact that he is an employee of the Ames-Harris-Neville company, Fifteenth and Gilsan streets, was taken to the Good Samaritan hospital at about the same time in the afternoon. He was unconscious and suffering from a cut in his head. When he was taken to the hospital, he remembered nothing. He did not know how he was hurt, or who had done it, or who had taken him to the hospital. Hospital authorities reported last night that the man was in a dazed condition, but apparently was not seriously injured.

The police believe that the man who was run down by Paulsen is the man who was taken to the hospital.

WIFE CHARGES KIDNAPING

HOME WAS IN DUGOUT IN HILLS, SAYS MRS. RUSSELL.

Place of Abode Infested With Rattlesnakes, Rats and Mice, Says Divorce Applicant.

Life in a dugout on a Montana hillside with a man known as "Dirty Jack" was related by Mrs. Mildred M. Russell to Presiding Circuit Judge Tazwell yesterday in the course of her successful divorce suit against Earl E. Russell, whom she said, kidnaped her when she was but 15 years old.

"The home to which he took me was simply a dugout, a hole in the ground boarded half-way up," she testified. "It was infested with rats and mice and we killed one rattlesnake in the place. We saw another rattler and other kinds of snakes there. Later we lived in a board shack, which had cracks covered by newspapers to keep out the rain and cold."

She had little respect for her husband, she said.

"He was known around Ingomar, Mont., as 'Dirty Jack,'" she averred. "He was lazy, dirty and a thief. He would rob freight cars of food, and I would make him take it back."

Accusations as to the personal appearance and habits of Russell were substantiated by the mother of the plaintiff, who also told of the alleged kidnaping of her daughter when she was 15. She said further that Russell had stolen an automobile from her and that it had never been returned.

"He's as crooked as they make 'em," was the description of Theophilus Serr as given by his spouse in the court of Judge Tazwell yesterday.

Serr made a dramatic appearance in court to charge collusion in the divorce action brought by Mrs. Regina Serr, saying that his wife had lived with him since the suit was filed and that she really desired to withdraw it, but had been prevented by her attorney, the realists.

The charges fizzled out when Mrs. Serr brought witnesses into court to deny her husband's allegations and then he finally admitted in open court that they were untrue. Mrs. Serr accused her husband of deserting her, leaving her penniless almost a year ago, of spending $200 on a "booze party" and of compelling her to wear his sister's old clothes.

Because he had annoyed her considerably after she filed her divorce complaint, Judge Tazwell allowed a temporary restraining order preventing him from molesting her, to remain in force, warning Serr to keep away from the woman who had been his wife.

Other default divorce decrees awarded by Judge Tazwell were: Frank E. from Ruth F. Meyers, Molite B. from Arthur B. Wright, Florence from John M. Archer, Margaret H. from George A. Mearns, Thillie from E. H. Bauley, Nora A. from Marvin A. Van Bessa, Lula from Robert Johnson, Paul from Mabel G. Clarke, Viola from Anthony J. Nellis, Beatrice from Wilfred R. Keyzer, Nettie from M. L. Tobias, Thelma R. from Leonard L. Campbell, Ethel E. from Elmer M. Church, Sylvia from Harry W. Polley, John from Milton Van Eensteene, Cora D. from George T. Hamblin, James D. from Mary D. Session, Viola from Anthony J. Welber, Bessie E. from James W. Taylor, Pauline from Lewis Peacock, Bessie from Peter Puluso, Catherine from Fred E. Whitlock and Estella from George H. Humphries.

The only divorce suit filed in the circuit court yesterday was that of Jennie Arnhart against George W. Arnhart, alleging cruelty.

SMITH CASE DROPPED

Damage Suit Against Portland Officer Falls, Wires Mowry.

Plaintiff Quit Today, Am Leaving," Was the terse message received by District Attorney Evans yesterday from George Mowry, deputy city attorney, who went to Twin Falls, Idaho, to defend B. F. Smith, city police inspector, in a $10,000 damage suit brought against the officer by F. B. Wilkins.

Wilkins brought the action for alleged false arrest, being taken to Portland from Twin Falls by the officer in the belief that he was Charles Mackley, wanted here for automobile theft. The mistake of identity was that of the sheriff at Twin Falls, as Smith had never seen the man he was sent for. James Leaning, retained with Wilkins, pleaded guilty to complicity in the theft October 23, 1919, and was sentenced to three months in the county jail and paroled.

BOBBIE BURNS IS HONORED

St. Andrews Society Hears Lecture After Banquet.

The memory of his "beloved poet, Bobbie Burns," was honored at a meeting of St. Andrews society held last evening in the green room of the chamber of commerce. Peter Allan, captain, delivered the principal address of the evening. He spoke on "Burns and the Scotch people," illustrating his talk with stereopticon views.

He opened his talk with quotations from favorite Burns poems and then showed scenes of the house where the poet was born, members of his family, houses in which he lived when he wrote his poems and other pictures. Mr. Allan interspersed his talk with many Scotch stories.

J. MacMillan Muir sang several Scotch songs. The evening meeting was preceded by a banquet.

GREEK LOSES BIT OF EAR

Clash With Countryman Furious One While It Lasts.

Dan Lenos, 20, a Greek shoeshine parlor proprietor, in a battle with a fellow countryman, Peter Sarandopoulos, last night, bit a large piece from his opponent's ear before the fight was ended by police.

The dispute is said to have arisen over a lease on a shoeshine establishment at Park and Washington streets. It is said, outside his rival for the coveted stand and a clash resulted. The police were notified that Sarandopoulos had threatened to shoot Lenos, but when Patrolmen Fair and Smith arrived on the scene, there were no weapons in evidence.

Both were arrested and lodged in jail. Lenos, whose bail was fixed at $500, was charged with mayhem, and Sarandopoulos, after treatment at the emergency hospital, was held as a complaining witness under bail of $50.

Student Movement Begun.

The movement of students to Oregon Agricultural college at Corvallis began today. Special cars will be placed on all Southern Pacific electric trains to accommodate the added travel. Sunday a special train will be run, leaving Portland at 4:30 P. M., to take care of the largest movement of any single day, while all regular trains on Sunday probably will carry the limit of six cars each to take care of the travel. Reports received at the general passenger office of the Southern Pacific indicate that the college enrollment will exceed that of any previous year.

Combing Won't Rid Hair of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and destroy it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—Adv.
