CROWD EXPECTED AT REPUBLICAN RALLY

Iowa Governor to Get Enthusiastic Welcome.

EXECUTIVE GOOD FIGHTER

Reputation as Campaigner Already Made-Robert N. Stanfield to Introduce Speaker.

Robert N. Stanfield, republican nom Ince for United States senator, will introduce Governor Harding of Iowa at the Hardng-Coolidge ratification rally at the auditorium Saturday rally at the auditorium Saturday night.

"We are getting splendid reports on the ability of Governor Harding as a campaigner," said Chairman Tongue. "He made one of the best speeches at the Chicago convention nominating Governor Lowden. Men who kow Governor Harding say that as a speaker he rivals the candidate for president himself."

Chairman Tongue will preside, Governor Harding will be met at the union station by a reception committee of republicans and former Iowans. The latter are taking great interest in the coming of the governor of their former state and they are planning to attend the rally in force and also to sing as a number during the evening the lowa state song, "Where the Tall Corn Grows." Before the arrival sing as a number during the evenling the lowa state song, "Where the Tall Corn Grows." Before the arrival of the speaker, beginning at 7:30 P. M., W. B. Boone will play several numbers on the organ. Solos and campaign songs by quintets will e'aliven the programme.

Invitations to attend the rally have been sent to all republican clubs and to the republican editors of the state.
Republican clubs of neighboring counties are planning to send large delegations.

MANY MEETINGS ANNOUNCED

Various Issues to Be Discussed by Well-Known Speakers.

Nine meetings by republican clubs will be held tomorrow evening to celebrate Constitution day. Speakers will discuss the constitution of the United States and the league of na-United States and the league of nations, as advocated by the democrats, showing how it would affect the constitution. The various clubs have provided interesting entertainment.

The meetings are to be held under the auspices of the republican county central committee and will mark what is considered the initial move of the campaign to swing Oregon for Harding and Coolidge.

Meeting places and speakers follow:

W. P. O'Brien, republican state committeeman from Clatsop county brought the news to Portland yesterday that the Clatsop county republican committee had rented the Sunset theater in Astoria for its political headquarters for the rest of the campaign. It is located on Commercial street, has plenty of display space for lithographs and banners in front and has seating capacity for 500. Ordinary political railles will be held there. The theater is equipped with a motion-picture machine, on which a motion-picture machine, on which
