

FIVE INDICTED FOR HEDDERLEY'S DEATH

3 Internal Revenue Men, 2 Policemen Held.

MANSLAUGHTER IS CHARGE

Fatal Shooting of Suspect in Liquor Arrest Is Cause of Jury's Charge.

Three internal revenue inspectors and two policemen were indicted yesterday by the Multnomah county grand jury for involuntary manslaughter as the result of the slaying of Robert W. Hedderley, alleged bootlegger, on the night of September 10.

Those indicted were William R. Wood, James J. Higgins and Delanson C. Smith, revenue inspectors, and E. M. Jackson and William D. Morris, policemen. Presiding Judge Tazewell fixed the bond of Jackson at $1000, Wood, Morris and Higgins at $2000, and Smith at $1000.

Hedderley was shot and fatally wounded on the east side of the city, on September 10, when he failed to halt at the command of these five officers, who were investigating alleged liquor violations.

Arrival Wailed by Sleuths. The officers had laid in wait at an east side house for several hours awaiting Hedderley's arrival in an automobile.

When he arrived and another passenger alighted, the officers started to surround the machine. When he saw the officers coming, Hedderley started the machine in motion, and upon failing to heed the command to halt he was struck in the head by a bullet fired by one of the officers.

His machine swerved over to a curb and came to a halt. Hedderley was found crouched over the steering wheel in a dying condition, and succumbed a short time later at St. Vincent's hospital.

In Hedderley's machine after the killing the officers found a quantity of colored water, they ascertained, and a small quantity of rum. They alleged they had information that Hedderley was making delivery of liquor at the east side house when they intercepted him.

Two Policemen Suspended. The two policemen, Morris and Jackson, were held for several hours pending the outcome of the grand jury investigation of the affair. They have been assigned to assist the other operatives in liquor investigations for several months.

Other indictments returned yesterday by the grand jury included: Peter Bank, larceny of clothing from Peter Johnson, and Ralph M. Brady, involuntary manslaughter, as the result of the death of Ray Connor in an automobile accident. Richard Brooks, for a serious criminal offense; Michael Dixon, for a serious criminal offense; Russell Dewick and Henry Schneidermiller, for assault and robbery of J. C. Ransom; George Muir, forgery; and a minor girl and Frank Wilson, for burglary.

4 INDICTED AT ASTORIA

Murder of Wife by Drowning Is Laid to Olof Anderson.

ASTORIA, Or., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—The grand jury this afternoon returned six indictments. They were: Olof Anderson, for murder in the first degree for drowning his wife, Minnie Olof Anderson, by throwing her into the Columbia river on August 1; H. Henning, manufacturing intoxicating liquor; Solomon Johnson, larceny, stealing property valued at $25 from Alex Wilson on August 5; Mickey Lorraine, larceny in a dwelling house, stealing various articles belonging to Chris Vasilion at the Astor house on August 29; Roper E. Muntz, and Walter G. Owen, larceny in a dwelling house by stealing money from the Hotel Seaside Annex.

Hupert E. Muntz was arraigned in court this afternoon and on recommendation of the district attorney was permitted to plead guilty of larceny. He was sentenced to six months in the county jail and then paroled to his uncle in Portland.

While Olof Anderson has already made a signed confession that he drowned his wife, the grand jury is holding him guilty to the murder charge. State Senator Norblad has been engaged to defend him and it is understood the grounds of his defense will be insanity.

FIRE LAW IS UP TODAY

COUNCIL TO GIVE FINAL CONSIDERATION TO ORDINANCE.

Draft Requires That All Elevator Shafts in Rooking Houses and Hotels Be Enclosed.

Final consideration of the proposed ordinance drafted by Fire Marshal Grenfell requiring that all elevator shafts, stairways and light vents in hotels and rooming houses be enclosed will be made this morning by the city council.

A week ago Fire Marshal Grenfell and Chief Building Inspector Plummer were directed to make investigations and submit a joint report covering the approximate cost of necessary alterations to existing buildings if the changes required under the proposed ordinance were placed into effect.

Such investigations have been made, but it is understood that the report cannot be formulated in time for submission to the council this morning.

However, the date of hearing on the ordinance having been set, it is announced that the ordinance will receive consideration, and although the ordinance may not be acted upon today all persons interested will have an opportunity to speak in defense or in opposition to the ordinance.

FURS AND MYSTERY

N. M. ANGEL.

Far up in the Andes Mountains in Chile and Bolivia are the native haunts of the chinchilla. This little animal furnishes the most beautiful fur found in South America, or, according to many, in the whole world.

The genuine chinchilla fur (we say genuine chinchilla fur because there are several cross breeds of the chinchilla whose fur does not compare with the genuine in density or softness) is as soft and delicate as purlined down and its exquisite coloring embraces every shade of grey from the lightest to the darkest.

The chinchilla is a very small animal, being from ten to fourteen inches in length, including the tail, and until some twenty-five years ago the annual collection of skins amounted to more than four hundred thousand. A few years ago, however, the Chilean government enacted a law prohibiting the catching, selling and exporting of these skins. After March, 1921, they may be caught in limited numbers during but four months of the year.

Because the majority of chinchilla skins came from Chile, the price of this fur has risen steadily since the enactment of this drastic protective measure. Your preference for a fur of as possessing ample means can afford to adorn ourselves with this beautiful fur.

In addition to the chinchilla, South America annually furnishes us with skins of the otter, wolf, skunk, weasel, mink, ermine, fox, wild cat, jaguar, paco and rabbit, as well as deer, elk, goat and sheep skins.
