Do the "movies" affect your eyes?

We are frequently asked whether moving pictures are injurious to the eyes.

Scientific investigation has not found any evidence that pictures projected on a screen are harmful to the normal eye.

If a visit to the "movie" theaters produces any symptoms of visual discomfort such as headache, dizziness, twitching or smarting of the lids, or nausea, you should see that your eyes are examined immediately-and here, of course, where you are sure of thoroughness and accurate con-
