COMMERCE AND WASHINGTON OPEN SEASON TODAY.

New Players on Both Squads Cause Last-Minute Changes and Shifts in Line-Up.

The stage is all set for the opening of the interscholastic football league this afternoon on the Multhomah Amateur Athletic club gridiron with the High School of Commerce eleven and the Washington high team play-ing the principal foles. , , The opening contest is not expected to be the best of the season by any means, as new players on both squads have made several changes in the lineups necessary and the teamwork as a result has suffered considerably.

Man for man, the Washington play-ers are expected to outweigh the Commerce gridders, but if the field is dry the bookkeepers are expected to offset the weight disadvantage by open field work. Herman Cook, for-washington is being primed for the battle by Coach Fenstermacher, who, with a heavy team, can resort to straight football tactics for yardage gains. Both teams have practically the same number of last year's veteras back in the harness.
