terday in federal court, when the case came up for trial. When the defendant, a Chinese farmer living near Donald, took the stand he told for the first time the name of the other man who, he declared, had left the suitcase containing 35 ounces of the drug in his dwelling.

"He was a friend of my father's and his name was Harry Wong," Sing said. "He came from Salt Lake and carried two suitcases. I let him sleep at my house over night and the next day he went off with only one of the suitcases. When he waved good-by he said he left something in the house and would come back for it later. I've never seen him since."

Sing was arrested after officers had pursued an automobile toward Donald. Shots are said to have been exchanged and the whole affair was rather spectacular. The case will probably go to the jury this morning.

PENDER THANKS OLCOTT

ABSENCE OF SALOON HELD BENEFIT TO PUBLIC.

Man, Pardoned From Life Sentence, Declares ePeople Seem Better Off Than Before.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 4.—John Arthur Pender, who recently was pardoned from the state penitentiary after serving eight years of a life term for the murder of Mrs. Daisy Wehrman and her little son in Columbia county in September, 1911, called at the executive offices here today and personally expressed his appreciation of the action taken by Governor Olcott in giving him his freedom.

"When I entered the prison," said Pender, "there was a saloon on every corner, people were shabbily clad, the streets were crowded with drunks and idleness prevailed in all sections of the state. When I returned to Portland two weeks ago I noticed a great change. Everybody is well dressed, the conditions are improved and there is work for all who would be self-respecting and honorable. I hardly knew Portland, but I am glad to say that the saloon is gone and that the temptations which have sent many good men to prison have been eliminated.

"My aged mother, who was so loyal to me during my long term of confinement, is the happiest woman in the world, while my wife shed tears of joy when we were united on the night of my release from prison."

Mr. Pender told Governor Olcott today that conditions at the penitentiary were the best at the present time of any period during his eight years' incarceration in the institution.

CANDIES

—The same sweets which royalty in Europe favored, made by the same artist who enjoyed the patronage of kings and queens.

RUE DE LA PAIX CHOCOLATES

—RUE DE LA PAIX CANDIES were the most popular confections with many crowned heads of Europe when our confectioner produced his little masterpieces in candy abroad.

¶ He is a native of Budapest, the noted capital of Hungary. There for many years he made candies much sought by royalty, among whom were

Queen of Greece, Queen of Roumania, Queen of Holland, Emperor Franz Joseph, King of Serbia and others

¶ But this creator of sweets no longer makes candy for kings and queens. He now presides in our candy kitchen on the Eighth Floor, where he creates even better candy, because better ingredients are available.

¶ And what are Rue de la Paix Candies, and what does Rue de la Paix signify?

¶ There is a wonder-street in Paris—a street that is world-renowned for its production of only the very finest things in the world—Rue de la Paix. These candies were wisely named, for Rue de la Paix Boxes contain only the most delicious and most wholesome confections—no other candy equals them, and their price, considering the quality, is very reasonable.

¶ The Rue de la Paix Boxes are packed with such delicious creations as

- Stuffed Dates—Dates stuffed with choicest of candied apricots and selected walnuts—preserved with a rum extract.
- Orange Marmalade Cups—Filled with orange marmalade and walnuts and dipped with creamy milk chocolate.
- Epfemeres—Made of delicious whipped chocolate centers rolled in chocolate nonpareil.
- Avelin Creams—Filled with delicious almond nougat and roasted almonds.
- Dauphins—Of cream brulle with flavor of cream and almonds.
- Odettes—Fluffy whipped chocolate dipped in milk chocolate.
- Clotilles—Filled with whipped almonds and cream and rolled in chocolate nonpareil.
- Vivian Creams—Filled with burnt almonds and sugar and dipped in plain chocolate.
- Mocha Straws—A center of hard candy made with lots of butter and cream—rolled in chocolate and ends dipped in chocolate nonpareil.
- Chocolate Truffles—Creamy whipped chocolate dipped in milk chocolate and rolled in roasted almonds.
- Wonder Creams—Most marvelous coffee butter-cream centers, dipped in milk chocolate.
- Turkish Coffee—Black Coffee liquor centers and coffee cream covering.

¶ And then there are the most delicious centers of Maraschino cherries—peaches—apricots—pineapple—dipped in cream and milk chocolate.

¶ Remember, candies good enough for you are good enough for royalty. $2.00 the pound.
