pent before it was too late. The student of court procedure will think, also, that something more than a protest ought to be done to be possible to prevent collusive divorce, which is nominally forbidden by existing statutes.

A MONSTROSITY. The Astoria Budget may be credited with a striking and homely illustration of the utter futility of the 4 and 5 per cent interest limit.

LET 'EM HAVE THEIR SAY. Through the neighborly medium of the more or less dependable Eugene Guard, The Oregonian learns a bit of news, which in fairness it feels that it should pass along. It is:

THE PROOF OF A TRUTH. The people of Seattle will learn from the editorial in the Post-Intelligencer, have made an important discovery. It is that the former mayor has been telling the truth.

MAKE CLOTH TELL THE TRUTH. Arrival at Boston from Germany of a steamer with a cargo of woolen rags moves a correspondent of the Rural New Yorker to protest against the trade in shoddy made of rags.

WHY CONSTITUTION ENDURES. Framers Refused to Adopt "Palliatives" and Held On. —(To the Editor.)—In The Oregonian on September 23 you published a letter signed Miller A. Miller, which, if sensed correctly by the writer, is intended as a justification for ratification.

TO DETECT CRANKS. Let us hope for the speedy presence of the instrument known as the Divorce Detector.

BOLSHEVISM LOSING ITS GRIP. Amistice between Poland and the soviet government of Russia marks the first decisive defeat suffered by the bolsheviks since they made peace with the Baltic states.

LOOKS AS IF ONE WALK AT LEAST ON THE END OF THE MORRISON BRIDGE MIGHT BE LAID TO FAVOR PEDESTRIANS.

ganda and revolution throughout the world. The military victories of the bolsheviks have won an undeserved reputation for strategy and material prowess.

THE WORK CURE. Two instances of cures effected by the therapy of work are reported by an exchange. In one, a man apparently a hopeless mental sufferer, was sent to a state institution, where he was put to work with pick and shovel.

QUESTIONS DEALING WITH CONSENT. Submitted to McArthur. —(To the Editor.)—Congressman McArthur, alarmed at the rising tide of indignation among the voters of Multnomah county at his persistent vetoes in the house.

THOSE WHO COME AND GO. Rains have sadly interfered with the road construction work in the valley, says Editor of the highway department, who arrived from Tillamook yesterday with N. J. Drew, chief of the public works.

FATAL BLUNDER MADE BY COX. PORTLAND, Oct. 8.—(To the Editor.)—The accidental propaganda that Governor Cox fired at the republican party has resulted in nothing but fatal discouragement of democratic political hopes.

OLD FRIEND IS BACK AGAIN. Subscriber's Plan to Sever Self From World News Not Satisfactory.

MASON AND DIXON'S LINE. PORTLAND, Oct. 8.—(To the Editor.)—The boundary between Maryland and Pennsylvania as surveyed by Charles Mason and Jeremiah Dixon in 1763-7.
