BETTY BAXTER'S NAME NOT BORN OF WILD IMAGINATION

Girl Who Sings "Oh Promise Me" in Robin Hood at Heilig Spent Happy Honeymoon in Portland.

BY LEONE CASS BAER.

BETTY BAXTER'S name is Betty Baxter, although its owner says she has a hard time convincing people that she didn't take it from a novel. "It really sounds like these alliterative and alluring titles that decorate the heads of departments in newspapers and magazines," says Addington's Advice to the Aged, or "Henna Hopfer's Hints to the Helpless" or "Belle's Beauty Bazaar" and similars. But that isn't the way it happened. The Baxter was pre-arranged by my friend and the Betty a natural diminutive of the dignified Elizabeth they bestowed on me at Miss Baxter, along with the rest of the Robin Hood company, is still remembering the only by the grace of Providence she and they are at the Heilig this week instead of distributed in segments around the village of Wenatchee, Washington.

Betty Baxter, who is at Heilig in "Robin Hood."

"It was last Sunday morning about 4 o'clock that we took part in a wreck on the Great Northern going from Wenatchee to Centralia. We had two engines to our train and one of them slid right into a creek and the other engine reared right up on its hind wheels like a horse about to leap over the bank. It was raining and we were all shaken out of our senses and our heads. No lives were lost, the men on the engines having forethought to jump in time. From 4 in the morning until 8 after the dinner had exhausted its supply long before noon.

Miss Baxter remembers Portland pleasantly for she honeymooned in this city, she said. She married a Chicago man, Herbert Spencer Johnson, who was pianist at the Multnomah hotel a few years ago. They were wed in Chicago and came out with the Salon Singers, an Orpheum headline act, in which Mr. Johnson was the pianist and his wife sang the "Oh Promise Me" solo, which is her big song in Robin Hood. She has been identified with Ralph Dunbar's operatic activities since she was a wee little maid. Mr. Dunbar himself discovered her embryo voice when he stopped one day in the little Illinois town out of Chicago where she lived.

She is a beautiful girl and looks like Edna Goodrich, dark and vivacious and charming. Her voice is a big, rich contralto. Local friends are enjoying her during her Portland visit.

MOTORCYCLE LIVES SURVIVED.—Albert Bertram, ex-motorcycle dispatch rider with the 33d division American expedition force, collided with an automobile in Portland July 8, 1919, the day after he purchased a new motorcycle on discharge from service. In his haste to get home he was struck from Stephen Parker, autoist, the jury found for the defense in the court of Circuit Judge McCourt yesterday, after hearing evidence tending to show that the reckless speed demanded in the war zone was not entirely forgotten in his peace-time riding of the plain tiff. The accident occurred at Albina and Alberta streets.

NEWSPAPER ADMINISTRATOR NAMED.—James Donovan of this city was appointed administrator of the estate of the late Mrs. Amelia Newberry by Circuit Judge Tawell yesterday. Mr. Donovan is the executor of the chief asset of the estate is the right of action for damages for fatal injuries received by Mrs. Newberry last March when she was struck by a taxi cab driven by Charles Wheatley. The heirs, three daughters and a son, are all residents of California.

WEST POINT HEIGHT RULE CHANGED.—The minimum height requirements for admission to West Point have been lowered to 54 inches for all candidates, according to advices received in Portland from the commandant general of the 9th corps area at San Francisco. Instructions have been issued to reconsider all applications formerly disapproved because of under height.

GIRL SHOW IS COMING

ANATOL FRIEDLAND TO BE AT ORPHEUM.

Composer of 1000 Popular Melodies Surrounded by Galaxy of Beauties.

A girl show assembled by Anatol Friedland, composer of 1000 popular melodies, who himself is the headliner of the bill, is the attraction of the interest that attaches to the personality of the man who claims authorship of 1000 melodies, many of them which are being heard over the air.

But when Mr. Friedland comes to us surrounded by youth and beauty to interpret his compositions and himself sits at the piano to vitalize them the result is bound to be effective. When the Friedland girls change costumes, which is about every five minutes during a 30-minute act, the tired business man sits up and takes notice and the women in the audience gasp often at the dazzling raiment worn. The men gasp at least once, perhaps for a different reason.

Mr. Friedland is supported by Nell Mack, musical director-tenor; Sonia and Lucille, dance; Lucille, ballantine, specialty dancer; Vera Velmar, violinist, and by six girls, all of whom are described as beauties. Comedy prevails in the six other acts that comprise the Anatol Friedland show. To date this show is said to have had all records for the early Orpheum season.

1600 AT NIGHT SCHOOLS

Free Schools of City Are Being Well Attended by Students.

Over 1600 are now enrolled in the free Portland night schools, states A. M. Gray, in charge of this work. Special interest is being shown in the trade courses at the Benson Polytechnic and Girls' Polytechnic high schools and in the commercial classes at the High School of Commerce and Jefferson high school.

On Oct. 15, 1920, the foreign-born in Portland who do not read or write English have enrolled in the Americanization classes at the Ladd school and at Jefferson high school. Mr. Gray urges employers to let workers of these free night classes.

A staff of 183 experienced teachers is giving the courses every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings from 7:15 to 9:15.

PARK SITE PLAN MAY GO

AUTO PROJECT FOR ALAMEDA MAY BE ABANDONED.

Commissioner Pier Declares Residents Should Have Filed Petitions in His Office.

The plan of establishing an automobile park site in the Alameda district probably will be abandoned, according to city Commissioner Pier, in charge of the park bureau. Mr. Pier said yesterday that he had assured residents of the district that he would make no move toward the establishment of the park without first serving notice upon them.

Although I knew that petitions were in circulation, I had seen none and knew nothing about it until I read of it in the newspapers. The petitions should have been filed in my department, especially in view of the fact that I had conferred with residents of the district and was thinking of making no move until I had talked with them further.

However, the entire plan will be held in abeyance until I have time to look into the subject more thoroughly. Residents of the Alameda district are now launching a movement to urge Commissioner Pier to recommend the proposed automobile camp site for a playground and park. The residents of the district declare that the children of the district must travel more than one mile to the nearest playground and the growing population of the district should entitle them to a playground.

Parks to Be Improved. ABERDEEN, Wash., Oct. 8.—(Special.)—Improvement of two new park areas of the city, one purchased and the other donated, will be started soon as a result of the inclusion in the city budget of an item of $5000 for the upkeep of city parks for the ensuing year. It is expected that the book tract which is in the heart of one residence section, will be improved first, though some work undoubtedly will be done on the Stewart tract, which is outside the city limits, will be done.

The Family Pays

For an annual deposit of $151.00 a man aged 25 can obtain $10,000 guaranteed whole life insurance in The Travelers.

He would have to deposit the same amount annually at 4% compound interest for 32 years to accumulate $10,000. He would then be 57 years of age, 30% of all men die in that period.
