Brooklyn Beaten, 3 to 0, in Deciding Game.

DODGERS LOSE ONLY CHANGE

Coveleskie Manages to Pull Out of Tight Places.

PASSED BALL NETS RUN

First Score, Made in Fourth, Is Result of Grimes' Wild Throw in Double-Steal Play.

BY GRANTLAND RICE,

Baseball Editor New York Tribune.
CLEVELAND, Oct. 12.—(Special.)—The Cleveland Americans defeated the Brooklyn Nationals 3 to 2 today in the seventh and deciding game of the 1920 world's championship series. The victory was the third straight for the Indians.

The Dodgers got just one man to first base in the opening inning. With two out, Tommy Griffith batted one down to Doc Johnston. Coveleskie dashed over the bag and the throw eluded him. But there were two out when it happened, and Wheat lifted a pop fly to Wambegans.

In the second inning, Burleigh Grimes faced Elmer Smith, the native-born pitcher, who cracked the ball over the fence with bases filled last Sunday, but the malice delivery of Grimes seemed to be breaking as planned today. Smith batted one down to Kilduff, who made a pretty stop and a fast get to first.

With Smith out of the way, Larry Gardner poked one down to Jack Sheehan, the recruit third baseman of the Dodgers. Sheehan made a high wild throw, higher and stronger than pass beyond the hooks of big Ed Konechey. On ground rules, Gardner went to second on the error.

Grimes Is Made Impatient.

This seemed to make the tow-headed Grimes impatient, and he passed Doc Johnston. Two on bases and one out. It looked as if the initial drive of the Indians was about to start. Joe Sewell, the Alabama university alum, lined one just in side the right field foul line and the inmates started to cut loose just a little too soon. Tommy Griffith dove toward the line with Kellemaesque grace and swiftness, reaching the ball with one hand. He cracked the ball, duff choked the cheers by tossing out Steve O'Neill and Mr. Grimes was all right that far.

The tow-headed Mr. Grimes got the first hit of the game in the third, after Otto Miller struck out. It was a Texas leaguer in short left center and the pill dropped to the ground after Sewell, Speaker and Jamison became entangled. Olson was safe when Sewell fumbled a pop and became bewildered for the instant.

Jack Sheehan Gets Hit.

Jack Sheehan bounded a hit down toward second and the ball caromed from Ivy Olson's shins. That put Olson out and left Sheehan a technical single. Tommy Griffith ended all hope for an onslaught on the spitting pole by hoisting an easy one to Smith. Grimes almost put himself out of the game in the Indians' half of the third. He pitched a slider, a sailing liner, straight at him, and Grimes knocked it down with his bare hand, making the throw to first. Then Burleigh spent some time pulling his fingers back into joint. He came back to pitch the next. Wambegans laid down a bunt in the direction of Jack Sheehan and beat it to the bag.

Kilduff Nabs Fast Drive.

Speaker crashed one at little Peterkin Kilduff and it looked as if the drive would finish right out of the lot, but Peterkin blocked the ball and threw out the Indian manager. Again in the fourth inning, the finish of Coveleskie seemed to impend, but it did not get any further than the impending stage. Zack Wheat hit the screen on top of the right field fence. He rounded first and started to stretch it for a two-bagger. It looked that good, but Elmer Smith, who knew the territory, gauged the angle of the rebound to a whisker. He nailed the pill and caught Wheat at second with a perfect throw to Wambegans.

Infield Holds Conference.

The infield gathered around Grimes to debate the advisability of passing O'Neill. The decision was that Grimes should pitch to him. Suddenly Johnson shot the ball toward second. Miller whisked the ball a little off second, seemingly bewildered. It might have been inside baseball. It might have been that he was coaxing a throw but it did not look like it. It looked as though Johnston could be put out with a quick pass to Olson, who was on the bag. Grimes snapped the ball and the throw was wild. Gardner on third.

ATTACK WITH BOMB ON EDITOR IS FIZZLE

NORTH BEND MAN IS SAVED BY FUSE FAILING TO BURN.

Four Quarts of Dynamite Confined in Glass Jar Placed in Base- ment of Newspaper Office.

NORTH BEND, Or., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—Failure of the fuse attached to four quarts of dynamite confined in a gallon syrup glass jar to burn saved the plant of the Sunday Morning Bee from destruction and the life of its owner, Frank B. Cameron, whose home is in the building. The bomb was placed in the basement of the Bee office some time Sunday night. Editor Cameron found it next morning.

Examination of the bomb by police of this city disclosed that the fuse, which had been run through the tin top, had been slightly squeezed together and it is this that is credited for the failure of the fuse to continue burning.

The Sunday Morning Bee is an independent newspaper and has been the object of many enemy attacks because of its stand against conditions, local and general.

U. S. ATTITUDE RESENTED

Sales of U. S. Crops Declared to Be More Vital Than Disposal of Daily Output Articles.

THE OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU,

Washington, Oct. 12.—Farmers of this country will demand tomorrow that the federal government extend more liberal treatment to the agricultural organizations attended by representatives of the American Cotton Growers' association, acting for the National Board of Farm Organizations.

Mr. Wanamaker talked with Joseph Tamuly, secretary to the president, and with Secretary of the Treasury Houston, and arranged that the representatives of the agricultural interests of the country should meet with members of the cabinet and members of the federal reserve board at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Seasons Are Started.

Sessions began here today at the offices of the National Board of Farm Organizations at the extension of representatives of the southern cotton growers, the corn growing farmers of the middle west and the wheat farmers of the northwest. Several members of the senate and about 18 members of congress were present. While there is a variety of opinion relative to the methods that should be used in advertising what is believed to be a threatening disaster to the agricultural interests of the country, there was unanimity of opinion that the national administration, with special reference to the treasury department and the federal reserve board, has erred in restricting credits to farmers.

It was pointed out that manufacturers like Henry Ford, and others, turn out their products daily and can afford to buy on a falling market. The farmer, on the contrary, produces one crop a year. His product is marketed annually and is produced on

GEORGES CARPENTIER KNOCKS OUT LEVINSKY

EUROPE'S HEAVY CHAMPION BEATS U. S. LIGHT HEAVY.

World Honors in Lower Weight Class Won by Defeat of Ri- val in Fourth Round.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 12.—Georges Carpentier, European heavy-weight champion, knocked out Battling Levinsky, holder of the American light-heavyweight title, in the fourth round of a scheduled 12-round bout. Carpentier, who holds the light-heavyweight championship title of Europe, thus becomes the world's title holder in that division.

Carpentier and Levinsky shook hands at 10:25.

First round—Carpentier led left and right, landing lightly. Levinsky sent left and right to body at close quarters. Carpentier landed a hard blow on the forehead and blocked a right clearly. Carpentier sent right and left to body. Levinsky countered right to head. Carpentier crossed his right to face and hooked left to stomach. Both were very cool and appearing at the bell. Carpentier's round.

Fourth round—Both fiddled for 30 seconds. Then Carpentier drove Levinsky across the ring, landing lefts and rights at will, finally sending Levinsky down in a corner for the full count. Levinsky was not unconscious but he was tangled up in a corner with the ropes while he was counted out. Time of round, 1:01.

When the first of the preliminary bouts was called every seat in the ball park was occupied and a fringe of humanity lined the boundaries of the outfield.

"Babe" Asher, St. Louis bantam-weight, had a shade of merit over his opponent, "Cupie" Colender of Minneapolis, in the six-round curtain-raiser.

In the second bout Frankie Burns, the veteran Jersey City feather-weight, outfought and severely punished Patsy Johnson of Trenton in every one of the six rounds.

Marcel Thomas, the French welter-weight champion, and Ted "Kid" Lewis, who claims to hold the British title, were the principals in the six-round semi-final. The weights were announced as 147 for Lewis and Thomas 143½. Thomas used a clever left hook effectively but was

PRISONERS' CRUELTY CHARGES TO BE AIRED

PENDLETON JUDGE ORDERS GRAND JURY INVESTIGATION.

Five Men Tried for Murder of Til Taylor Testify They Were Tortured.

PENDLETON, Or., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—G. W. Phelps, circuit judge, who presided at the recent trials of the five men convicted for the murder of Sheriff Til Taylor, today ordered a grand jury investigation into charges made by the five men that third-degree methods had been employed by officers to get confessions from them.

Charges of brutal treatment were made at length by Elvile Kerby, alias Jim Owens, and John Laffeban, alias Jack Rathie, at their trial last week. The defense asserted the statements made by the five men before the grand jury were made under duress and during the trial all five men were called to the stand.

Each testified that cruel and inhuman treatment had been resorted to by officers following the arrest of the jailbreakers. Before passing sentence, Judge Phelps said that a grand jury investigation should be made into the charges of the men.

The convicted men testified that they had received Prussian-like treatment on the night that they were returned to the Umatilla county jail. They charged that they had not only been subjected to blows, but ammonia had been used to make them talk. Few names were given by the witnesses. Their tormentors were mostly strangers, they said.

All evidence and court records of the trial will be open for the grand jury during its investigation and a complete exposure of everything that went on within the jail from the time the jailbreakers were returned to their cells until their trial and sentencing is expected to be brought before the public.

DEMOCRATS BADLY SPLIT

Old-Fashioned States' Rights Voters Deeply Inoculated by Party Lead- ers With Anti-League Virus.

BY MARK SULLIVAN,

(Copyright by the New York Evening Post, Inc. Published by Arrangement.)
ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—Senator Harding is passing one day this week in Tennessee and a little later the republican vice-presidential candidate, Mr. Coolidge, will spend a day there.

Since there is no senator to be elected in Tennessee, there must be another reason for the two candidates giving a day of their limited time for campaigning to this state.

Republicans Hope for Tennessee.

The reason lies in the fact that the republican party in Tennessee has been organized as to maintain a semblance of order and some cohesion of economic life until a stable government capable of organizing the adherents of the majority of the Russian shall arise.

Perkins Situation Clears.

The situation in Persia, where for a time bolshevism threatened to disrupt the country, recently has cleared satisfactorily, according to reports received by the department. The league of bolshevism with the Turkish nationalists also is regarded as having been weakened with the rout of Mustafa Kemal and his followers.

The most significant feature of the wane of soviet influence in Europe, according to officials, was the rejection of the bolshevik overtures by Switzerland, which is situated so as to be able to form an accurate opinion of the character and future of the soviet regime. It is now also known that somewhat earlier Roumania rejected overtures of the soviet government. It was said.

Socialists May Divide.

The judgment of the socialists upon the soviet government was expected to be registered with particular emphasis at the meeting of the German socialists at Halle where the right wing of the German socialist party is expected to withdraw from the convention on the issue of adherence to the Moscow third international.

The Right Wing Includes the Great Majority of Socialists in Germany and May Be Considered, in the Opinion of Officials, as Representative and In- dicative of the Growing Attitude of Distrust of Socialists Generally in Europe Towards Bolshevism.

The report states that two more bodies had been recovered from the ruins. Mrs. Boone has not heard of her husband or child since before the fire, despite all efforts to locate them. They were thought to be in the Klamath Falls section about the time of the fire.

FATAL DUEL FOUGHT ON BUILDING ROOF

GOTHAM CROWD, TRANSFIXED, WATCHES STRUGGLE.

Patrolman for 20 Minutes Fights Negro Till Antagonist Shot, Rolls Off to Street.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Patrolman Martin Gill today struggled for 20 minutes on the roof of a five-story building with a San Domingo negro who was trying to arrest and then shot his antagonist in the street.

The negro, with a bullet in his stomach, slid off the roof, falling into a basket of wash left on the sidewalk. There he died a few minutes later.

Scores of pedestrians stood on Sixth avenue, transfixed, watching the struggle, while persons in several hotels nearby pressed their faces to window panes.

Finally a former sailor dashed upstairs to the roof and caught Gill by one leg just as the negro was about to roll him into the street.

The negro, identified as Rafael Collin, by this time had obtained Gill's pistol. He fired at the patrolman, wounding him. The sailor cracked Collin on the head with a piece of wood and, Gill regaining his weapon, fired twice as the negro made his last furious rush. Medical Examiner Norris later expressed the opinion that Collin was killed.

Gill, a veteran of the world-war, who recently rescued two women from drowning in Central Lake park, said he had attempted to arrest Collin on complaint of a woman who said he had insulted her.

State Department Looks For- ward to Era of Anarchy.

WRANGLER'S POWER GAINS

Anti-Bolshevik Forces in Southeast- ern Part of Europe Are Con- stantly Being Augmented.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Signs of the approaching collapse of bolshevism in Russia are seen by state department officials in the crumbling of soviet authority on the Polish front and the rapidly augmenting strength of anti-bolshevik forces in the southeastern part of Europe under general Wrangel.

Already consideration is being given at the department, it was said today, to what might be done to hasten the rule in Russia. The prospect of anarchy and chaos in the event of soviet dissolution is very real, according to officials, but the belief was expressed that the local committees have been so well organized as to maintain a semblance of order and some cohesion of economic life until a stable government capable of organizing the adherents of the majority of the Russian shall arise.
