

KANSAS LOOK ON ISSUE AS DECIDED

Republicans Sanguine in Sunflower State.

BOURBONS STILL HOPEFUL

Mark Sullivan Is Informed Upon Inquiry That "Two Apples" Is Running for Governor.

BY MARK SULLIVAN. (Copyright by the New York Evening Post, Inc. Published by Associated Press.) KANSAS CITY, Oct. 17.—(Special.)—I was talking with George Logan in the Kansas City Star office. He is Logan's business to know everything about politics in the neighboring states here and to be intimately acquainted with all the politicians who cut any figure. He earns his living at it and he does his job well. When there is anything doing in local politics George Logan knows it before it happens.

We had covered Missouri and got around to Kansas. I said: "What's the name of the man running for governor on the democratic ticket in Kansas?"

"Let's see," he said, "I can never remember that fellow's name. I ought to remember it, because I am going to try to associate it with the name of an apple."

He turned and called across the room to R. E. Stout, the editor of the Star. "Say, Stout," he said, "What's the name of that fellow running for governor on the democratic ticket in Kansas? It's the same name as an apple."

"Oh, yes," Stout replied, "I remember. It's the name of two apples. The first is Jonathan. I know Jonathan is his first name. Let's see, what could his second name be? It couldn't be Northern Spy nor Withered Sap. Could it be Smokehouse, but Davis."

"No," said Logan, "It isn't Jonathan Smokehouse. I would surely remember it if I heard it."

"Could it be Baldwin?" queried Stout. "No—I remember. It's Davis. Jonathan Davis is his name. I knew it was the name of two apples."

I took the episode in. It seemed to have considerable evidential value so far as any excitement about the Kansas gubernatorial race was concerned. But I wanted to cover the situation fully, and especially I wanted to know whether the republican candidate, J. B. Connelley, is likely to hold on to his seat. I asked Logan: "Who's running for United States senator on the democratic ticket in Kansas?"

"Shucks," he said, "I've forgotten his name, too; but doesn't matter anyhow. He got sick, or something, and went to California and isn't making any campaign."

The whole conversation seemed, under the circumstances, to be reasonably convincing as regards the present prosperity and degree of future hope among the democrats of Kansas this year.

Democrats Profoundly Hope. To be sure, the democrats don't by any means admit all the references which the penetrating reader will have gathered from this narrative. Kansas democrats are of the breed that doesn't give up hope. As a ribald republican said: "They're just as happy as if they were in their right minds."

Daniels is coming to the state to make speeches, and Mr. McAdoo also. Maybe that is all the republicans are extremely volatile state. It was Kansas which four years ago started that western great war between Wilson and the democrats.

Kansas in 1914 was for Hughes in September, but in 1916 it was for Wilson as a 49,000 majority. Normally Kansas is not merely a doubtful state, but a whimsical and impulsive state, given to sudden changes of direction in one direction or another, and keeping all the politicians in a state of jumpiness until the last vote is counted. But this year, as Logan remarked:

"If you're looking for doubtful states you'd better pass up Kansas and hop off east by south."

HUNGER STRIKER IS DEAD

MIX-UP WITH U. S. FEARED

Churchill Predicts Embroilment if Irish Factions War Freely.

DUNDEE, Scotland, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Danger of embroilment with the United States if the north and south of Ireland were left to fight out their differences was predicted by Winston Churchill, the secretary for war, in his speech tonight, in which he referred at length to the Irish situation.

Mr. Churchill, after asserting that such a course would lead to civil war "on such an ungodly scale that it would be disastrous and more terrible than could be imagined," declared that it would be necessary in England sympathy would develop in favor of Ulster. Influential persons in the United States, he said, sympathized with the south of Ireland and, while volunteers would leave for the north of Ireland, reinforcements would come from the United States for the south.

That, he added, would create such tension that Great Britain would be faced with the greatest danger it could be confronted with, namely, a quarrel with the United States.

"Two or three years more of what we are going through," he added, "appears better to me than that we should leave Ireland to herself and thus open the floodgates of organized war and later embroil us with the United States."

Mr. Churchill previously had declared the reign of terror in Ireland would be suppressed and it would then be time for a complete and permanent settlement of the Irish question.

POPE REFERS STRIKE CASE

Holy Office to Decide Whether Starving Men Are Suicides.

ROME, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—According to information obtained today, has referred the problem of the status of Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork and the other Irish hunger strikers to the congregation of the holy office.

Many urgent appeals to make some pronouncement on the cause of the Irish hunger striking prisoners have been received by the pope. These appeals are divided between opposite viewpoints and implore the pontiff to reach diametrically opposed decisions on the question whether the death of the prisoners would make them suicides. Pope Benedict has personally examined all the documents submitted to him and has discussed the situation with learned cardinals and other prominent figures in the church, but it is indicated, has found them holding widely divergent opinions. He therefore, it is stated, has laid the problem before the congregation of the holy office which settles questions of faith and morals and judges heresy.

This is the old congregation of the Roman church. It was created in 1542 and was originally called the holy inquisition. The present pontiff modified it and added to the congregation of the index which has to do with literature.

The pope is prefect of this congregation and Cardinal Merry Del Val secretary.

This list, according to Mr. Holt, is increasing daily. An analysis said that it included 15 republican officers of the league to enforce peace, clergymen representing all the principal denominations, and evening papers, Violet M. Leroy, New York; Theodore Marburg, Baltimore; W. H. Nichols, Bennington; Parsons, New York; Edwin E. Slosson, New York; Richard Welling, New York, and Alice White, Wellesley, Mass.

BRITAIN'S COAL PITS IDLE; CHAOS LOOMS

Employes Guarding Mines Only Men Not on Strike.

GLOOM GRIPS LONDONERS

Decision of Railway and Transport Workers to Join in Sympathetic Walkout Known Today.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—The British coal industry today was at a standstill. After months of negotiations between the miners and the government in which neither side was willing to concede the crucial points, the pits are closed and Great Britain seemingly is facing days of industrial chaos, unrequited even during the world war.

Except for the pump men and other employes who are to keep the mines free from water, the otherwise in good condition for a resumption of work when the strike is ended, all the mines were idle today.

Sunday, however, in the view of a large portion of the populace, was not a good day on which to form concrete judgment of the potentialities of the strike.

A feeling of pessimism prevails notwithstanding the fact that Premier Lloyd George has stated that everything will be done to keep the great coalfields of the country open. Tomorrow probably will show whether the railway men and the transport workers—the other two wings of labor's triple alliance—are to join the miners.

Outside of some unofficial conversations between the various labor leaders, there has been no noteworthy development in the miners' strike today. Everywhere there is talk of possibility of mediation, but up to late this evening no steps had been taken.

Food Ministry Active.

With the exception of the food ministry, which today presented a scene of activity, recalling the times of a railroad strike last year, all official departments were quiet.

Of effect of the strike will be, it is expected, to bring the industrial crisis into greater prominence than the Irish question when parliament reassembles Tuesday. There is much speculation whether, in the event of the railroad men or transport workers deserting the miners, the government would decide to appeal to the country by a general election to endorse the course taken by it.

HOSPITAL FACES OUSTER

Salem Mass Meeting Called to Forestall Litigation.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 17.—(Special.)—In efforts to forestall litigation resulting from the controversy between the Salem school board and the hospital society, in connection with the surrender by the latter organization of the Whitney school building, now used as a hospital, a mass meeting of citizens has been called here for Tuesday night.

The patrons of the school district apparently are opposed to the proposal of the hospital society to provide the Salem school board and the Whitney structure be released for school purposes.

2 RADICAL PARTIES FORMED IN GERMANY

Independent Socialists Are Split in Two Units.

ONE PLEDGED TO MOSCOW

Other Prepares to Organize Campaign Against Bolshevik Methods of Revolution.

HALLE, Germany, Oct. 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—Two distinct revolutionary parties, one pledged to the dictatorship of the proletariat, the other working toward "proletarian comradeship" in opposition to Moscow, have developed out of the wreck of the Independent Socialists.

The left majority under the leadership of Baumbach, Adolph Hoffman and Otto Bass, the young leader of Rhineland labor, conferred today on the question of executing an agreement with Moscow for a world revolution and directed the district leaders to prepare for a strike. The minority, under the joint presidency of George Ledebour and Herr Crispian, in a separate convention, laid plans to communicate with the revolutionary forces in all countries opposed to Moscow and prepare an organized campaign against bolshevist methods.

They adopted Herr Ledebour's resolution of sympathy with bolshevist aims, but expressing unalterable opposition to the policy of "destruction and terrorism."

The two conventions adjourned, but claiming fields of activity. The minority faction was defeated, 237, to 166, yesterday on the question of adherence to the Third Internationale.

In the majority session, which continued after the minority group left the hall, the resolutions of the Third Internationale were extended by M. Zinovief, the soviet emissary. He urged the conference to send a representative to the Communist Internationale organization.

Compromise Is Ignored. Before the adoption of the majority resolution, George Ledebour and Herr Rosenfeld, Crispian and Dittman offered a compromise resolution pledging the party to sympathy with soviet Russia, but declining to join an organization "seeking to promote a world revolution through terror and destruction." This proposal, however, received scant consideration.

A flare-up was caused by Herr Hoffman calling Herr Ledebour an "old man."

The party split leaves the Moscow adherents in control of 21 of the reichstag deputies.

The rights of whom Herr Crispian is leader, adopted a resolution directing their members in the reichstag to refuse to sign any law curtailing the right of asylum to political fugitives of all countries.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 17.—(Special.)—Mrs. C. P. Bishop and Mrs. George M. Brown, wife of Justice Brown of the Oregon supreme court, will go to Portland tomorrow to attend the republican banquet in honor of Montaville Flowers and Mrs. Raymond Robbins, who are touring the west in the interests of Harding and Coolidge for president and vice-president.

Stolen Car Wrecked at Kelso.

KELSO, Wash., Oct. 17.—(Special.)—An excursion with Washington license No. 92019, stolen at Tacoma, was wrecked against a telephone pole this morning at 1:30 o'clock. The pole was snapped off by the impact of the machine, which was badly wrecked. People homeward bound from the dance saw two men leap from the car and run down a dark street. Deputy Sheriff Fannon was on the scene almost immediately and set up a search. Two men were seen going up the railway track toward Ostrander and Mr. Fannon and Frank Bemick and Ed. Hoyer overtook them in an auto. Seeing they were badly wrecked, the men dashed into the woods. Early this morning they were arrested and from papers on them their names are James Hatton and Dale Atler. One of them admitted being implicated in the theft of the car, the police said.
